GERMANS DRAWING NEARER TO VERDUN BUT PAY RED PRICE

Crown Prince's Troops Occupy All French Positions North of Forges Brook and Turn Their Guns on Bourrus Wood.

GAINS MADE BY FRENCH EAST OF MEUSE RIVER

Germans Nearly Cleared From Caillette Wood. French Also Reoccupy Western Part of Village of Vaux—Many Battles in the Air.

London, April 3.—Having straightened out their line by occupying all French positions north of the Forges Brook between Haucourt and Bethincourt, northwest of Verdun, the Germans now are engaged in shelling the region of the Bourrus wood, some five miles northwest of the fortress.

East of the Meuse around Vaux there has been considerable fighting between the French and the Germans, in which the French were victorious in driving back the Teutons to the northern outskirts of the Caillette wood and in reoccupying the western part of the village of Vaux, which they had previously evacuated.

The occupation by the Germans of the Haucourt-Bethincourt front followed a vigorous attack, in which, however, the Germans met no foe, the French having evacuated their positions at night without the Germans observing the movement. From their new positions south of the Forges Brook and at Bethincourt the French poured a direct and flanking fire into the attacking Germans, who suffered heavy casualties.

Along the remainder of the French front artillery bombardments have predominated, although there have been aerial combats near Verdun, in which the Germans lost four aeroplanes, and aerial raids by the French on various German cantonments in Belgium.

ARTILLERY DUELS ON RUSSIAN FRONT.

Artillery duels between the Russians and Germans continue on the eastern front. An attack by the Germans against the Bridgehead at Ikskull was repulsed by the Russians. The usual bombardments are in progress on the Austro-Italian line.

Constantinople reports that the Turks, strongly reinforced, have checked the Russian offenses in the Caucasus region and that the Ottoman forces have made advances in the Tchoruk valley. Petrograd, however, asserts that the Russians have seized heavily fortified Turkish positions at an altitude of 10,000 feet on the upper Tchoruk, and farther south have captured a Turkish position and dispensed Turkish cavalry detachments.

In Arabia, according to Constantinople, the British near Sheikh Osman have been driven from fortified positions with heavy casualties and forced to retreat.

The sinking by a Turkish submarine in the Black sea on March 30 of a 12,000-ton Russian transport with troops aboard and of two other vessels on March 31, is reported by the Turkish war office. It was on March 30 that the Russian hospital ship Portugal was torpedoed and sunk in the Black sea.

BATTLE ENTERS ON NEW PHASE.

Paris, April 3.—A new phase of the battle of Verdun has begun and the belief prevails that the violence of the latest attacks foreshadows another attempt by the Germans to rush the fortress with vast forces. New batteries of large caliber have been moved up closer to the French front and the German infantry has been rested and reorganized.

Yesterday's fighting was not unfavorable to the French, it is authoritatively stated. The object of the Germans was to clear the approaches to Fort Douaumont and 15,000 men were thrown forward on the mile and a half line between Douaumont fort and the village of Vaux. The attacking force crossed a little ravine which hitherto had stopped them and entered the Caillette wood. Farther east they dislodged the French from the last ruined houses of the village of Vaux, but the French positions were so placed

NEGRO IS LYNCHED IN COURTHOUSE

Mob Seizes Oscar Martin, Accused of Assault on 13-Year-Old Girl, and Hangs Him From Balcony.

Isabel, Okla., April 3.—After listening to the evidence at the preliminary hearing here today of Oscar Martin, a negro charged with having attacked a 13-year-old girl, a mob of several hundred men overpowered court attaches and hanged the negro from a second story balcony of the courthouse.

Evidently at a previously arranged signal the mob sprang up from among the spectators at the conclusion of the evidence and while court officers were held prisoners, dragged the negro to the balcony from which he was thrown after one end of a rope had been placed around his neck and the other made secure to a post.

The mob dispersed within a few minutes and no further disorder is anticipated.

SEGREGATION LAW ADOPTED MONDAY

Ordinance Provides for the Separation of Races, Each Block Being Declared "White" or "Black."

The segregation ordinance by Councilman Renfroe, providing for the separation of negroes and white people on the city blocks, was adopted yesterday afternoon by council.

The ordinance was drawn to relieve the situation in the city which forces white people and negroes to occupy the same block and often live in houses next to each other.

The caption of the ordinance, a complete resume of which was given in The Constitution Sunday, is as follows: "An ordinance to prevent conflict and ill-feeling between the white and colored races in the city of Atlanta, and to preserve the public peace and promote the general welfare by making reasonable provisions requiring, as far as practicable, the use of separate blocks for residences, places of abode and places of assembly by white and colored people."

OUSTER SUIT IS WON BY MEMPHIS SHERIFF

Judge Holds Reichman Has Been Guilty of No Misconduct Warranting Removal.

Memphis, Tenn., April 3.—Chancellor F. H. Heiskell today ordered dismissed ouster proceedings instituted by the state against John A. Riechman, sheriff of Shelby county, ruling, in effect, that the initiative in the suppression of alleged violations of the prohibition and certain other laws which the sheriff was charged with having failed to enforce, rested with the grand jury or through the issuance of warrants.

In dealing with the alleged violators of such laws, Chancellor Heiskell asserted the sheriff could act only when armed with proper warrants of arrest and that it was not encumbent upon him to "become a detective" to ferret out such violators, rated as misdemeanors.

Charges of oppression in office, the chancellor held, had not been substantiated and no misconduct in office shown to warrant his removal.

Attorneys for the state announced that an appeal to the supreme court would be taken.

BIG SAN ANTONIO BANK FAILS TO OPEN DOORS

San Antonio, Texas, April 3.—The West Texas Bank and Trust company, a state supervised institution, failed to open its doors today, having been ordered closed yesterday by State Banking Commissioner John S. Patterson. Mismanagement of the bank's affairs was charged.

The city of San Antonio has a balance of about $350,000 in the bank.

Commissioner Patterson stated there probably will be no loss to any depositors in the savings department, and that they will obtain about 75 cents on the dollar.

Deposits protected by the state guaranty law exceed $1,000,000. It is said the bank may be reorganized.

ECONOMY

Buy-right Hints for the Housewife

Emulate Spring, and "Freshen Up."

You can not be negligent and be economical. A few dollars spent for paint gives renewed life to weatherboarding, frames, fences and outbuildings, prolongs service and adds value.

A small sum spent for lime, disinfectants and other cleansing and purifying agents, keeps germs at bay and protects the health of the household.

Now is the time to look about the premises and see where a few touches of "freshening up" will keep your property good appearing and thoroughly sanitary. Good appearances are qualifications of undisputed value in whatever particular they are maintained. Clean up and Paint up is the "slogan of Spring." The dealers in supplies for these purposes advertise in The Constitution, and quote the lowest prices.

NOTE—The CONSTITUTION guarantees a marked saving on every purchase made in Atlanta in stores that advertise their lowest prices in these pages.

NINE RAIL BOARDS INVITED TO MEET IN ATLANTA SOON

Chairman of Georgia Commission Urges Convention Here to Consider Intrastate Freight Rate Revision.

BOARDS TO CONSIDER UNIFORM TREATMENT

Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi, Kentucky and Both Carolinas to Be Represented.

C. M. Candler, chairman of the Georgia railroad commission, has issued a call to the railroad commissions of eight other southern states for a joint meeting at the capitol building in Atlanta at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, May 10.

This meeting is for the purpose of discussing the intrastate rate revision matter, which has already been filed with the Georgia commission by the railroads of this state and which, according to the statement of the railroads to the Georgia commission, will be filed in the other southern states, the proposed revision of intrastate rates to be based upon the recent order of the interstate commerce commission affecting interstate freight tariffs for the entire southeastern territory.

Uniformity of Treatment.

In addition to this the meeting will be open for the discussion of all other matters which come under the consideration of state railroad and corporation commissions, and which would likely be improved by a uniformity of treatment by all the commissions of the southeast.

Not only will matters of immediate importance be taken up at this meeting, but a permanent association of the commissions of the states of the southeast will be formed so that questions arising in the future may be handled with a view of uniform ruling insofar as uniform treatment would be beneficial to the public and the carriers.

This is the only meeting of this sort which has ever been held in the south, and is regarded as one of the most far-reaching and important of any kind of a gathering ever brought together in the southeast.

Eight Commissions Invited.

The call, issued Monday afternoon, is addressed to the following states:

Virginia, Robert R. Prentis, chairman of the state corporation commission.

North Carolina, E. R. Travis, chairman of the state corporation commission.

South Carolina, G. McD. Hampton, chairman of the state railroad commission.

Alabama, S. P. Kennedy, president of the state railroad commission.

Tennessee, B. A. Enloe, president of the state railroad commission.

Florida, R. Hudson Burr, chairman of the state railroad commission.

Mississippi, F. M. Shepard, chairman of the state railroad commission.

Kentucky, L. P. Finn, chairman of the state railroad commission.

Each of these commissions is invited to attend in a body, if possible, and to bring with them their secretaries and rate experts.

With the Georgia commission, which issues these invitations, this meeting will constitute a joint meeting of the commissions of nine southern states.

Six Approve Purposes.

Six of these states have already signified their approval of the purposes for which this conference is called, and have notified Chairman Candler of their intention to be represented. These states are as follows:

Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Kentucky and Georgia.

The commission of the state of Alabama will take the matter up at its next meeting.

The commissions of the states of Tennessee and Mississippi are yet to be heard from.

Besides the discussion of the various matters calling for immediate attention, it is expected that a permanent organization of the railroad and corporation commissions of the southeastern states will be perfected at this meeting, which association will form a basis for co-operation and uniformity in the future.

This meeting is expected to have a hearing of great importance upon the intrastate freight tariff question which is now pending in the state, and which is, or will be shortly, pending in other states of the southeast, which is by far the largest and most far-reaching rate petition which has ever come up for the consideration of any of the southern state commissions.

Scope of Meeting.

In a letter addressed to the commissions of the southeast, prior to the letter of Monday containing the call for the meeting, Chairman Candler set forth the intrastate freight rate situation, and also indicated the scope of the considerations of the proposed meeting in the following paragraph:

"We have thought that a conference of the commissioners, rate experts and secretaries of these states, at which desirable or possible uniformity in bills of lading, accounts and reports, storage and demurrage, classifications, standardizing tariffs, claims and their settlements, freight rules, estimated and minimum carload weights, excess baggage regulations and charges, penalties for failure to purchase passenger tickets, publications and filing of tariffs, methods of revising rates showing advances and decreases, window screens, drinking cups, etc, could be discussed and studied, might bring about results of really great benefit to commissioners, the public and the carriers."

Soldier of Fortune to Hang.

Denver, Colo., April 3.—James C. Bulger, soldier of fortune, convicted of killing Lloyd F. Nicodemus, a Denver hotel keeper, in May, 1914, must hang the week of May 21, according to a decision of the state supreme court today.

Innocence Proclaimed By Victor Innes In First Statement to Newspaper Man; Confident of Acquittal, He Declares

Prisoners in the Tower

MR. AND MRS. VICTOR INNES.

"I am Opposed to Trial of Criminal Cases in Papers. Bias and Prejudice, Above All, Should Be Withheld From the Courtroom," Says Prisoner on Arrival in Fulton County.

IN GUISE OF MEXICAN NOTED PRISONER COMES FOR TRIAL IN ATLANTA

Asserts He Did Not Know of Disappearance of Nelms Sisters Until He Read of It in the Papers — Wife's Thoughts More of Her Children Than of Approaching Trial.

By Britt Craig.

"My wife and I are innocent of any connection with the disappearance of the Nelms sisters. I am opposed to trial of criminal cases in the newspapers. Bias and prejudice, above all things, should be withheld from the courtroom. Let the courts take their due and unhampered course, and I am filled with the confidence born of innocence, the heart and soul of victory. I have all dependence in the courts."

These were the salient points in the first interview ever given a newspaper man by Victor Innes, suspect in the disappearance of Beatrice Nelms and her sister, Mrs. Elois Dennis. Innes and his wife, also a suspect, were brought to Atlanta last night and put in jail following a journey from San Antonio, Texas.

Incarcerated for two years, known as the Sphinx of prison, he broke his silence last night while en route from Anniston, Ala., on board Southern train No. 24. In the guise of a Mexican for fear of hostile hands, he sat in a day coach, while his wife, her seatmate a detective, sat near the front of the car, every precaution having been taken to prevent their recognition.

CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL.

He stoutly professed innocence, and disclaimed all knowledge of the strange disappearance of the Atlanta girls. He expressed confidence of acquittal if the courts were permitted to take their due course, and went at length to dwell upon the newspapers as influences that worked either harm or good in great criminal cases such as this one.

The couple was hurried from the Terminal station in the private automobile of Chief Mayo, to the Tower, where Innes was put in Leo M. Frank's old cell, known as "Second South," the cage occupied by Frank throughout his two years of imprisonment. Mrs. Innes was lodged in the woman's ward.

The route over which the suspects were brought was kept a secret at the wish of the man and woman and their counsel, all of whom were apprehensive of trouble in Georgia. This was the reason of the Mexican disguise. From Birmingham, Ala., the detectives carried them forward to a day coach, and this ruse not only thwarted curiosity seekers, but in Birmingham evaded a handful of newspaper men who passed them by, hardly suspecting they would be riding in a second-class coach.

PROUD OF CHILDREN.

Mrs. Innes was smiling and cheerful as we talked at dinner in the dining car between Anniston and Atlanta, and talked with long pent-up pride of her two young children, Vida Mae and Victor Innes, who are being kept by relatives in Portland, Ore.

She was in the bloom of health when taken into custody on their Oregon farm two years ago. But now she has thinned exceedingly, and lines cross her features. Her eyes have lost much of their luster. She is nervous, and blue veins pencil her hands.

Innes is in the neighborhood of 50 years, while Mrs. Innes is hardly younger. Yet, despite imprisonment and constant anxiety, he appears younger.

A small crowd of the curious gathered at the Terminal station, as it had leaked out late Monday afternoon at what hour the noted prisoners would arrive. But the police, anticipating a larger crowd, had been prepared.

The train was met by Chief Mayo, Assistant Chief E. L. Jett, Captain L. S. Dobbs and a cordon of detectives and plain clothes men. Marshall Nelms, brother of the Nelms sisters, was at the car steps when the suspects stepped off.

Innes manifested extreme nervousness as the train approached Atlanta. Not having a watch, he frequently in-

ATLANTA MECCA FOR COTTON MEN

Hundreds of Delegates and Their Wives Pour Into City for Opening of Big Convention.

All during yesterday afternoon and last night delegates and visitors arrived in Atlanta on every incoming train to be on hand for the opening at 10 a. m. today of the twentieth annual convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, which will be held in the convention hall of the Piedmont hotel.

The convention, which will bring to Atlanta approximately 700 visitors, will be called to order by President Scott Maxwell, Cordova, Ala., and the address of welcome by Mayor Jamieson Woodward will follow. Stuart W. Cramer, Charlotte, N. C., will reply on behalf of the visitors, and then will come one of the principal addresses of the convention—that of H. D. Harris, of New York.

Mr. Harris is vice president of the National City bank, reputed to be the wealthiest financial institution in America, and he is considered generally as one of the nation's foremost bankers. His subject will be "American Branch Banks in Foreign Countries, and Their Part in Developing Export Trade," a subject which is of unusual moment to American exporters, especially since the European war has practically isolated Central and South America from the markets of the countries across the Atlantic.

Mr. Harris arrived in Atlanta last night.

Dr. Herty to Speak.

This address will be followed by a general discussion by the delegates, and will be followed by an address on "The Dyestuff Situation," by Dr. Charles H. Herty, president of the American Chemical society. His home is at Chapel Hill, N. C.

The convention will be given time and an opportunity to discuss this address and the points to be brought out, and then will follow another address, which is looked forward to as one of the most momentous of the convention. That is the discussion of "The Work of the Federal Trade Commission," by Commissioner William J. Harris, Washington, D. C.

After this question shall have been discussed by the convention, adjournment will be taken for the day, so far as business goes. But that is not all.

A line of automobiles and a number of trolley cars will be waiting at the Peachtree entrance to the hotel to convey the delegates to the Druid Hills Golf club, where, at 3 p. m., an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue will be enjoyed.

The ladies of the convention—that is to say, the accompanying wives and other feminine relatives of the delegates—will have been conveyed already to the scene of the barbecue, and will participate in the general enjoyment of the afternoon.

Wednesday afternoon the convention, men and women, will be the guests of Asa Candler in a visit to the new Candler cotton warehouse, the largest in the United States, if not in the world. Automobiles and special trolley cars for this visit will leave the Piedmont at 2:30 p. m.

Delegates Arrive.

Among the prominent delegates to the convention who arrived Monday besides President Scott Maxwell and B. D. Harris, are George F. Hoffman, of the Hoffman-Corr Manufacturing company, Philadelphia, Pa.; Muchael G. Price, also of Philadelphia, one of the foremost leather manufacturers in the United States, and Arthur H. Lowe, former president of the association, Fitchburg, Mass. These men are personal friends of Thomas W. Jackson, and, while they are registered at the Ansley, were entertained last night by Mr. Jackson at his home. Mr. Storm, of Johnston, Storm & Co., New York, who is at the Piedmont, is still another visitor of note who came in yesterday.

Albert Greene Duncan, Boston, president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, also is in the city; and, as he is a delegate to the convention, as a member also of the American association he will be expected to take a prominent part in the debates and discussions.

President Maxwell, who is president also of the Indian Head mills, of Cordova, Ala., arrived in the city Monday afternoon at 2:10 o'clock.

Mr. Maxwell and party was met at the Terminal station by a delegation composed of E. Chappell, Frank G. North, L. L. Arnold and Allan F. Johnson, representing a reception committee of one hundred.

Upon the arrival of the Maxwell party, consisting of Mr. Maxwell, T. H. Rennie and wife, Miss Lois Rennie and McLean Tifton, of Pell City, Ala., were placed in waiting automobiles and taken to the Piedmont hotel, where the reception committee was in waiting.

One of the ceremonies at the Terminal station was the presentation to Mr. Maxwell of a seven-passenger Buick automobile, by the Buick company, for his personal use while in Atlanta. The automobiles of the party were profusely decorated with American flags.

The American Cotton Manufacturers' association's Atlanta convention will be the largest cotton manufacturers' convention ever held in this country, with the exception of that in Philadelphia in 1907.

CASE DISMISSED AGAINST MANGET

The Question of "What Is a Hoochee - Coochee Dance" Was Undecided, However, When Court Adjourned.

Whether the dance of Miss Sadie de Vols was a "hoochee coochee" or of some more innocent variety was undecided yesterday afternoon after an all-day hearing in the municipal court, Judge Rosser presiding, of the charge of perjury preferred against John A. Manget, broker. It was, however, settled to the satisfaction of Judge Rosser that there was no ground for the charge against Mr. Manget, so he dismissed the case. The prosecution grew out of evidence given by the defendant in a case against John McMillan in police court recently, the manager being fined $50 and cost for running an objectionable show at the Bijou theater.

A large number of witnesses were examined and the evidence was conflicting. Among the principal witnesses present were the entire cast of the Bijou company, John J. Eagan, Dan Manget, of Newnan, Ga., brother of the accused; Rev. C. O. Jones, of Trinity church, and Andy Nolan.

After reading into the record the transcript of the evidence offered in the former proceeding, Attorney Nally, who, with Thomas L. Scott, appeared for John McMillan, offered to present Miss de Vols and her dance. Judge Rosser ruled that the dance was unnecessary.

Testimony Is Spicy.

The testimony was very spicy at times, many of the witnesses testifying that the dance was of an immoral nature, and that the entire bill was not above reproach.

John McMillan testified that the bill was absolutely clean and pure. There was nothing put on the stage that could arouse the slightest objection to the purest mind in the audience, he said. Bessie Parker, a member of the company, with eleven years' experience on the stage, was unable to see anything objectionable in the bill or in the dance. According to Miss Parker, the dance was of an entirely unobjectionable nature. To the contrary its tendency was to uplift and elevate. Sadie de Vols described the dance in detail and assured the court that it was of a highly artistic standard. She disclaimed any idea of putting on a dance to which exception could be taken in the slightest degree.

Dr. Horace Grant, who stated he was present at one of the performances, failed to find anything suggestive in Miss de Vols' dance. He had seen "hoochee-coochee" dances performed in many places and said that the dance under criticism had no resemblance to the snaky oriental dance so popular since the world's fair at Chicago. It did not even resemble the salome or the abdominal dances of more recent years, he said.

Manget Defends Brother.

Dan Manget, of Newnan, Ga., took the stand in behalf of his brother. According to his testimony, the entire performance was of a very low and degrading nature. So vulgar was it, in fact, said the witness, that he attempted to leave, but was restrained by his brother, who desired him to see the play in its entirety.

The witness and Attorney Nally had many passages at arms and the witness was finally allowed to stand aside. The hearing of the witnesses was concluded at 5 o'clock, at which time argument of counsel was made. Judge Rosser dismissed the case against Mr. Manget and the case closed.

At one time during the hearing the crowd became so large that the court room was ordered cleared of all auditors except those directly interested in the prosecution. The afternoon session was conducted behind closed doors.

BOTH LEGS SOUND, VILLA OUTSPRINTS AMERICAN TROOPS

Reliable Information Indicates Bandit Is 60 Miles Ahead of Pursuers, and Is Making for Parral.

MEXICAN PEONS FOOLED AMERICAN OFFICERS

At Villa's Request, the Natives Gave Misleading Information to Pursuers. More Troops Will Likely Be Needed for Hunt.

El Paso, April 3.—Francisco Villa, unwounded and accompanied by only eight men, was at Satevo, fifty miles south of Chihuahua City, two days ago, according to information received here today from Mexican sources which have proved reliable in the past.

If this information is correct, it bears out previous reports that the bandit chief headed toward Parral and is leading his American pursuers by at least sixty miles. The nearest point to Satevo which the American troops are known to have reached, is San Antonio, sixty miles to the northwest.

The route said to have been taken by Villa is one with which he is thoroughly familiar and which, indeed, is known among the peons as "Pancho's road." From Guerrero it leads across the continental divide through the Bachiniba pass into a broad valley which runs east to San Andres, Villa's old headquarters, thence south to Santa Ysabel, the scene of Villa's massacre of eighteen American mining men, and then southeast through Satevo to Parral.

No Fighting for Villa.

The man who brought the story of Villa's arrival at Satevo here gave a circumstantial account of the bandit's maneuvers and plan of campaign. While his story is impossible of verification his own credibility is vouched for by reputable American business men here who have employed him for several years.

"Villa," he said, "has never taken part in any fighting with either American or Carranza troops. He left the main body of his troops in Guerrero district with orders to oppose as far as they could the American advance. At the same time the peons were instructed to give information freely to American officers, always provided that the information was false. The story of Villa being wounded was carefully concocted for the express purpose of misleading General Pershing and Colonel Dodd into the belief that the bandit was in hiding in the mountains and thereby inducing them to split their forces into small searching parties who would waste their time in the wild Sierras while Villa was making his way safely southward."

American Officers Fooled.

This part of the story is given color by the admission of General Pershing today that his intelligence department has been given much misleading information and that it was becoming more difficult to secure reliable guides.

Continuing his story the man said:

"The American officers were fooled at first, but they have a fair knowledge of the real situation now and the advance column is driving southeast with all the speed they can command. Their only chance of catching up with Villa is that they have a good road and should not be handicapped by the big problem of forage and water. The trail from San Antonio to Satevo leads through a broad valley where there is generally plenty of water at this time of year and which is fairly fertile and well cultivated. Of course, the peon farmers will try to conceal their grain, but American gold and silver will be a temptation many of them will be unable to resist.

"If they can catch up with Villa before he gets into the Torreon district, they ought to be able to kill

VILLA HAS ESCAPED FROM U. S. TROOPS.

San Antonio, Texas, April 3.—Unofficial information received at Fort Sam Houston today tended to confirm reports that Francisco Villa had escaped from the region in which the cavalry forces of the American punitive expedition are operating. Official advices failed to either verify or deny the reports.

Dispatches from General Pershing contained no reference to Villa's whereabouts and the encounter reported today in press dispatches from the front, was not mentioned in his reports to General Fuston. General Pershing stated, however, that at least a part of the dispersed Villa force that was driven from Guerrero March 29, still was moving in the district northeast of that town and six columns of cavalry were riding over the hills in that section while scouts were endeavoring to pick up the trail of the scattered band and their fugitive chief.

One Villa Force Located.

One force of Villa's men, estimated at 100, commanded by Colonel Beltrain, was located near Bachineva, about 25 miles northeast of Guerrero and information gathered indicated that the remainder of the four or five hundred men still were in that region.

The report from the expeditionary commander told of difficulties experienced as a result of the scarcity of reliable guides and misinformation given the intelligence officers in villages through which Villa and his followers had passed.

General Pershing also reported that Colonel Cano, Carranza's commander, had engaged a Villa force on the same day that the American troops were driving the bandits from Guerrero, although rumors that Cano had revolved and joined forces with Villa.

Which way Villa has gone is now largely a question for General Pershing's scouts to answer. It was pointed out at General Funston's headquarters that once the trail was picked up the troops would resume the chase further into the interior, although it was realized that this second phase of the punitive expedition's work will be far more difficult than was the first.

More Troops May Be Needed.

It is not improbable, it was said, that more troops than those already in Mexico will be required. The topography of the country south of Guerrero is such that succesful pursuit can be conducted only by wide deploying of forces and the utilization of a large force of the infantry. It was pointed out that the further the troops penetrated into Mexico the greater will be the necessity for strengthening the lines of communication. From the border to the extreme southern positions the advanced posts already have traveled three hundred miles, when there is taken into account the twistings of the route they have traveled.

The Northwestern railroad is not yet being used, due partly, it was unofficially reported, to a failure of General Gavira and General Bell to reach an agreement. The timely placing in service of more motor trucks alleviated temporarily the supply situation, however, and General Pershing reported today that motor trucks now are delivering supplies to a point south of Namiquipa, almost two hundred miles from the border.

General Pershing also reports that he had found grain of an inferior grade for the horses and mules, but grass is scarce and the need for hay is pressing. The aeroplanes are being used for communication between Colonia Dublan and the front and that means soon will be supplemented by a wagon wireless set that has been sent forward to one of the advanced bases.

CARRANZA TROOPS AIDING AMERICANS.

Washington, April 3.—Evidence of co-operation by Carranza troops with the American forces hunting Villa, apparently disposing finally of rumors that Colonel Cano and his command had deserted to Villa, came to the war department late today from General Pershing. He reported an engagement on March 29, presumably near Guerrero, between Cano's troops and one of the bands into which Colonel Dodd scattered the main Villa force.

As this clash, in which Manuel Boco, leader of the outlaws, is said to have been killed, occurred on the same day that Colonel Dodd struck the Villa army, officials were convinced that the Carranza columns were actively cooperating with the Americans.

"This seems to dispose finally of the rumors of disloyalty on the part of Colonel Cano," Secretary Baker said in a formal statement. Previous reports had caused officials to doubt Cano's loyalty, and General Pershing's dispatch was received with great satisfaction.

The fact that three days elapsed after the 48-hour old report of Colonel Dodd's engagement, before news came of the Cano fight renewed hopes that important subsequent events have not yet been reported to headquarters.

The state department officially denied during the day a report that inquiry had been made of General Carranza regarding troop movements in northern Mexico. Neither the state nor the navy department had disquieting information of any kind.

The American consul at Monterey advised the state department that excitement there following the entrance of American troops into Mexico had completely subsided. Friendly relations between the United States and de facto governments, the dispatch said, were well understood by officials and the native population in that vicinity, and Americans were receiving considerate treatment.

Navy department dispatches reported all quiet on both east and west Mexican coasts.

Rumors that the Washington government would object to sales of munitions by foreign countries to the de facto authorities were formally denied. The state department pointed out that the United States was selling such supplies to Carranza, and would not be in a position to object to similar action by another nation.

There were no developments here toward use of the Mexican railways for shipment of supplies to General Pershing. It was expected that cars with such supplies tendered for transportation by General Funston would be ready tomorrow. Secretary Lansing said no response had been made to the Carranza government regarding amendments to the proposed proctocol suggested by General Carranza.

AMERICAN AIR SCOUTS OVER VILLA TERRITORY.

Camp of Gen. J. J. Pershing, at the Front, April 2.—(By Aeroplane to Colonia Dublan, and by Radio to Columbus, N. M., April 3.)—American cavalrymen encountered a fleeing force by Villa men near ——— early today and sounds of firing have been heard from that direction, but no report has been made to headquarters as to the results.

The mountains of Guerrero are being combed thoroughly for Villa by the American forces, but nothing has been learned as to his whereabouts other than that captured bandits said he was being carried farther into the mountains in his jolting coach.

General Pershing announced today that infantry is to be used for mountain-climbing, co-operating with the cavalrymen who have borne the brunt of the five days' pursuit of Villa. The infantrymen, their officers say, are in excellent physical trim.

The troops were closely behind Villa yesterday entering the village of (blank) shortly after he had fled from it. It was suspected that he might be hidden in one of its huts and every precaution was taken to effect the capture. Two squadrons of cavalry entered the village from opposite sides simultaneously.

There have been a number of minor skirmishes in the vicinity of the village, two scouts reporting today that they encountered two Villa men on its outskirts yesterday. They fought for five minutes without casualties.

American air scouts are now flying over the entire Villa territory and are carrying dispatches from the front to the field base and field headquarters. Motor trucks also have been able to penetrate the mountain waste almost as far as the territory occupied by the cavalry under Colonel Dodd.

CONTRABAND SENT THROUGH MAILS, ALLIES DECLARE

Great Britain and France Reply to Protest of United States Against Seizure and and Censoring of Correspondence.

RIGHT TO SEARCH MAILS ASSERTED BY THE ALLIES

No Genuine Letter Mail Interfered With, But Parcel Post Packages Will Be Seized—Lot of Contraband Found in Packages.

Washington, April 3.—The governments of the entente allies, through Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, today presented to Secretary Lansing a joint reply to the protest made by the United States against the seizure, detention and censoring of neutral mails. It declared that no legitimate letter mail had been confiscated nor any treaty right violated, but emphatically asserted the allies' intention to continue searching parcel post packages for contraband "concealed under postal folders."

Regarding "True Correspondence."

In regard to "true correspondence," the note says the allied governments "will continue for the present to refrain from seizing and confiscating at sea these correspondences, letters and dispatches, and that they will insure the most rapid transition of them possible as soon as the genuineness of their character is known."

The vigorous protest of the United States against the treatment of neutral mails was based largely on evidence in the possession of the state department that while mails had not always been searched at sea, neutral ships, upon being taken into British ports for inspection, had their mails removed, detained and otherwise interfered with. The reply does not mention this phase of the controversy. The protest was in the form of a memorandum of instructions to Ambassador Page at London. It stated specifically that the American government was inclined to consider that parcel post shipments were subject to the same treatment accorded goods sent by freight or express.

In regard to parcel post shipments the communication says "merchandise shipped under the shape of parcel post must not and shall not be treated differently from the merchandise shipped in any other way."

Right to Search General Mail.

The allied governments assert their right to search general mail in the following language:

"That the inviolability of postal correspondence, stipulated by convention No. 11 of The Hague treaty, 1907, carries by no means any prejudices to the right of the allied governments to visit, and if need be, to stop and seize the goods which are falsely deposited in the covers, envelopes or letters contained in the mail sacks."

The text of the allies' note as made public by the state department tonight was in French. It is about two thousand words long and opens with the statement that the "treatment of postal correspondence carried on the sea has been, during the present war, the cause of various uncertainties and that the allied governments think it wise to dispel criticisms of their course.

"At the time of the second conference at The Hague in 1907," the communication says, "the German imperial government pointed out that since the telegraph offered to the belligerents means of communication more rapid and safe than the post, there was no longer any interest in considering, as formerly, postal correspondences as able to constitute articles of contraband by analogy, and in impeding their shipment by seizure and confiscation.

"This proposition, in appearance so pacific, having inspired confidence in the other powers, they adopted this viewpoint. The full article of convention No. 11 of The Hague, 1907, stipulates, as is known, that henceforth postal correspondence is 'inviolable' on the sea.

Concerning the Parcel Post.

"A first observation must be made concerning the parcel post.

"The sending of any merchandise by 'parcel post' is a way of shipping and transportation similar to shipping and transportation by means of shipping bills or bills of lading, with the difference that this transportation is undertaken by postal service. . . .

"Such 'parcels' can under no consideration be considered as 'letters,' 'correspondences' or 'dispatches,' and it is clear that nothing can save them from the exercise of the rights of police, control, visit and eventual seizure which belong to the belligerents on the high seas in regard to all cargoes. . . .

"Among other numerous examples it will be sufficient to quote: 1,302 parcel post packages containing, together, 437,510 kilograms of rubber for Hamburg (steamers Tijuca, Bahia, Jaguaribe, Maranhao, Acre, Linda, Para and Brazil) or, again, sixty-nine parcels containing 400 revolvers for Germany via Amsterdam (steamer Gelria).

"Concerning the shipping of letters, folders, envelopes or others, entrusted to the postal service and commonly posted in the postal bags of the postal administrations of the countries from which the shipping is made, the allied governments call the attention of the neutral governments to the following considerations:

Mail Boats Destroyed by Teutons.

"From December 31, 1914, to December 31, 1915, . . . the German or Austrian-Hungarian naval authorities have destroyed without warning or previous inspection thirteen mail boats with the postal bags on board coming from or going to neutral or allied countries without caring for the inviolability of the dispatches and correspondence which they contained any more than for the inoffensive persons on board these steamers.

"It is not within the knowledge of the allied governments that any protestation concerning postal correspondence has ever been addressed to the imperial governments.

"On the dates of August 11, 17 and 18, 1915, the neutral postal pack boats Iris (Norwegian), Haakon VII. (Norwegian), Germania (Swedish) had their mail sacks of all places of origin and destination seized on board by the German naval authorities; the letters and correspondence were censored by the German military authorities, as is shown by the photograph herewith annexed as an example.

"The allied governments are of the opiuion that later on the imperial German government, while announcing its intention no longer to practice these seizures, has declared that these seizures were and would be perfectly justified in its eyes. According to the imperial German government, convention No. 11 of The Hague treaty, 1907, not having been ratified by all the present belligerent powers, would be without application.

"Finally, more recently, the control over the territory of the allies of various postal sacks, loaded upon pack boats which made stops at certain ports of the said territory, has revealed the presence in the wrappers, envelopes and postal shipments of articles of contraband particularly sought by the enemy. . . .

"The following letter from the German house, G. Vogtman & Co., dated at Hamburg, Geokengiesserwall, No. 16, December 15, 1915, is particularly instructive.

"(Translation.)

"'From a certain date we have been receiving regularly from Para shipments of raw rubber, and you may pay attention to this matter. The shipments take place like "samples without value" ordered by each post, about 200 packages, each containing about 120 grams net weight of rubber. The trouble of making the packages and the high price of mailing are amply covered by the high price received here for the merchandise.' . . .

From Legal Viewpoint.

"From the legal viewpoint the right of the belligerents to exercise on the high seas their police and their control upon the ships and upon everything on board has never been to the knowledge of the allied governments the object of an exception, not any more concerning postal bags than concerning any other cargo; furthermore, up to 1907, letters and dispatches were themselves subjected to seizure and confiscation.

"By convention No. 11 of The Hague and for motives above mentioned the signing powers have given up such seizure of dispatches and declared postal correspondence inviolable. . . .

"Under these conditions the allied governments make it known:

"1. That, concerning their right to visit and eventually to arrest and seize, the merchandize shipped under the shape of parcel post must not and shall not be treated differently from the merchandise shipped any other way.

"2. That the inviolability of postal correspondence, stipulated by convention No. 11 of The Hague treaty, 1907, carries by no means any prejudice to the right of the allied governments to visit and if need be, to stop and seize the goods which are falsely deposited in the covers, envelopes or letters contained in the mail sacks.

"3. That, faithful to their engagements and respectfully of true 'correspondence,' the allied governments will continue for the present to refrain from seizing and confiscating at sea these correspondences, letters or dispatches and that they will insure the most rapid transition of them possible, as soon as the genuineness of their character is known."

Attached to the note are two appendices. One, a United States postoffice department report telling of the removal of 144 sacks of mail from the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Freidrich when she was interned at Newport News. The mail had been captured from the French steamer Floride, and the Eitel's captain was quoted as saying he had taken only letter mail and allowed parcel post packages aboard the Floride to go down with the ship, regarding it as merchandise. The other recited the destruction of mail by enemies of the allies during the year, ending December 31, 1915.

ANTI-CATHOLIC MEETING RESULTS IN AN OUTBREAK

Haverhill, Mass., April 3.—The local company of the state militia was called upon tonight to assist the police in controlling a crowd of 5,000 persons concerned in a riotous demonstration near the city hall, where an attempt was being made to hold a meeting for the discussion of state aid for sectarian schools. The meeting was regarded as anti-Catholic.

Thomas E. Leyden, of Somerville, who was announced as a former Roman Catholic priest, had been advertised as the speaker. When the hour for the meeting arrived the crowd in front of the hall was so dense that the police decided that the meeting could not be held and the doors were closed. For several hours the crowd, increased in size by curious citizens, marched up and down the street shouting and committing various acts of minor mischief. Many windows in the city hall were broken by missiles.

Eleven false alarms of fire were rung in by a preconcerted plan, from all parts of the city.

Finding the police powerless, the mayor decided, about 11 o'clock, to seek the aid of the militia. The sounding of the militiamen signal on the fire alarm had the effect of bringing to the scene more thousands.

In the city hall meanwhile many people who had arrived early for the meeting found themselves locked in with the building besieged by the crowd. Friends on the outside who tried to communicate with those inside the building found the telephone wires out of order.

One section of the crowd went to the residence of Dr. Herbert E. Wales and attacked the house.

MONTGOMERY OBJECTS TO RATES ON COTTON

Montgomery, Ala., April 3.—Examiner Attorney Harris Fleming, for the interstate commerce commission, today began inquiry into the charges of the Montgomery Cotton exchange alleging discrimination and unfair treatment by the Louisville and Nashville railroad on rates on cotton shipped here for compression while en route to other destinations, charges of a legal cotton firm of excessive rates to seaboard points, and allegations of a candy manufacturer of excessive rates to Beaumont, Texas. The hearing will continue through tomorrow and will be brought to a close in Washington the latter part of the month.

GERMANS PLANNED TO INVADE CANADA

Von der Goltz Correspondence Involves High German Official — President Wilson in Possession of All Facts.

Washington, April 3.—Photographic copies of letters said to have been written by Captain von Papen, withdrawn German military attache, to persons in this country asking them to aid Herst von der Goltz, the alleged German spy, brought to New York a week ago by Scotland Yard detectives, are in the possession of the United States government.

These letters, it is said, were written at the time time Von der Goltz was shaping his plans to blow up the Welland canal. One was addressed to a German government official in this country and met with such response that Von der Goltz was able to leave the United States with an American passport issued under the alias of Bridgman Taylor.

Name of Official Guarded.

The name of the official, who still is at his post in this country, has been carefully guarded. In the letter to him Von Papen is understood to have explained that the bearer, Von der Goltz, was a responsible and trustworthy person in the confidence of the writer, and as such was commended to the good offices of the recipient. Officials here expressed the belief tonight that this letter established beyond question the fact that Von der Goltz's activities in trying to bring about an invasion of Canada and in planning the destruction of the Welland canal were indorsed by Von Papen, as Von der Goltz claims.

Photographic copies of this letter and others from Von Papen of a nature not disclosed have been submited to the state department. With them went a memorandum detailing the essentials of Von der Goltz's statement recently to department of justice officials. This has been added to the long confidential memorandum given to the state department before the withdrawal of Von Papen.

Only Known to Four Persons.

The contents of the confidential memorandum have never been disclosed and are known to only three persons in the state department, to President Wilson and to one or two officials in the department of justice. So complete, however, is it deemed to be, that the Von der Goltz disclosures add little to its importance. While some of the occurrences outlined in the confidential memorandum have become public, it is known that sensational portions of its contents have never been printed.

Captain von Papen's alleged letters commending Von der Goltz are contained in the batch of correspondence taken from Von der Goltz in England and will soon be made public by the British foreign office in London. Portions of the correspondence, including the Von Papen letters, were photographed and brought to the United States by the Scotland Yard detectives. It was the original intention of the British foreign office, it was said tonight, to publish the correspondence some time ago, but its publication was deferred to afford officials here a chance to act on its disclosures.

There is nothing, officials said, in the letters or in Von der Goltz's statement in New York to indicate upon whose instructions, if any, Von Papen was acting when he indorsed Von der Goltz's plans and supplied him with money to carry them out.

10 PERSONS KILLED IN ZEPPELIN RAID

London, April 3.—Ten persons were killed and 11 injured in Scotland in Sunday night's Zeppelin raid, it was officially announced this afternoon. There were no casualties in England.

The statement says:

"It appears that altogether six Zeppelins took part in the raids of last night. Three raided southeast counties of Scotland, one the northwest coast of England and the remaining two eastern counties of England.

"The vessels which raided Scotland crossed the coast at 9 p. m., 9:45 p. m. and 10:15 p. m., respectively, and cruised over southeastern counties of Scotland until about 1:10 a. m. Their course gave no indication of any special locality for attack, but 36 explosive and 17 incendiary bombs were dropped on various places, damaging some hotels and dwelling houses. Following are the casualties which are reported at present in Scotland:

"Killed, seven men, two women, three children. Total, 10.

"Injured, five men, two women and four children. Total, 11.

"One vessel visited the northeast coast and dropped 22 explosive and 15 incendiary bombs. The two remaining ships crossed the English coast about 10:15 p. m., and cruised over eastern counties until about 1 a. m. They were both engaged at various times by anti-aircraft artillery and appear to have been prevented by this means from selecting any definite locality as their objective.

"Thirty-three explosive and sixty-five incendiary bombs were dropped by these two vessels. As far as has been ascertained, no casualties were caused in England."

BITTER FACTION FIGHTS MARK CHICAGO ELECTION

Chicago, April 3.—With bitter factional fights on both republican and democratic sides in nearly all of the thirty-five wards in the city, the 1916 aldermanic campaign closed tonight. The present city council is composed of thirty-five republicans, twenty-nine democrats, two progressives, two socialists and two independents.

Mayor Thompson is fighting for control of the council. He is opposed in nearly every ward by friends of former Governor Dineen and others unfriendly to the city administration.

In the closing hours of the campaign the suicide of Dr. Theodore Sachs, who recently resigned as head of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium, after declaring he had been hounded to death by politicians, became an important issue. Mayor Thompson declared his political enemies were using Dr. Sach's death as campaign material.

On the democratic side the fight is between supporters of Roger C. Sullivan and former Mayor Harrison.

U. S. MARSHAL, COL. C. C. GEWIN, GIVES HIS INDORSEMENT

Prominent Official and Leading Citizen Comes Out With Strong Statement—Says Tanlac Relieved Niece and Son-in-Law.

Colonel C. C. Gewin, United States marshal for the Southern District of Alabama, with headquarters at Mobile, one of the best known men in the "Cane Brake" section of Alabama and a large property holder there, enthusiastically recommends Tanlac.

Colonel Gewin needs no introduction to the people of South Alabama as the high position he holds is one of great honor and large responsibility. He is not only a prominent citizen and property holder, but is known throughout the state as a man of few words and strong convictions—he calls a spade a spade and says what he thinks.

When seen at his offices in the Custom House Friday afternoon, Colonel Gewin stated in the presence of three persons that his neice, Mrs. W. M. Wedgworth, of Wedgworth, Alabama, who had been ill for a long time suffering from stomach disorders and other ailments, was induced by a relative in Birmingham to try Tanlac. This was but a short time ago, and Colonel Gewin stated that he knows it to be a fact that she is now perfectly sound and well, feeling no inconvenience whatever. He also further stated that H. M. Hardenburg, his son-in-law, who lives at Greensboro, Alabama, and who recently paid a Birmingham specialist fifty dollars for treatment without benefit, said that after taking Tanlac three days he could eat almost anything without suffering any inconvenience or pain.

Commenting on the above statement, Mr. G. F. Willis, Southern distributor of Tanlac, said:

"The list is a long one, but I distinctly recall the names of a number of other prominent men of the South who have indorsed Tanlac for the specific benefit they have derived from its use. Among the number are: Frank V. Evans, former mayor of Birmingham and ex-state examiner of public accounts of Alabama; C. W. Mangum, sheriff of Fulton county, Atlanta, Ga. Rev. A. H. Sykes, pastor of Watkins Park Presbyterian church, Nashville, Tenn.; Rev. W. T. Roby, pastor of Lonsdale Methodist church, Knoxville, Tenn.; Dr. J. T. Edwards, prominent physician, Fayetteville, Ga.; Chief of Police Samuel Riley, Macon, Ga.; Hon. McKenzie Moss, judge of the Eighth Kentucky judicial district; Hon. Moses R. Glenn, Kentucky state superintendent of printing; Colonel John B. Gaines, editor and publisher of the Bowling Green Daily News; George W. Hinton, former secretary of the Warren County Equity League; President Pegg, of the Newport Business college, and others.

"Among those prominent in commercial life, who have more recently indorsed Tanlac, and many of whom are well known in this section, are C. C. Cooper, president of the Georgia Cotton Oil company, Lawrenceville, Ga.; H. W. Hill, bank president, of South Pittsburg, Tenn.; J. F. Carroll, cotton mill superintendent, of Chattahoochee, Ga.; C. M. Conover, manager of the office furniture department of Foote & Davies, Atlanta, Ga., and S. S. Shepard, ex-city councilman, Atlanta, Ga."

Tanlac is sold in Atlanta exclusively by the Jacobs' Pharmacy.—(adv.)

DANIELS FIGURES IN WARM CLASHES

Navy Secretary Finishes Statement to House Committee—Tells of Trouble With Fiske—Naval Hearings Close.

Washington, April 3.—The house naval committee brought to an end today its prolonged hearings on the 1917 naval appropriation bill. Secretary Daniels closed a three-day statement before the committee with a final appeal in support of the administration's five-year building program. A sub-committee will begin immediately framing the bill.

It became known tonight that a determined effort would be made to provide for six capital ships, two dreadnaughts and four battle cruisers as a compromise between the recommendations of the secretary and of the navy general board.

Mr. Daniels parried all efforts today to get from him a statement as to what relative place among naval powers the United States should occupy. He said the five-year program he had mapped out would not put the country in second place, in his judgment, and that the present congress could not be asked to make up for the deficiencies of twenty years past. At the close of the European war, he said, be believed a great opportunity would come for international limitation of armament and with a strong building program adopted the United States would be in a better position to urge that movement successfully than if its fleet was weak.

No Navy Secrets Revealed.

Representative Butler, of Pennsylvania, republican, assailed the secretary's recommendations for a government projectile factory. He asserted that the specifications for navy armor-piercing shells were so high that they could not be met by manufacturers and also declared he had reason to believe that the specifications for navy 14-inch guns and other material had been revealed during Mr. Daniel's administration to the Russian and German governments. He suggested that Rear Admiral Strauss, chief of ordnance, be asked to produce a letter to the Krupp company of Germany.

Admiral Strauss was summoned later and read the letter in question. It was a reply to an offer made before the war by the Krupp company to supply 14-inch guns for the United States navy. The ordnance bureau answered that if guns to meet the requirements outlined in the offer could be provided, the company's bid would have attention.

"These are not the specifications of our 14-inch gun," Admiral Strauss said. "They are for a much superior gun."

Both the secretary and the admiral said they had no knowledge of any plans or other information having been imparted to the Russian government.

In answer to Representative Butler's assertion that the armor-piercing shell specifications were too high, Admiral Strauss produced the records of the department to show that the Midvale and Crucible Steel companies had delivered large quantities of shells that had passed the tests.

Daniels in Hot Controversy.

Secretary Daniels replied at length to criticisms of himself implied during the testimony of Rear Admiral Fiske, former aide for operations, and became involved in a warm controversy with Representative Britton, of Illinois.

Responding to questions by Mr. Padgett, he said Admiral Fiske had sought appointment as commander of the Atlantic fleet when Rear Admiral Badger retired and had repeatedly requested it, to the secretary's great embarrassment. Mr. Daniels said he told Admiral Fiske that Rear Admiral Fletcher, then commanding a squadron in Mexican waters, seemed entitled to the appointment. Admiral Fiske replied that Fletcher did not want it, the secretary said, and asked that the appointment be held up until he could write to Fletcher. This was done, Mr. Daniels said, and when Fletcher replied that he would be honored by the command, he was appointed; and from that time on Admiral Fiske was not in harmony with the navy department.

"Our first difference," said the secretary, "was over the wine mess order. Admiral Fiske was greatly aggrieved. He said navy officers would go to using cocaine. My only regret about the order is that I did not issue it on March 5, when I came into office, instead of waiting."

Mr. Daniels said he had been prompted to issue the order because of the many cases that came before him of young officers addicted to drink. He cited one man who told him that his son, a young navy officer, had never used liquor in any form before he went aboard ship.

Although he had resolved to ask for Admiral Fiske's resignation, the secretary said, he changed his mind when congress created the office of chief of operations to supplant the aide system, and intended to allow the admiral to serve as aide until the office expired. The admiral resigned, however, before the new law became effective.

Why Fiske Resigned.

Representative Britten directed attention to Admiral Fiske's statement that he had resigned because he had differed with Mr. Daniels on the preparedness question. The secretary said that was not the reason given to him for the resignation. Representative Britten asked that certain letters from Admiral Fiske and the general board to the secretary warning him that the navy was unprepared for war be placed in the records. Mr. Daniels declined to do so, saying he had no intention of permitting such correspondence between the board and himself to be made the subject of gossip.

Representative Oliver, of Alabama, democrat, made a statement sharply attacking Representative Britten. He said the Illinois member's attitude throughout the hearings had followed the single line of criticising the secretary of the navy. He called attention to the fact that Representative Britten had insisted upon calling Admiral Fiske, and declared the questions propounded to the admiral by Mr. Britten had been of a purely personal nature, not an effort to enlighten the committee on navy problems.

Representative Britten and the secretary clashed again when the former asked if a democratic congress had not cut down the recommendations of a republican secretary from three battleships to one.

"If you want to go into politics,—" Secretary Daniels began.

Several members of the committee interrupted to say politics should be excluded, but a general debate on the subject followed.

Meyer's Recommendations.

Representative Britten asserted that Secretary Meyer had recommended the construction of eleven battleships during his administration.

"That's more than you have done, Mr. Secretary," he said.

Secretary Daniels replied that that Secretary Meyer had cut down his recommendations until after the republican defeat in the last general election and then "recommended everything in sight."

Chairman Padgett said that while Mr. Meyer had recommended three battleships at one time, his estimates in the same year had not shown a dollar for new ships.

Shortly afterwards Mr. Padgett ruled out any further political discussion.

"Isn't it true," demanded Representative Britten of Secretary Daniels, "that a copy of one of our war plans with Japan has been lost during your administration?"

"I have never heard of it," Secretary Daniels said.

"You personally have not lost a set?" Representative Britten persisted.

"No, sir."

"How long would it take to put the navy in condition to fight an efficient enemy?" asked Representative Britten.

"We could fight now with what we have," Mr. Daniels said.

"I'm not talking about the fleet," said Representative Britten, interrupting Secretary Daniels' effort to illustrate conditions in the navy by showing what had been accomplished in 48 hours when the fleet was ordered to Vera Cruz. "I'm talking about putting the reserve ships in fighting trim. How long would it take to get 15,000 men train them and put them on the reserve ships?"

"If we had to take raw men, it would take a very long time," the secretary said. He added that in any great emergency the navy could be made ready in a very short time, because there were 25,000 former enlisted men in civil life.

Dewey and Fiske.

Reverting to Admiral Fiske's case, Chairman Padgett asked the secretary to explain how it was that Fiske was not appointed to the general board, although the latter had stated that Admiral Dewey, president of the board, had asked for his appointment. Mr. Daniels said it was true that Admiral Dewey had made such a request and he had promised to consider it. Later, he said, Admiral Dewey had withdrawn his request.

"He requested me then," said the secretary, referring to Admiral Dewey, "not to put Fiske on the board because he wanted a practical, not a theoretical, man. I did not put him on."

In the course of his testimony Secretary Daniels recommended an appropriation of $15,000 for an investigation of the feasibility of government refining of oil for battleship use. He presented a long statement containing figures prepared by a firm of oil engineers, the name of which he did not disclose. It showed that for the cost of the oil it now buys, the navy could refine its own oil, producing as a by-product enough gasoline for its own use and enough kerosene for the entire lighthouse service. The appropriation asked, the secretary said, was for the purpose of checking up these figures.

At Least 48 Dreadnaughts.

Reresentative Callaway brought out a statement that in the secretary's opinion the backbone of the navy should be eventually "at least" 48 dreadnaughts.

"You can not see any reason now, can you?" demanded Representative Callaway, "that you did not see last year for increasing the navy?"

"Yes; we had had no diplomatic differences then," said the secretary. "Conditions were not so strained."

GERMANS DRAW NEARER, BUT PAY RED PRICE

as to make it practically impossible for the Germans to debouch from the village. Vigorous French counter attacks drove them back to the upper fringe of Caillette wood.

The total result of the very formidable effort they had put forth was a gain for the Germans of about 500 yards of terrain, more than offset, it is affirmed, by very heavy losses. West of the river the Germans attacked the Avocourt blockhouse, but again met with complete failure, the observers declare.

FRENCH GAIN EAST OF MEUSE.

Paris, April 3.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"Between Soissons and Rheims we carried out concentrated fires against the German organizations north of the Butte Wood and Mount Sapigneul.

"In the Argonne our batteries violently bombarded the west corner of the Avocourt wood. An enemy blockhouse was destroyed and a munitions depot blown up.

"West of the Meuse the Germans launched yesterday at the end of the day a vigorous attack between Haucourt and Bethincourt, against our positions on the north bank of the Forges brook which we had evacuated withdrawing to the south bank in the night of March 31-April 1, without the enemy perceiving it. Surprised by a fire directed from our new positions and a flanking fire from Bethincourt, the enemy forces suffered heavy losses without having been able to fight.

"Today the bombardment was quite violent in the region of Bois Bourrus, but there was no infantry action.

"East of the Meuse our counter attacks developed success. In the course of the day we drove back the enemy as far as the northern outskirts of the Caillette wood and to the north of the Vaux pond. A last counter attack, particularly spirited, enabled us to reoccupy the west part of the village of Vaux, which we had evacuated.

"In the Woevre there was intense artillery activity in the Moulainville sector.

"In retaliation for the bombardment of Dunkirk by a Zeppelin last night thirty-one allied aeroplanes dropped on the enemy cantonments at Keyem, Eessen, Terrest and Houthulst, shells of large calibre. Last night one of our squadrons bombarded the station at Conflans.

"Today numerous aerial combats were fought with success in the region of Verdun. Our aviators brought down four German aeroplanes; other enemy machines took to flight or were forced to land."

The Belgian official communication reads:

"There was slight artillery activity. In reprisal for the bombardment of Dunkirk by a Zeppelin our aeroplanes, in concert with French aeroplanes, bombarded enemy cantonments."

London, April 3.—The British official statement issued today says:

"Yesterday one of our aviators shot down a German machine in the neighborhood of Lens. Another aviator attacked and drove off five hostile machines after a close combat with two of them.

"This morning early at St. Eloi we attacked a crater which had been held by the Germans since March 30. The crater was captured and our line was established beyond it. We took 84 prisoners, including four officers. The artillery on both sides has been active in this neighborhood today."

FRENCH POSITIONS TAKEN BY GERMANS.

Berlin, April 3.—(Via London.)—All the French positions north of Forges Brook between Haucourt and Bethincourt, west of the Meuse in the region northwest of Verdun, are in German hands, the war office announced today.

The statement follows:

"Western theater: On the left bank of the Meuse all the enemy's positions north of the Brook of Forges between Haucourt and Bethincourt are in our hands.

"Southwest and south of Fort Douaumont our troops engaged in battle with troops holding the French trenches and points of support.

"Eastern theater: There is nothing to report.

"Bombs were dropped by squadrons of German aeroplanes on the railway stations at Pogorjelsy and Horodzieja on the line to Minsk (Russian front) and on the camp at Ostrowki, south of Mir. Bombs also were dropped on railway establishments at Minsk, by one of our air ships.

"Balkan theater: There is nothing to report.

"Air ship movements: Army and naval airships during the night attacked docks at London and other important military points on the English east coast, and also Dunkirk."

GAINS CLAIMED FOR ITALIANS.

Rome, April 3.—(Via London.)—The following official communication was issued:

"There were artillery actions Friday in the valley of Giudicaria in the Rovereto zone and on the upper Astico. Movements of railroad and wagon trains at the head of the Sugana valley continue.

"In the upper Rienz Saturday night by a movement through mountain footpaths we got near enemy positions on the Rauchkofel and by a brilliant attack captured three enemy blockhouses, taking 31 prisoners and some war material.

"On the Isonzo front there were night artillery activities Saturday. We repulsed a new enemy offensive on our position recently captured west of Sleza. During the afternoon our men took the offensive and enlarged the territory already in our possession by taking another entrenchment by assault.

"Near Aquileja our anti-aircraft batteries brought down an enemy biplane and we made prisoners of the two officer aviators."

Berlin, April 3.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—The Austrian war office under date of April 2, issued the following:

"The situation in the Italian war theater is unchanged. This morning enemy aviators threw bombs on Adelsberg (in Carniola, 22 miles northeast of Triest), killing two men and wounding several."

RUSS TRANSPORT REPORTED SUNK.

Berlin, April 3.—(By Wireless)—A 12,000-ton Russian transport with troops and war materials aboard was sunk by a Turkish submarine on March 30, the Turkish war office announced today.

A surprise attack on British troops in Arabia caused them to retreat after they had suffered heavy losses, the war office also said.

The statement follows:

"The enemy's endeavors to check the advance of Turkish troops in the Tchoruk Valley failed.

"Turkish submarines on March 30 sank a Russian transport of about 12,000 tons with troops and war material, and on March 31 sank another ship of 1,500 tons and one sailing ship. Our submarines effectively shelled fortified positions on the coast north of Poti (a Russian seaport in Trans-Caucasia on the Black sea).

"Turkish detachments made a surprise attack on British positions at Alamad, northeast of Sheikh-Osman, which the British had been fortifying for some time. After suffering heavy losses the British retreated under protection of their long range guns to Sheikh-Osman."

Sheikh-Osman is in southwestern Arabia, on the mainland near the British seaport of Aden. Desultory fighting has been in progress near Aden at intervals since the war began and the Turks have claimed several victories, but according to official British statements no reverses of importance have been suffered by the British forces.

Constantinople, April 3.—(Via London.)—The following official statement has been issued:

"Caucasus front: Part of the enemy advanced posts in the Tschoruk valley were compelled by our forces to retire. Our operations there are progressing satisfactorily.

"Dardanelles: On Thursday two of our aeroplanes shot down an enemy machine near Seddul Bahr. Other enemy machines retreated in the direction of Imbros. An enemy torpedo boat in the Gulf of Saros was repulsed by our batteries and withdrew toward Samothrace."

SERIOUS FOOD RIOTS REPORTED IN TORREON

Laredo, Texas, April 3.—Serious food riots, in which at least one thousand women and children participated, occurred in Torreon March 28, according to passengers arriving here today The famine-stricken inhabitants rushed through the streets crying for corn. The meal was only obtainable at fabulous prices. From the demonstration the riot grew into general looting. Soldiers were called out, but they refused to shoot into the crowds.

The government took immediate steps to distribute corn and has ordered several carloads sent to Torreon and vicinity.

No one was killed during the rioting, but many buildings were damaged.

Tents for Paris Sufferers.

Washington, April 3.—The house today adopted the Black resolution authorizing the supplying of tents and other necessaries to the sufferers from the recent fire at Paris, Texas. The bill now goes to the senate.

MILITIA OFFICERS ON GENERAL STAFF

National Guard Section Created by Senate—Fight to Strike Provision for Federal Volunteer Army.

Washington, April 3.—Over vigorous objection by Chairman Chamberlain, of the military committee, the senate today voted 35 to 30 for the Cummins plan to amend the army reorganization bill by creating a national guard section of the general staff. When recess was taken tonight the chairman and other members of the committee were fighting hard against a second amendment championed by Senator Cummins and Senator Lee, of Maryland, which would eliminate the provision for a federal volunteer army.

Threat By Chamberlain.

Senator Chamberlain charged during the debate that pernicious activity on the part of officers of both the national guard and the regular army threatened to undo the months of serious work done by the committee, and he threatened that unless the army officers ceased attempting to influence legislation through personal appeals to senators he would seek to have them disciplined by the war department. He said officers who appeared before the committee were unwilling to see their plans worked into a homogenous bill and as soon as they concluded their testimony began to attempt to influence friendly senators.

"The committee might just as well give up if each officer is going to be able to induce his senator to withhold his support until the measure embodies everything the officer wants," Senator Chamberlain said. "I want to express great regret that the national guard has seen fit to inject itself into the halls of congress until now it looks as if it were a fight between the regular forces and the national guard, as to which is to be considered in legislation which affects the whole country.

Officers Accused of Lobbying.

"I am not going to limit that criticism to the national guard. I have devoted nearly three months of my time to working just as hard as I know how and this bill has run the gamut of the department, including the general staff, the war college and all the other military bodies of the government. We have had the views of the representative men of these organizations and after we have undertaken to formulate a bill which seemed in the committee, at least, to meet pretty generally the approval of the authorities, we find that not only the national guard and its officers—and I sometimes fear a lobby is being maintained for that purpose—but officers of the army around the halls of the senate and house of representatives are interfering with this legislation through different senators instead of leaving the matter to the representatives who have had it in hand and were responsible."

Army officers have objected to the Cummins amendment and maintained the efficiency of the general staff would be lost if its meetings were open to national guard officers, many of whom, it was charged, received their appointments as political rewards and would not appreciate the necessity of guarding military secrets under discussion.

Georgia Senators Oppose Volunteers.

Senators Martine, Lee of Maryland, and Smith and Hardwick, of Georgia, spoke in opposition to the federal volunteer plan. Senator Smith urged his amendment for short enlistments in the regular army with at least ninety-six hours each month devoted to educational instruction. Senator Hardwick wanted to substitute his amendment to provide for military instruction in schools and colleges, which, he said, would insure a reserve of 2,000,000 young men with military tarining.

Senator Williams urged that the amendments offered by the two senators from Georgia need not conflict with the volunteer army plan which he advocated. He suggested that each state university should be turned into a branch of the West Point academy.

Senator Weeks spoke in favor of the federal volunteer system and praised the bill as the best piece of military legislation ever put before the senate. Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, also made an urgent plea for the volunteer army. At the close of the day Senator Chamberlain again warned the senate that he would ask for night sessions unless more rapid progress is made in the near future.

HOLLAND IS ANXIOUS ABOUT COTTON SUPPLY

The Hague, April 3.—(Via London.) Cotton manufacturers are manifesting uneasiness lest the requisitioning of cargo space by the government may interfere with the importation of the needed supplies of raw cotton from America. Holland's reserves of wheat are practically exhausted and the Associated Press is informed on the very highest authority that the government intends to buy 100,000 tons in America in addition to the normal 60,000 monthly, in order to form the needed reserve. Several Dutch ships have been requisitioned to bring these supplies from America.

Should the British government grant the request that has just been made to it for the increase of Holland's present insufficient supply of 75,000 tons of corn monthly, then the above mentioned purchase will be correspondingly increased. A hundred thousand tons of corn is needed every month.

REVENUES INCREASE FOR THE RAILROADS

Washington, April 3.—Prosperity of the railroads throughout the country continues without abatement, according to preliminary reports for February, made public today by the interstate commerce commission.

Returns from 96 large roads shows their net revenue increased from $25,000,000 in February, 1915, to $38,000,000 for February, 1916, more than fifty per cent.

The greatest increase was in the eastern district and amounted to nearly 90 per cent; the southern district showed an increase of approximately fifty per cent and the western district excelled its January showing of 16 per cent increase by an increase of more than 25 per cent.

"What! You saved 4 tons with Radiator heating?"

"Say, John, is that right? And you say that the entire house is ideally warmed all over all the time!"

Comfortable party—"Oh, sure, we're warm as toast. Why, listen! Before I discovered the fault in our old-fashioned heating, our home was a regular 'barn.' Wife had a series of colds every winter, and then the kiddies would sniffle with theirs until our house got to be the doctor's hang-out."

Chilled party—"That's the way it is here now with everybody, from the baby up. Something's got to be done or I'll move. Jane says she can't keep good help on account of lifting and sifting coal and ashes, poking and coaxing fires, blackening, and other ills of old-fashioned heating."

Comfortable party—"Stop worrying, old man, and take a hot tip! Let the dealers put radiator heating in your place. It's done in a jiffy, any time of the year—though this is the best time to buy. Get busy and cheer up the old house; besides, it will go up in value just the minute you put in radiators. Everybody wants them nowadays. Twice as easy to sell or rent because folks have wised-up on the great comfort and coal-savings of radiator heat—the biggest home-making feature in the world."

Chilled party (eagerly)—"Say, John, I'll take your advice, and put in those famous chill-chasers—

"The Ten" club will be the guests of Mr. Walter G. Cooper on Thursday evening, April 13. Judge Marcus W. Beck will make a talk on "The Kaiser."

Notable Women Are Coming To Council of Missionaries

Among the notable women who will take part in the eight days' meeting of the Council of Methodist Missionary workers to meet here in April are Miss Mabel Howell, secretary of the foreign department of the council, and Mrs. Hume Steele, chairman of the educational department.

Miss Mabel K. Howell, of Morgantown, N. C., who occupies the Florine McEachern chair of sociology at the Scarritt Bible and Training school, will be one of the able speakers at the council of Methodist women to meet here in April. She is a graduate, with master's degree, from Cornell university. She had her training in sociology at Chicago university, in close fellowship with the late Dr. Charles Henderson.

Miss Howell is considered by social leaders one of the best prepared teachers of sociology in the country. The Scarritt Bible and Training school has been fortunate in securing her services, and in retention of the same, as the Russell Sage foundation and several universities have offered her chairs with larger remuneration than that paid her at the training school, but because of her loyalty to social service in the south she has steadfastly declined these flattering offers.

Mrs. Steele's Work.

The aim of the educational department, of which Mrs. Steele is head, is to spread the information and inspiration which may enlarge the vision of the women of the church and give them a deeper feeling of their responsibility.

As real inspiration can only be given by the facts of missions, the motive can only be gotten in Bible study, the missionary motive and the impulse for service can only be felt throughout the church as the tiding ars published abroad, so the practical work of the educational department in the woman's work has been defined as mission study, Bible study and publicity. In addition to these lines of work the educational department is responsible for the preparation and publication of the leaflets and special literature ordered by the council.

The fields in which this department operates are the missionary societies of the church and the denominational schools and colleges.

INJUNCTION THREAT MADE TO PREVENT AD MEN BURLESQUE

One of the men well known in the public life of Atlanta who will be burlesqued in a part of the Ad Men's show at the Atlanta theater Wednesday evening, April 12, threatened yesterday to file an injunction against this feature of the Ad Men's entertainment.

Should this threat be carried out, the public might be deprived of seeing a sketch on city hall affairs which is said to be very racy.

Julian V. Boehm, president of the Ad Men's club, asked about the protest, said that he did not think any action could be taken, because no one knows what the comedy contains except himself and Phil C. McDuffie, the authors, and those who have received their roles. He said that he had heard of the protest and that in fact he had been called up on the phone about it.

"I do not see how anyone can be so lacking in sense of humor," said Mr. Boehm. "Of course, we are going to make this pretty strong, but we have no intention of saying anything that will be of material harm. There is absolutely no malice in any of the lines. We have written a drama of local hits, based on local happenings which are familiar to the public."

The sketch is entitled "A Busy Day in the Mayor's Office." It will close the Ad Men's show, which will be composed of three parts, a big minstrel act, four vaudeville attractions and the aforesaid sketch.

The funds raised by this show will go towards sending a big delegation of Atlanta boosters to the twelfth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World in Philadelphia in May.

DISCUSS MERIT SYSTEM

Plans Considered by Police Commission Committee.

The committee of the board of police commissioners appointed to investigate the merit system for the local department met last night at headquarters and discussed the subject at some length.

Meeting with the committee were J. L. Mayson, city attorney; Chief W. M. Mayo and Andy King, chairman of the board. It was decided to let the city attorney draft a merit system plan to be submitted at the next meeting of the board to be held Tuesday, April 11. The committee ordered the secretary of the board, W. P. Morris, to write to other cities employing this system and gather data.

INCREASE IN RATES ON BAGGAGE ALLOWED

The amended ordinance providing for an increase in the charges to be made by the Atlanta Baggage and Cab company and other public corporations for hauling baggage in the city limits was reported favorably by the freight rates and transportation committee yesterday. Councilman J. C. White submitted a minority report. After some discussion the ordinance was passed, the majority report of the committee prevailing.

Dr. White submitted a lengthy communication giving his objections to the passage of the ordinance. He stated that the company was operating a monopoly and that their rates should not only not be raised, but, as a matter of fact, should really be reduced. The rates, he declared, are now out of all proportion, and to raise them any higher would be objectionable.

The ordinance provides for an increase of about 5 cents for each zone in the city. It also carries a time limit for the regulation of the company.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS REVIVAL SERVICES AT PAYNE MEMORIAL

Revival services at the Payne Memorial church continue with unabated interest, according to the announcement by the leader, Dr. George W. Duval.

The meeting tonight will be a young people's night, and Dr. Duval will preach to the young people of Jones Avenue Baptist church and the young people of the Tabernacle. The Emory university quartet will lead the music and a large crowd is expected. Services will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

MOTHERS AND TEACHERS GATHER IN NASHVILLE

Nashville, Tenn., April 3.—A number of delegates from many sections of the country were here tonight to attend the twentieth annual convention of the National Mothers' Congress and Parent-Teachers' association which opens in Nashville tomorrow night. Among the arrivals were Mrs. Frederic Schoff, of Philadelphia, national president, and Mrs. Milton Higgins, of Worcester, Mass., national first vice president. The convention will be in session through Sunday.

The executive board will meet tomorrow morning and will be in session all through the day until the opening of the convention in the evening. There appears to be no opponents among the delegates to Mrs. Schoff and it is stated by a number that she will probably be re-elected president.

ATLANTAN GETS PLACE IN WATERTOWN PLANT

James Morris Hicks, son of James A. Hicks, manager of the Atlanta branch of the New York Airbrake company, with offices 1122 Candler building, has been selected by the company to enter the experimental department at Watertown, N. Y. Mr. Hicks will leave Atlanta Wednesday to assume his new duties.

BEN GREET PLAYERS TO ARRIVE TONIGHT, TO PLAY HERE TWICE

The Ben Greet players are expected to arrive tonight to appear in two performances of "A Comedy of Errors" Wednesday afternoon at Agnes Scott and Thursday afternoon on the campus of Georgia Tech.

The play will in both instances begin at 4 o'clock, but the presentation at Tech will be preceded by a concert by the Tech band, which starts at 3 p. m., and the Mandolin and Guitar club will play an overture and an entr'acte.

These musical features will greatly enhance the already attractive entertainment of this well-known company of open-air players, who are recognized wherever English is spoken as one of the leading exponents of Shakespeare.

With the company is an Atlanta girl, Miss Lila Del Frost, daughter of A. B. Frost. Miss Frost will entertain at her home Miss Elsie Herndon Kearns, who is one of the brilliant and talented stars of the company.

It is regretted by many that arrangements were not made for a longer engagement of the Greet players. It is hoped by the faculty of the Georgia Tech that a large number of the people of the city will make this the occasion of a visit to one of Georgia's leading institutions.

Walton Street Paving Discussed in Council And Action Postponed

The paving of Walton street was again the subject for debate by council yesterday. A resolution providing for the paving of this street with wood block on a concrete base was introduced. The streets committee was evenly divided on the report of this paper. When the matter was placed to a vote it at once brought forth a storm of protest. Councilman Edwin F. Johnson moved that the paper be laid on the table until the next meeting of council and this motion was carried.

Councilman Mincey objected very strenuously to the passage of the paper. "It has been told me, on very good authority, that the people of this street cannot get any paving but wood block from the members of this body; I object to this attitude. It is an injustice to take the money from the streets ordinary fund of this ward and spend it all on one street, leaving a sum inadequate for the needs of the rest of the ward. I trust that the adverse report of the committee will be sustained and that the paper will be turned down."

Councilman Ashley said that the attitude of the streets committee was all wrong. "The people are looking toward Dr. Mincey for work on the streets of this ward. He is to answer to them for his stewardship while a member of this body, and if you rob him of his right what is he to say to his supporters? It is not justice in any sense of the word."

On moving that the matter be deferred till the next meeting, Councilman Johnson said that this desire was to see if money for the work could not be obtained from other sources than the one mentioned by the committee.

BISHOP REESE TO SPEAK AT NOONDAY SERVICES

Bishop Reese will conduct the noonday services held by the Episcopal church at 12:05 to 12:30 today. The services will be held in the Healey building on Broad street adjoining the entrance. Bishop Nelson will conduct the services Wednesday and Thursday.

Something New

An Inexpensive Set of Hand-Painted Bedroom Furniture

Our first announcement of hand-painted bedroom furniture created considerable interest.

Women came, saw it, admired it; in fact, the one set we had at that time was sold at once.

Now an inexpensive set—and we are sure women will like it, for it is a novelty as sure to grow in popularity, as sure to win favor, as the bright days of spring will.

It Is An Adam Design Done In Old Ivory, $177.00

There are four pieces—the double bed, the dresser, the triple-mirrored toilet table, the chiffonier. The dresser, toilet table and chiffonier have cane panels under the mirrors. The decorations are garlands and sprays of spring flowers and ribbons, done in soft pinks and blues.

A Sheraton Black Lacquered Set $291.00

Another distinct departure in bedroom furniture is a rich black lacquered set, consisting of double bed, dresser, dressing table and high-boy. It is illuminated with typical Sheraton gold inlay stripe and with little festoons of colorful flowers.

Cold in the Chest Often Results in Bronchitis

A cold begins to be bronchitis with tightness across the chest. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey relieves that congested feeling.

When tightness across the chest creates an oppressed feeling, with difficulty in breathing or with soreness and irritability within the chest, it is time to take a Pine-Tar-Honey treatment. During this stage of the disease the membrane has become dry while the phlegm is difficult to raise. The dryness is immediately effected by the moist and penetrating honey qualities and at the same time the pine-tar cuts the phlegm, thus relieving congestion. Pine-tar also acts as an antiseptic. As a result of the general relief that follows, the tissues are strengthened, breathing becomes easier, and further inflammation is arrested. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey will be found an ideal treatment in aiding recovery. Price, 25c.

ITCHING RINGWORM ALL OVER FACE

Kept Spreading. So Bad Could Not Sleep at Night. Itched and Burned. Ashamed to Go Anywhere.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Ringworm first began on my face and spread to my neck and it got almost all over my face. It first came out in one little bump and kept spreading, and it got so bad I could not sleep at night. The ringworms were large and as thick as they could be and the skin was red and inflamed. They itched and burned and the itching was so bad that I irritated my face by scratching. I was ashamed to go anywhere.

"A friend asked me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. By the time one box of Ointment and one cake of Soap were gone, I was healed." (Signed) Mrs Sallie Harwood, Evensville, Tenn., July 16, 1915.

SANITOL WEEK APRIL 16TH

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

If Feverish, Bilious, Constipated, Give Fruit Laxative at Once.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let's live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.—(adv.)

Why Spring Brings Out Freckles and Eruptions

The sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines at this season is attributed by scientists to the "actinic ray," which is unusually active during the spring months. Where the skin is so affected by this influence, if one will procure an ounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store, apply a little of it before retiring, like cold cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off next morning, flaky skin particles come with it. The entire outer cuticle is removed in this way in a week or two, with all its defects. No bleach could so effectually remove freckles or blemishes. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No pain or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.

In case of wrinkles which sink beneath the outer skin, a solution of saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel, makes a face bath which is wonderfully effective.

FLAG RAISING HELD AT SLATON SCHOOL MONDAY AFTERNOON

The first of the five flag-raisings of the Third ward was held at noon on Monday at the W. F. Slaton school, and despite the threatening weather was attended by a large and enthusiastic crowd.

The exercises were held in the yard in front of the building and consisted of patriotic songs, recitations and the repeating of the pledge to the flag by the entire school. Over 400 children took part in the beautiful and impressive ceremony of raising the flag.

Dr. Florence T. Truax, president of the club, made the presentation, and a pretty sentiment was expressed when the large flag slowly mounted to the top of the building. As the folds were released, a shower of tiny flags dropped from the parent-flag and dropped into the outstretched hands of the children. This was the compliment of the principal, Mrs. Speirs, and it was received with great enthusiasm.

The singing of "America" by the school and visitors concluded the program, except a rousing three cheers for Colonel W. M. Scott who generously donated the banner to the school. He has signified his intention to give every school a flag if they desire one.

Hill street school and Fair street school will soon follow with flag-raisings.

Italian Prima Donna Won American Hearts By "Norma" Selection

There are popular songs from operas endeared to the hearts of the American people associated with famous singers. The name of "Norma" will always be associated with Giulia Grisi, the Italian prima donna, born in 1810.

When only sixteen she appeared in opera at Bologna, and won the hearts of the audience by her sweetness and wonderful compass of voice. It was her heartfelt rendition of "Norma" that has left its impress on musical history. She sang in the United States during the years preceding the Civil War, and even divided honors with Jenny Lind as the most popular singer of her time.

She died in 1869, and it is said the last song she sang was the famous selection from "Norma" upon which her reputation was made.

Several of Grisi's favorites are included in "Heart Songs"—the musical library of song, now being placed with its readers by this paper. The coupon, elsewhere in today's paper, explains the terms.

COUNCIL RESOLUTIONS PRAISE W. D. ELLIS, JR.

A resolution by Councilman Ashley praising W. D. Ellis, Jr., who recently resigned from the position of assistant city attorney, was introduced yesterday and passed by the unanimous vote of council.

The resolution sets forth the regret with which the city officials learned of the resignation, and declares appreciation of his high character and worth as both a man and a legal adviser for the city. The resolution states that he has ever been loyal to the interests of the city, courteous and attentive to the officers and has brought to his office legal ability of the highest order. A copy of the resolution was ordered spread on the minutes and sent to Captain Ellis.

MANY CONVENTIONS SLATED FOR APRIL

Nine Gatherings, With Opera Week, Will Bring Crowds to the Gate City.

During April Atlanta will be the banner convention city of the south and the hotels, railroads and other business enterprises which profit most extensively and directly from the influx of transient population are looking forward to one of the best month's business in their history.

This week will be notable for the cotton manufacturers' and the eclectic medical convention, and from April 12 to 19, the Women's Missionary council of the M. E. church, south, will be in session here. On April 12 the grand lodge of the Knights of Honors also will meet in Atlanta.

The annual convention of the Georgia Association of Electrical Contractors April 15 will be attended by over fifty delegates from all parts of the state. April 21 the Southern Association of Car Accounting Officers will meet at the Piedmont hotel.

The last week of April will find Atlanta hotels and homes filled to overflowing with grand opera visitors. Very low railroad rates have been granted from points in the southeastern territory, and many other than those attending grand opera will be attracted to the city. The Southern Bowling congress has taken advantage of the reduced railroad rates and will hold their first annual tournament during that week, with headquarters at the Kimball house.

The Atlanta Convention bureau has just completed arrangements with Mr. D. W. Sims, secretary, for the entertainment of the Georgia Sunday School association in Atlanta, June 13, 14 and 15, when 2,000 visitors will be in attendance, it is expected.

The Ford managers of southeastern states have just been booked for an annual conference in Atlanta in October or November. Attendance at this will run about 600.

Legislative Committee Completes Inspection of Deaf and Dumb School

Rome, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—A joint committee of the house and senate have just inspected the Georgia school for the deaf at Cave Spring.

The committee will recommend an appropriation of $25,000 to be made at once to be expended in erecting a second building for the primary department, improving sanitary arrangements, and providing an elevator for the main building. There is now an enrollment of 165 at the school, and the facilities are inadequate for the proper care of them.

The committee asserted its pleasure at finding efficiency and thoroughness of management at the school. Those composing the committee who were present were Senators J. R. McFarlin, of Roseville; C. Tracy Preston and L. L. Bailey, of Dawsonville, and Representatives W. T. Harrison, of Yatesville; F. J. Collins, of Blairsville; T. J. Worsham, of Holland; D. H. Collier, of Toccoa; A. B. Bradley, of Jasper; D. W. H. Estes, of Lincolnton, and A. W. Findley, of Cave Spring.

Fine Free Funeral Is Donehoos' Offer To Bride and Groom

Merchants and business concerns all along Marietta street announced a week ago the numerous and nice things that they will do for that couple which stages the "leap-year" marriage on the pavilion at the carnival—all but the firm of A. O. and Roy Donehoo.

Messrs. Donehoo were willing enough, but what they could do was very problematic. All the rest of the firms were offering something that would be of use or enjoyment to the bride and groom, and which, at the same time, pertained to the respective businesses of the firms.

The Messrs. Donehoo are undertakers!

They conferred together and scratched their heads separately, but no suggestion of what an undertaking establishment could do for a newly married couple presented itself until yesterday afternoon.

Now the problem is solved.

Messrs. Donehoo, after looking over the situation, figure that such a marriage as is suggested would be a rather exciting affair, and accordingly have offered a free funeral if either of the contracting parties fails to survive the excitement.

Now, the Donehoo firm is evidently not banking strongly on being able to do anything for the couple on this basis, so, in order to show absolutely that their hearts are in the right place, they make the additional offer of a free funeral if either of the contracting parties, from one cause or another, should die within seven days after the wedding ceremony.

Veteran Sea Fighter, Who Served With Dewey, Visits Son in Atlanta

For a three weeks' visit at the home of his son, Lieutenant Harold Colvocoresses, in charge of the southeastern United States marine corps recruiting district, Rear Admiral G. P. Colvocoresses, U. S. N. retired, Washington, D. C., a veteran of two American wars, arrived in Atlanta yesterday and is registered at the Georgian Terrace.

During the civil war the admiral, then a junior officer, served under his father, Captain G. M. Colvocoresses, who was in turn in command of the ships Saratoga and Supply. Following the civil war, Colvocoresses entered the Annapolis naval academy and was graduated in the class of 1869.

At the battle of Manila bay he was executive officer aboard the Concord, a ship of Dewey's fleet; was advanced eight points in rank for "meritorious conduct," and transferred to Admiral Dewey's flagship, the Olympia, as executive officer.

Admiral Colvocoresses is about 70 years old. The last work he did for Uncle Sam was as commandant of cadets of the Annapolis naval academy, an office from which he retired three years ago.

MEN OF THE SOUTHEAST RUSH TO JOIN COLORS

All records for the southeastern army recruiting district were broken during the last ten days, Lieutenant G. V. Heidt, in charge of the district, reported last night that during that period a total of 87 men had joined the army through the seven recruiting stations of his district. Atlanta, with 23 men, led the district, the other stations reporting enlistments as follows: Birmingham, Ala., 13; Augusta, Ga., 12; Rome, Ga., 11; Montgomery, Ala., and Columbus, Ga., 10 each, and Macon, Ga., 8. At the United States navy recruiting station in Atlanta eight men applied for enlistment Monday.

ATLANTA WOMEN WILL SELL FLAGS TO HELP BELGIUM

On Saturday, April 8, Daughters of the American Revolution and ladies of Atlanta organizations will assist the Commission for Relief in Belgium in selling flags for the purpose of raising money to assist in caring for war sufferers. The occasion is King Albert's birthday and ten million flags have been distributed for sale in all parts of the United States.

Dr. F. E. May, local representative of the Belgium commission, made announcement of the flag sale Monday, giving at the time plans of the local D. A. R. chapter in making the event one of the largest and most successful which has ever been held for that purpose in this city.

Members of the local chapter, attired in white and wearing the colors of Belgium, will be in all public places on Saturday, and will buttonhole Atlantans until everyone on the streets is decorated with a flag, according to Dr. May.

The flags will be sold at seven cents apiece, that sum of money being necessary to provide rations for one war sufferer one day, according to the commission. All persons wishing to contribute more than the price of a flag can do so.

TATNALL STREET PAVING CAUSES COUNCIL DEBATE

A resolution to pay A. B. Buehl $3,000 for work done in connection with street improvements made some years ago and paid for by him, and a resolution to transfer $1,175 from Mitchell street paving and place it on Tatnall street work to lay paving free of cost to the property owners, were referred to a conference committee when brought to the attention of council yesterday afternoon.

The committee was composed of Aldermen Kelley, Owens, Thomson, and Councilmen Reynolds, Renfroe and Edwin F. Johnson. After lengthy debate the committee brought in two reports for each paper.

The resolution relative to the payment to Mr. Buehl was referred to the claims committee for action, and that relative to the Tatnall street paving was finally passed after some discussion.

Dr. W. A. Starnes on Trial.

Dr. W. A. Starnes, charged with violating the Harrison anti-narcotic drugs act, was placed on trial in the United States district court Monday, and his case consumed the greater part of the day. The trial will be resumed this morning. Dr. Starnes conducts a sanitarium, and it is charged that he prescribed drugs for J. B. King, an alleged addict, in greater quantities than is permissible under the law. He is defended by Attorney Burton Smith.

TICKET AGENTS ASK CHIEFS FOR HOLIDAY

Railroad Men Would Close Atlanta Offices at Noon Saturdays.

In the hope of inaugurating a Saturday half-holiday in Atlanta city offices, five city ticket agents, representing as many railroad companies, Monday joined in a letter to their respective chiefs asking that Atlanta follow in line with practically all of the principal cities of the country and establish here the custom of closing downtown ticket offices at noon each Saturday during the months of May, June, July and August.

The letter points to the fact that in Cincinnati, Charleston, Evansville, Louisville, Mobile, Montgomery, New Orleans, Savannah and St. Louis all city ticket offices are closed at noon during the summer months; that the Cincinnati offices close at 5:30 p. m. during the other week days, and at 1 o'clock on Saturdays all the year round, and that all the year round the general offices of all the roads close at 1 on Saturdays and remain closed until Monday morning.

ECLECTIC MEDICOS CONVENE TOMORROW

It is expected that 400 delegates will attend the forty-second annual convention of the Georgia Eclectic Medical association convention, which will open in the New Kimball hotel for two days' session tomorrow morning.

Wednesday and Thursday will be consumed with the business of the convention and the reading of papers by several of the leading physicians of the state, and the big meet will come to a close with a banquet at the Kimball house Thursday night.

The officers of the association are John H. Powell, president; L. P. Barber, first vice president; Dan Griffith, second vice president, and E. L. Daniel, secretary, all of Atlanta.

10,000 Men on Strike.

New York, April 3.—About 10,000 men, mostly unskilled laborers and timber men employed on the city's new dual subway system, went on strike today, demanding an eight-hour day and an increase of from 15 to 25 per cent in wages. According to Thomas E. O'Brien, president of the Subway Workers' union, the action of the members has tied up 80 per cent of the work on the new subways.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

Reproducing today an editorial under the caption, "Not Forgetting," from The Savannah Morning News, in which it quotes The Brunswick Banner upon the pronounced purpose to complete the bridges over the Satilla and St. Mary's rivers as part of the eastern division of the Dixie Highway, The Constitution cordially commends the spirit of the statement which points to early and substantial achievement.

Nor could the people, the counties, upon the eastern route of the Dixie Highway in southern Georgia afford to feel otherwise about it. There is before them an opportunity, duplicated upon no other portion of the Dixie Highway in all its splendid construction and promise, nor in any part of the highway from Miami to Quebec.

Here, between Jacksonville and Savannah, is the possibility of development not only of a magnificent and easily travelable trunk road in all seasons and all weathers, but of one of the most beautiful scenic highways of the entire country. Nature has endowed it with wonderful attractions; it is only necessary to complete through them a great work now almost finished. Familiar history and reminiscence attach to almost every foot of this land.

Skirting the Georgia coast, almost upon its very waters, with its semi-tropic vegetation and its moss-festooned forest giants, there isn't a prettier roadway route in the whole country. Its every ancient oak, each turn in the road, has its historic associations extending back even to the days of Oglethorpe and the colonists. Just give them half a chance over well-constructed roadway, and it would be impossible to keep the tourists off of it, once they get within driving distance.

But aside from the tourist end of it, the true spirit is enunciated in the statement of The Morning News to the effect that whether we have tourists or not, the time is here when Georgia must bridge her rivers and streams and maintain her highways for her own people and the service they render in bringing farm and market into closer touch and communion, and cutting down that transportation cost over muddy and rutty roads that has so long been the bane of agricultural effort.

There is the double incentive of building a link forming part of two great national highways.

It is this spirit that is building Georgia's roads as they have never been built before—that made the Dixie Highway, with its soon-to-be 3,000 miles of magnificent all the year round, all weather road, from southernmost Florida into Canada, a possibility.

Another year will see it traveled from one end of it to the other; and if the work is done, no spot upon it will prove more popular, more sought by tourists from every section than the Jacksonville-Savannah link which nature and history have conspired to make so attractive.

RURAL CREDIT OPPORTUNITY.

With the banks of the south, in common with those of the entire country, overflowing with money to the point where they are compelled to invest in bonds to find an outlet, the farmer of today who wants to borrow a little to buy a piece of land or extend his agricultural operations is very much in the position of the modern Tantalus, with all sorts of water around him, but none available for drinking purposes.

The banking problem of maintaining liquid and readily convertible assets is easily understood. In fact, it is essential as a matter of protection, both to the institution itself and to its depositors. But why could not some of this money be made available for high-class agricultural loans, and, through the federal reserve system or an extension of it, the bank's assets still be kept in controllable liquid state?

It is somewhat of an anomaly that farm lands, which are the best of all securities, have so long been unacceptable as collateral. This, of course, grows out of the fact that a real estate mortgage is not a liquid asset. But as long as the security is good, absolutely good, why could it not be made such?

Suppose, for instance, under a revision of the present national banking laws, a national bank should lend a farmer 50 per cent of the value of his $10,000 farm for a period of ten years. With that kind of security easily and absolutely convertible within a reasonable time, if not upon the moment, not only would the bank be absolutely protected in the matter of its loan, but it would have what would be more than the equivalent of a government bond as a basis for the issue of currency. When money is plentiful the banks themselves could take care of such loans as these up to a certain amount; when it is scarce, they would have the federal reserve bank to fall back upon and help them to carry the situation, and at the same time keep their cash resources wholly unimpaired.

Upon some such basis as this with the details carefully worked out by a commission of legislators and financiers, it would appear that a very simple plan of rural credits might easily be devised. It might be wholly impossible under such a plan to take care of the landless man, unless he were ready to make a 50 per cent cash payment on his purchase; but it would at least provide a good and safe beginning of a rural credits system which would reach out to and materially assist the best and most productive class of farmer.

"THRIFT" IN THE PRIZE RING.

It seems that the drink and the prize ring have parted company.

That is the sermon "Jess" Willard, heavyweight champion, from Kansas, has been preaching and illustrating by an orderly life—for a boxer and batterer of the human countenance!

His motto being "Thrift and Temperance," he lives up to it, and in that respect, at least, has been a disappointment to many who recall certain social customs and traditions of the fistic arena: He is not a "spender," in the popular sense—not "one of the boys" of the bars where the inebriating cup is dispensed; and when it comes to thrift, Harry Lauder is not so very far ahead of him. Being a man of family, he is a good home-provider, thoughtful of the future, and making one dollar work for another in a legitimate way.

We hold no brief for "Jess" Willard or the prize ring where he towers over his antagonists; but it must be said that his example of thrift and temperance, under trying conditions as a prize ring hero, is an excellent one—unusual, and to be commended.

It is right in line with the business trend of the times and adds emphasis to what is now the world-wide edict: "The drink, or the business."

Such papess as The New York Sun and The Louisville Courier-Journal call attention to this comparatively new departure in prize ring ethics, which was inevitable, since the ring to the sporting fraternity is a pretty serious business proposition! Even the drink and the prize ring have parted company.

The Willard incident shows how far-reaching is the influence of the world-sentiment as to sobriety: It takes in all; and on this line The Courier-Journal says:

> The successful business man who drinks buttermilk with his barroom luncheon and takes his bait in a minnow bucket instead of a four-gallon jug when he goes fishing, becomes increasingly numerous from generation to generation. Even in the world of art devil-may-care Bohemianism is less popular, although not more unprofitable than it once was. The successful painter or sculptor is not found nowadays in a picturesquely disordered and dilapidated studio in the Latin quarter singing with a horde of ragged cronies over a dinner consisting mostly of cheap red wine. He lives in conventional quarters, goes out in the "exclusive" society which Bohemians, in fiction, hold in contempt, has a valet if he can afford one, drives an automobile, dresses as a gentleman should and bathes with unromantic regularity.

Saner methods of living in all occupations—not the result of arbitrary rules, but the gradual growth of public sentiment, which has become the law of business, written or unwritten; a law to which people are conforming without, apparently, realizing that it is such, because it makes for better business and happier homes.

It is the unwritten law with the uplift in it, and it is coming to be universally recognized and respected.

The drink and the business of the world have come to the parting of the ways. They don't go together any more.

THE GOLDEN RULE.

Remember that we all are brothers, so let's be good and kind to others, acknowledging their rights; why make Jones hotter than a hornet, by playing on your flute or cornet, when he would sleep o' nights? Why keep a swarm of hungry chickens, which cause more trouble than the dickens, as golden spring days pass, committing crimes no man can pardon, by scratching in the neighbor's garden, destroying garden sass? Why keep a dog that is so batty it thinks it is outclassing Patti, or even Annie Case, when it spends all the evening howling, and pouring diabolic yowling, in torrents through its face? While of our goodly deeds we're spieling, we're stirring up much bitter feeling by little, thoughtless sins; we keep a cow that makes Brown maddish, because it eats his early radish—why bark that neighbor's shins? In pious works our zeal is splendid; to see all vice and sorrow ended we go down in our jeans; and then we keep a rooster nutty that crows until it jars the putty from neighbors' window panes.

LIGHTS FOR PIEDMONT PARK PASSED COUNCIL

A resolution authorizing 100 lighting poles for Piedmont park was passed by council yesterday. The matter has been under consideration for some time past. By the resolution the wiring will be placed underground. The poles will be ornamental. The city will pay for the current used in the lights, but the cost of erecting the poles and other installation will be borne by the electric company.

SALARY RAISE REFUSED BY ACTION OF COUNCIL

An adverse report on increase of salaries for certain employees of the park department was adopted Monday by council. The resolution asking for this increase was introduced by Councilman George P. Freeman for the park commission. It provided for an increase in the pay of certain watchmen in the department.

CITY MAP IN PLUMBING DEPARTMENT APPROVED

A report of the finance committee authorizing the purchase of a complete map of the city for the use of the plumbing department was passed by council. The map will be used for keeping track of the sewers and mains of the city. It will cost $240 and will be complete in every detail.

NINE DOZEN CHAIRS BOUGHT BY COUNCIL

Council authorized the purchase of nine dozen chairs for the use of the Peoples street school. The finance committee reported favorably on the matter.

CITY ATTORNEY ASKED TO INVESTIGATE CASE

On a resolution by Councilman George P. Freeman passed by council the city attorney was asked to investigate the status of the case in regard to the car line which is now down on Confederate avenue and which has never been used. The resolution asks that the city attorney intervene, if possible, in the case and make an effort to have these tracks removed as they are an obstruction to traffic and are otherwise objectionable, it is claimed.

RESOLUTION ASKS CITY BE INCLUDED IN FIGHT

A resolution by Councilman Edwin F. Johnson passed council asking that the city be included in the complaints and be made a party to any action to be taken by the Atlanta Freight bureau in their effort to stop the proposed increase in the freight rates. The city also asks permission by the resolution to appear before the commerce commission in these objections.

ORDINANCE FOR NEW FRANCHISE OFFERED

An ordinance authorizing the granting of a franchise to the Federal Construction company for the building of a street railway from Atlanta to Creighton was introduced in council and on motion was referred to the street committee. The ordinance outlined in some detail the requirements for granting the franchise and the conditions the company would have to meet in building the road.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY HEWLETT ATTENDS COUNCIL MEETING

Sam D. Hewlett, recently appointed assistant city attorney to succeed W. D. Ellis, Jr., was present at the meeting of council Monday afternoon. He was greeted by many of the members to whom he is known. Several introductions were made to those members who did not know him. A communication announcing his appointment was read and ordered filed.

APRIL

By GEORGE FITCH

Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

April is a brief, emotional month which has only thirty days and spends most of its time weeping for the thirty-first. It arrives just after the backbone of March has been broken, and lasts until it is safe to put on a thin necktie and a cotton vest and go to a baseball game without a footwarmer.

April consists of sunshine and sobs in equal doses, like a Hearne melodrama, and is one of our most charming months in spots. When the April sky is blue, and the warm breezes are enticing the diffident radish from the bosom of the garden, April is so fascinating that the whole world goes out of doors in order to breathe it in larger quantities. In April, the apple, peach and cherry trees explode into blossom, and nature everywhere becomes green and fresh and tender. The country roads also lose thier hard, callous nature and become soft and succulent. After April has rained for about nineteen days on an eight-hour schedule, the roads become so soft and embracing that the mail carrier has to sit on his buggy top to keep his necktie out of the mud.

April is chiefly noted in the United States for the opening of the baseball season. During the last ten days of the month a million baseball fans are suddenly turned on and life once more becomes bright and stuffed full of interest. There is no more inspiring sight than that of a baseball fan in April, as he sits in the thick weather on the port side of third and shouts hoarse encouragement to the baserunner, who is sliding grandly to third through the billows, tossing up spray like a racing motor boat.

The early housecleaning breaks loose in many a happy home.

April elections also give us our mayors and aldermen. Because of this, a great many reformers are demanding that April be left out of the calender.

April is barred by two great sorrows—the late frost and the early spring housecleaning. The late frost comes like a dastardly assassin and murders the innocent spring vegetables and the congressional boom, while the early house-cleaning breaks loose with relentless fury in many a happy home and shuffles it up until the distressed husband had to find his way through the parlor at night with a guide, to say nothing of saving up enough money to buy back his second and third best pairs of pants from the old clothes man.

April is a beautiful month south of Mason and Dixon's celebrated line. North of this line, however, it is like a stock company gold mine—it consists mostly of prospects.

MARIETTA STREET JUBILEE OPENS IN JOY, COLOR AND BRIGHT LIGHTS

Although the weather conditions early in the day promised to be not of the best, the Marietta street jubilee, promoted and managed by the Marietta Street Merchants and Manufacturers' association, opened in a spirit of hilarity and fun and under most encouraging auspices yesterday, almost on schedule time, and the crowd that attended last night was all that could have been desired.

Thousands of Atlantans, with many visitors from outside cities in Georgia, thronged Marietta street from Five Points to the real center of attraction—the tented shows of the Con Kennedy Carnival company, beginning at the intersection of Tabernacle place and Mariettta street, from the first shades of nightfall until well toward morning. It was a happy, hilarious crowd, but an orderly one; and it got all the amusement bargained for or promised.

The street from Bellwood avenue to Five Points is prettily decorated with flags and bunting, and the business houses along the thoroughfare reaped a good profit for the first day of carnival. The jubilee will last, through next Saturday night, and, with anything like fair treatment at the hands of the weather man, the institution bids fair to record a signal success in itself and a record week for the enterprising business firms who made it posible.

The holiday season was ushered in with a street parade, with bands, floats and a steam calliope, which passed down the thoroughfare lined on both sides with cheering spectators. It doubled back at Five Points, returned to the carnival grounds, disbanded, and the big show was on.

The amusement feature of the festival is well taken care of, and judging from the crowds in attendance last night, all of Atlanta will visit Marietta street before the week is out. The Con T. Kennedy shows are satisfactory in every respect—bigger, brighter and better than before—and should prove a magnet which will draw many out-of-town residents to this city. The midway attractions were well patronized last night. The carnival spirit prevailed and long before 8 o'clock the excellent Kennedy band rendered a concert and then the formal opening took place.

From the Rag Time Village at the one end of the midway, to Doc Turner's Big "16 to 1" show, at the other end, the people surged and crowded, going from one attraction to the other. The Garden of Allah gave two shows to crowded houses, and the audiences enthused at the clever Oriental dancing. The motordrome entertained hundreds during the evening, and was voted one of the best shows on the Pike. The Russian theater please many and the wild west show proved a big hit. The tiny French midgets and Samar (Siamese) twins drew the largest attendance of all. The whip, the latest riding device before the public, was initiated here last night, and all the cars were filled at every trip around the big loop.

The many friends of the Con T. Kennedy shows are glad to see this big amusement enterprise back in Atlanta, and showed their appreciation last night by the manner in which they visited the different attractions. While it is hardly likely that there will be as many attend this celebration as did the Georgia Harvest festival last fall, the Marietta street merchants can rest assured that their undertaking will be a great success from every viewpoint.

Savannah News Discusses Beauties of Coast Line Link Of the Great Dixie Highway

(From The Savannah News.)

Under the title "Lest We Forget," The Brunswick Banner says:

"Lest we of Savannah and Brunswick forget our voluntarily assumed obligation made to the Dixie Highway commissioners to see that the Satilla and St. Marys rivers are bridged without delay, The Banner urges that the work be undertaken at ance and not postponed until the ardor cools and our promises are unfulfilled. . . . The part that the people of Glynn and Chatham counties can play is in the matter of sustaining the interest of the people of Camden county and securing prompt action by the county commissioners of that county and, if needed, in assisting in financing the proposition. . . . The assurance of a prominent Savannah banker that he will take an issue of bonds from the commissioners of Camden county at par with interest not over 5 per cent, furnishes an opportunity for financing the construction that the Camden county people cannot well afford to ignore."

There certainly is no evidence in Glynn or Chatham or Camden county, or anywhere along the Savannah route, of waning interest in the Dixie highway. The Savannah route did not win a place on the highway just for the fun of winning it, but because its people believe in good roads, believe it will pay the local population to be on the Dixie highway and bring tourists this way by hundreds. The Satilla river bridge would lie entirely in Camden county and the St. Marys bridge would be divided between Camden, and Nassau county, Florida. There has been no intimation from either of these two counties of an unwillingness to do their part in putting bridges in the place of ferry boats, and The Morning News believes that, allowing amply for the time it will require to look after the numerous preliminaries, it will not be long before both streams are bridged.

There is nobody along the Savannah route who does not believe the tourists are coming in big numbers in this direction. The Dixie highway and connecting highways tap the West and Middle West, the Atlantic Coast highway taps the East. The two great roads merge near Savannah and the tourists coming over them will follow the same route into Florida. And these tourists will be people with time and money—both for spending. They will be in pursuit of pleasure, of relaxation, of people and scenes, and experiences that will interest them. They are not stingy. They like to travel leisurely, visit the scores of places of historical interest hereabouts, take pictures, not only see but actually learn the country and try to be sure they are overlooking nothing that might interest them. While they are doing all this they will not be averse in paying for their pleasure. That is what having an eye to a good investment from a coldly practical business viewpoint, to make their trip as plensant as can be.

But even if it were not for the tourists, the time is at hand when Georgia and Florida people must bridge their streams. Georgia and Florida people have automobiles, have cause to travel in them, like good roads, and see the value of bridges. The more travel there is over the roads the more important is it to bridge the streams that cut the roads. Georgia has a good many rivers and is glad of it because they help to water her soil and make it yield the big crops in great variety for which she is becoming famous, but they also interfere, to some extent, with the close relations that should exists among Georgians. Whatever tourists may do, it remains that trade follows the line of least resistance and when trade travels over country roads it does not like to be interrupted or delayed by the lack of bridges.

As to the proposed bridges over the Satilla and St. Marys rivers, evidently Savannah and Brunswick are not going to "forget." And the people along the Savannah route are not going to forget they are on the Dixie highway. They are going to continue to see the value of the designation of the route as the eastern branch in Georgia of that great cross-country artery.

How Uruguay Received Our Secretary of the Treasury

Washington, April 3.—(Special.)—The government of Uruguay extended a cordial and generous reception to Secretary McAdoo and the other members of the United States section of the International High commission who visited Montevideo en route to Buenos Aires to attend the meeting on April 3 of the entire commission, composed of nine members from each republic of the western hemisphere.

The United States cruiser Tennessee, bearing the American party, was met by a Uruguayan gunboat and escorted into the harbor of Montevideo. The Americans were enthusiastically welcomed, and the capital city of Uruguay was brilliantly illuminated in their honor.

The president of Uruguay gave a banquet and ball to the commission, and the minister of finance of Uruguay delivered an eloquent address on the question of establishing stronger and closer financial and trade relations among the American republics. The minister particularly pointed out the great need of transportation facilities between the United States and Latin America. He said:

"Today only one great question remains to be solved, that of navigation—the great problem of transportation which is the most pregnant with difficulties. The commerce between the countries of our continent is carried under European flags in greater part. War has removed these vessels from our shores and there are no American vessels to replace them. This is the greatest question at the present moment and the most important to our future, but we expect it to be solved because Mr. McAdoo has a great plan, which was brilliantly set forth in Indianapolis last October. Patriotic legislators of the United States will not delay in effecting this great work he has conceived in creating a merchant marine of 500,000 tons and putting it at the service of America."

The government of Argentina sent a cruiser to Montevideo to escort the ship bearing the commission to Buenos Aires. Several thousand people gathered at the dock at Montevideo at midnight to bid the visitors farewell and to wish success to the meeting in the Argentine Republic.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

By Ned McIntosh

LUCIEN KNIGHT HAS HABIT OF DISCOVERING FIRES

Lucien L. Knight, compiler of state records, is getting to be something of a hero in the way of saving the capitol building from destruction by fire.

When Mr. Knight dropped by his office on the third floor of the building for a few minutes Sunday morning, he opened the door and was greeted by a cloud of smoke, a small pile of trash in a corner of the room having become ignited from some unknown source. He summoned No. 2 fire engine company, just across Washington street, and the fire was soon out.

This is the second time that Mr. Knight has discovered a fire in the statehouse, and both times on Sunday. The other was when the interior of the office of Hal Stanley, commissioner of commerce and labor, was badly damaged last fall.

Mr. Knight has recommended to the governor that the building be inspected with a view to preventing further danger from fires.

W. & A. COMMISSION HOLDS MEETING TODAY

The Western and Atlanta railroad commission will meet at the capitol tomorrow for a session extending through Thursday.

Data which has been gathered in the office of the commission and whatever propositions may have been submitted to the commission will be taken up Tuesday morning. In the afternoon R. R. Otis, chairman of the plaza committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, will ask the commission to set a date when the proposed plaza over the tracks of the State road in the heart of Atlanta can be discussed.

On Wednesday the commission will inspect the terminals and other properties of the state road in Atlanta.

On Thursday the commission will go over the road to Chattanooga, where they will make an inspection of terminals there.

PERSONAL NOTES FROM ABOUT THE STATEHOUSE

Governor Nat E. Harris was in his office Monday after his trip to Parrye, Ga., where he delivered an address. The governor declared that he was much encouraged over the reception accorded him there and is encouraged further over the outlook of his campaign. Upon his return he took up the matter of the next payment of pensions, and the question of whether the full balance of $500,000 will be paid now or will be divided into two payments will be settled as soon as Commissioner of Pensions Linsey, who is now out of town, returns to the city.

C. M. Candler, chairman of the state railroad commission, is to deliver the commencement address of the Americus High school, when the largest class in the history of the institution will be graduated.

Professor M. L. Brittain, state superintendent of schools, on last Saturday delivered an address at the third annual school rally in Talbotton.

Three of the assistants in the office of Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian, were absent Monday on account of deaths or illness in their families. Dr. H. C. Hutchens has gone to Cincinnati, where his father died yesterday morning. Dr. H. F. Hook has gone to Dalton to attend the funeral of his father-in-law, who died there Monday morning. Dr. C. L. Lumby has gone to Oregon, Ill., on account of the serious illness of his wife there.

Captain Goodloe H. Yancey, secretary of the state prison commission, has just returned from Montgomery, Ala., where his son, Louis D. Yancey, was ill. He brought his son back to Atlanta with him.

Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian, is planning, if possible, to go to Mount Vernon Tuesday to deliver an address before a convention of live stock breeders, his subject being "Dairying."

W. W. Chase, assistant state entomologist, has just issued a bulletin on the care and management of peach orchards.

Dr. W. B. Hirleman, assistant state veterinarian, has just made a test of a herd of nineteen cattle shipped into Houston county by Gus Beeson, of Bucklin, Mo., which snowed that seven of the nineteen had tuberculosis.

Speaking of masterly strategy, did not the American punitive column get away without an accompaniment of moving picture photographers?

No Tanks.

(From The Lowell Courier-Citizen.)

"No, Thank You," buttons are worn by Californians on the water-wagon. But why the "thank you?" Or why not, "No, Tanks."

VALDOSTA DEVELOPS VEGETABLE PLANT GROWING INDUSTRY

Valdosta, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The growing of tomatoes, cabbage and sweet potato plants has become an industry of the first importance in this section this spring.

Millions of such plants have been shipped from Valdosta during the winter, mostly cabbage and tomatoes. Sweet potato plants are now just beginning to come in, and probably 50,000,000 of these will be shipped during April and May. The yields and records made by some of the growers, especially to the uninitiated, seem little short of the miraculous.

J. Q. Dorris, one of the principal growers, states that on about two acres of land he has growing now between 30,000,000 and 40,000,000 sweet potato "draws," from which he expects to begin making shipment on Monday. He has orders on hand now for several million plants. One firm has placed an order for 1,000,000 or $1,000 worth. A firm in San Antonio, Texas, has ordered 350,000 slips, and smaller orders from various sections already run the total up to an immense quantity. Mr. Dorris has already received more than $600 from small buyers before shipping a plant.

He prepared his two acres of land for this purpose solely, putting in a system of irrigation which would make him independent of the dry weather, and as a result his potatoes have had an ideal condition for growing. Mr. Dorris advertised extensively from Maine to Texas and orders are pouring in from every section of the country. The indications are that every plant he grows will be sold.

The Bruce Wholesale Plant company, in tomatoes and cabbage plants, has equalled the records made by Dorris and other growers here. This firm has shipped about 40,000,000 cabbage plants and large quantities of tomato plants are now being shipped. The season for these will continue several weeks.

Street Car Company Attorney Opposes the "Jitney Bus" Petition

The hearing in the superior court, Judge Bell presiding, on the "jitney bus" petition for an injunction against the city ordinance, while the case is being tried in the courts, was featured yesterday by a tilt between lawyers, following an address in opposition to the injunction by Walter T. Colquitt, of counsel for the Georgia Railway and Power company.

When Mr. Colquitt finished Thomas B. Felder stated to the court that his understanding was that the only attorneys of record in the case was his firm, composed of himself, Owens Johnson and Leonard J. Grossman, representing the jitney bus men, and James L. Mayson, city attorney, representing the city of Atlanta. He stated to the court further that he was aware of the fact that Mr. Colquitt was the counsel for the Georgia Railway and Power company, but that he desired to know if he was an attorney of record in this case.

Judge Bell stated that it was well understood that the Georgia Railway and Power company was very much interested in this case. Whereupon Mr. Colquitt stated that he had offered his services to City Attorney Mayson voluntarily and that his offer had been accepted and that it was his intention to remain in the case as one of the attorneys of record against the jitney bus men.

J. Coy Pearce's statement was that he had called upon every bonding company authorized to do business in Georgia with the view of making the bond required by the city of Atlanta, and that each and all of said bonding companies had refused to write the bond, as well as other individuals, and that the bond required by the city of Atlanta was really not a bond and was unknown to the insurance world.

The affidavits further showed that the ordinance would result in the complete destruction and abolition of the jitney bus business in Atlanta, because the high tax was prohibitive.

Thursday's hearing consisted chiefly in a discussion of legal principles involved and the reading of a volume of affidavits by counsel for the jitney men.

GIRL LOSES HER LIFE WHILE SURF BATHING

St. Augustine, Fla., April 3.—Miss Sadie Belle Stanton, of Clinton, Indiana, was drowned while swimming at South Beach, a nearby beach resort, late today. Paul Bigler, of this city, who accompanied the young woman into the surf, was rescued in an unconscious condition, but is expected to recover.

GRAND JURY PROBES CENTRAL ROBBERY

The greater part of yesterday was consumed by the United States grand jury, which convened in the morning, to an investigation of the Harrisons and Carl Rentz, suspected of implication in the robbery of a train at Central, W. Va., in which about $100,000 in unsigned currency was the booty. The jury adjourned early in the afternoon, with no statement having been made public regarding conclusions reached, and no indictment was filed.

PROBE COMMITTEE REPORT IS ADOPTED

"Investigation Has Succeeded in Making Mountain Out of a Mole Hill," Declares Councilman Edwin Johnson.

The report of the council investigating committee, appointed to look into the charges against Councilman Renfroe and investigate other alleged irregularities in the city government, was adopted by council Monday.

When the committee first submitted its findings, through Councilman Ashley in the absence of Alderman Dunlap, Alderman Albert Thomson objected to the report being adopted as submitted, saying that certain features of the report did not meet with his approval and he could not vote for it as a whole

"I move," he said, "that copies of the report be submitted to each member of council and that its adoption be deferred to the next meeting of this body. The matter is rather a serious one and should be thoroughly looked into by the members of council and the report digested before a vote is taken.

Thomson's Objection.

"The committee seems to condemn certain alleged irregularities and yet asks council to pay $25 to Mrs. Carter for her work in connection with the meetings of the committee. I don't know that such a request is illegal, but it seems to me that an investigation of the point should be made before the report is finally adopted. I ask for an aye and nay vote and request that I be allowed to refrain from voting."

Councilman Ashley objected to this motion and stated that the request of the alderman to be excused from voting was rather irregular. "I wish to submit that the committee does not censure any one person in this report. It simply condemns the actions of all involved. The practices which were brought out in the meetings, while not actually illegal and immoral, might lead to abuse and to things which would be illegal and immoral. It was the purpose of the committee in making this report to condemn all such practices without regard to any particular person in any department.

"As to the matter of the payment for Mrs. Carter, I feel that this sum is pitifully small in view of the work she did and the money appropriated. I also submit that Mrs. Carter did much of her work after hours, and in that way it was not done in the city's time, which seems to be one of the objections raised by the alderman."

Alderman Thomson then said that such being the case, he would withdraw his objection to the payment, but felt that a statement to this effect should be included in the report.

"Councilman Edwin F. Johnson objected to certain features of the report. "I feel that this investigation has succeeded in making a mountain out of a mole hill. That is my candid and honest opinion of the whole affair.

"According to newspaper reports of the committee meetings, neither Mr. Farlinger or Mr. Renfroe bought supplies on the city contract without the full knowledge and consent of the contracting companies. This can not be injurious to the city. If these companies were fully aware of the nature of the purchases of these men, the city has no right to offer any objection. Let me explain that I am not condoning any such practice or that I approve of this action. But I do not agree with the report of the committee in that part which censures the members of this body. I will be forced to refrain from voting on this report if council is asked to express its opinion.

Predicts Legislation.

"It is my hope that legislation can be enacted in the future which will prevent the recurrence of such practices on the part of any city employees or officials. In the absence of an ordinance preventing this practice and regulating the conduct of the purhasing agent, I make this objection. While I don't approve of the actions of the members of this body, I don't think they should be censured for what did not harm the city.

"I believe that Mr. Farlinger and Mr. Renfroe are both capable men and have done a great deal for the city, and feeling this way in the matter, I am of the opinion that any delay in the action on this report would only bring out undue suspicion against them. So I am opposed to any delay in voting."

The report was then put to council and adopted with no opposition. Alderman Thomson and Councilman Edwin Johnson did not vote.

The report of the committee set forth that Councilmen Renfroe and Farlinger made purchases on the city contract as did employees of the city, and that such purchases were made through the office of the purchasing agent. Section 5 of the report states, "We very forcibly condemn this practice."

The report further recommends the regulation of the use of city machines, urges that the irregular letting of contracts for work, as brought to their attention in the matter of Carter and Tazor streets, be stopped in the future; that the custom of the tax committee in paying employees of the city for work done in connection with listing of tax defaulters be discontinued, and that Mrs. Carter be paid the sum of $25 for the work done by her in connection with the investigation.

WEAVER ELECTED HEAD OF OLD FIRE FIGHTERS

Survivors of Atlanta's first fire department, Volunteer company, No. 1, held their annual meeting and election of officers Monday, and following the installation of the new heads of the organization talked over old times, when fires in Atlanta were fought by the bucket brigade route.

J. K. Weaver was re-elected president; Charles Klassett, vice president; John M. Heinz, secretary, and B. E. Gardiner, treasurer.

The company was organized in 1850 and served until the installation of the Atlanta fire department, rendering service without fear, pay or apparatus.

The members of the company present at the meeting were J. K. Weaver, B. E. Gardiner, Charles Heinz, Charles Klassett, Lewis Bender, A. Klassett, John M. Heinz, H. P. Haney and H. C. Dunlap.

THE DAY'S GRIST FROM THE STATE POLITICAL MILL

QUALIFIED CANDIDATES FOR CHATTOOGA PRIMARY

Lyerly, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The entry for candidates for Chattooga county officers closed at noon Saturday. All candidates who had announced qualified with the exception of T. M. Anderson for sheriff. There are fifteen candidates to be voted for in the primary to be held on Saturday, April 15. The sheriff's race is most interesting, there being four aspirants for this office. Every office is opposed with the exception of surveyor, clerk of court and ordinary. The complete ticket is as follows:

For sheriff, N. S. Rich, C. A. Waters, E. H. Dalton and J. W. Alexander, the incumbent; for tax collector, D. P. Henfey, incumbent, and A. H. Glenn; for tax receiver, T. J. Anderson and Robert M. King; for treasurer, G. W. Sewell and T. T. Davis; for clerk of court, S. C. Martin; for county surveyor, F. E. Schmidt; for ordinary, J. P. Johnston; for county school superintendent, W. L. Gamble and S. E. Jones.

PAULDING COUNTY PRIMARY RESULTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Dallas, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The following is the result of the primary election for county officers in Paulding county:

W. J. Baker won over S. W. Ragsdale and D. F. Wills for ordinary by a majority of 174; D. L. Denton defeated C. A. Brooks by 413 majority for clerk of the superior court; E. D. Wheeler, now sheriff, defeated J. M. Fuller, one of his former and present deputies, by a majority of 174. In the race between five contestants for superintendent of schools, C. A. Roberts won over T. H. Starr, his most aggressive competitor, by a majority of 54; I. S. Verner was nominated for tax receiver by 3 majority over J. Tom Spinks, his nearest competitor; B. D. Alexander was nominated for tax collector; J. P. Bagby, now treasurer, was nominated by 20 majority; Y. T. Finch was nominated for surveyor, and T. D. Langly for coroner; J. H. Arnold, Pascal Jones and J. W. Ragsdale were nominated for county commissioners.

There has never been a more quiet election in Dallas.

FLOYD COUNTY PRIMARY IS TO BE HELD APRIL 5

Rome, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Floyd county's primary for county offices will be held on Wednesday, April 5. The registration is the largest in the history of the county, being in excess of 5,000. There are heated races for every office with the exception of that of ordinary, to which Harry Johnson, the incumbent, will be elected without opposition.

CHALLENGE TO DUPONT BY OSCAR UNDERWOOD

Alabama Senator Charges Scheme to Defeat Government Nitrogen Plant.

Washington, April 3.—Senator Underwood, of Alabama, today read into the senate record a letter to Pierre S. DuPont in which he charged that Hugh L. Cooper and Charles B. Landis, agents for the DuPont de Nemours Powder company, had sought to defeat the house bill providing for a government nitrogen plant. The Alabama senator also challenged Pierre S. DuPont to specifically deny his charges, made in a speech in the senate last week, that the DuPont company was working against the government project.

Senator Underwood's letter was in reply to one from Mr. DuPont in which the president of the powder company said his concern had not sought to defeat the Muscle Shoals, Ala., nitrogen project and explained the powder company's bill providing for a nitrogen plant.

"If Mr. DuPont or either of the agents will write a specific denial of my charges I will offer it to be read in the senate," said Senator Underwood, "but if the powder company does not avail itself of the opportunity for this public denial it will be convincing to me that my assertions in a speech of last week were not unfounded."

"I have no objection to your company developing its own nitrogen," Senator Underwood's letter to Mr. DuPont stated, "but I am a firm believer in giving the government the first choice of sites. I am advised that your process is the most economical for deriving nitrogen for the purposes of making explosives and for use as fertilizer.

"If my amendment becomes a law it only provides for an investigation as to the best sites and the best means of producing nitrogen. You can present your plan to the investigators and if it is the best plan, I have no doubt it will be adopted, and if it is not the best plan, I have no doubt it will be rejected."

Mr. DuPont stated in his letter that his company's capacity for the manufacture of explosives had increased from 10,000,000 pounds a year at the beginning of the war to 375,000,000 pounds a year.

HENRY DISREGARDS WARNING OF COURT AND GOES TO JAIL

When E. M. Henry was released Monday morning in the municipal court by Judge L. Z. Rosser, Jr., it was with the explicit understanding that he would not molest his wife further and would leave the city by not later than 6 o'clock Monday afternoon. One of the requirements was that he was not to go for his belongings until after 11 o'clock Monday morning.

Henry disregarded the warnings of Judge Rosser and as a consequence was before the municipal court Monday afternoon on a charge of breach of the peace. He was sent to jail in default of bail in the sum of $1,000.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Beatrice Henry caused the arrest of her husband, who was apprehended at a grocery store at Peachtree and Auburn avenue.

Henry's address was first given as 279 Peachtree street. This was an error, it is stated. He lives on Luckie street.

EAR NEARLY CUT OFF IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Athens, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Returning from Atlanta to Whitmire, S. C., with three new Studebaker automobiles, George Rice and G. M. Stephenson, in the rear car, met with an accident, and Mr. Stephenson was injured, not seriously, however. The front cars met a big tourer, and the dust confused the party, so that in an effort to dodge the on-coming machine the last of the string of Studebakers was wrecked. Mr. Stephenson had an ear cut nearly off, received severe bruises, but no broken bones, and went on to Whitmire this morning.

JUDGE SAMUEL WEAKLY PAYS VISIT TO ATLANTA

Judge Samuel D. Weakly, of Alabama, author of the new prohibition law of Georgia, was a visitor in Atlanta yesterday and was in conference at the headquarters of the Anti-Saloon league.

Judge Weakly is also author of the Alabama and Virginia prohibition laws, and, it is announced, will draw similar laws for the state of North Carolina to be introduced at the next session of the general assembly of that state. The Anti-Saloon league makes the claim for the Judge Weakly brand of laws that they are absolutely "air-tight."

ACTION IS DEFERRED ON LOUIS D. BRANDIES

Committee Votes on Nomination Next Monday—Friends and Foes Talk.

Washington, April 3.—Action on the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the supreme court was deferred by the senate judiciary commtitee today until next Monday.

Senator Fletcher, democrat, of the subcommittee, made a report merely recommending confirmation. Senator Walsh made a long report and Senator Chilton, the third democrat, will submit a report tomorrow. Senators Cummins and Works made reports against confirmation.

Senator Walsh declared in his report:

"The real crime of which this man is guilty is that he has exposed the iniquities of men in high places in our financial system. He has not stood in awe of the majority of wealth.

"It is easy for a brilliant lawyer so to conduct himself as to escape calumny and villificaton. All he needs to do is to drift with the tide. If he never assails the doer of evil who stands high in the market places, either in court or before the public, he will have no enemies or detractors or none that he need heed. The man who never represents the public or the impecunious citizen in any great forensic contest, but always the cause of corporate wealth, never has these troubles. It is always the other fellow whose professional character is a little below par."

"An analysis of the evidence had led me irresistibly to conclude that the nomination should be rejected," said Senator Works. "I am greatly in sympathy with much of the work that Mr. Brandeis has been doing to better economic, industrial and social conditions. Much of this I am convinced he has done generously, unselfishly and for the common good.

"Some of his friends say he is a radical, and for that reason has offended the conservatives. That may be no reproach, but the temperament that has made him many enemies would detract from his usefulness as a judge. He is of the material that makes good advocates, reformers and crusaders, but not good or safe judges. To place a man on the supreme court bench who rests under a cloud would be a grevious mistake."

"I am in sympathy, for the most part, with his sociological and economic opinion," said Senator Cummins, "and for the work that he has done in these directions I have nothing but commendation. I cannot, however, even seem to approve his course in many of the matters which have been brought to the attention of the subcommittee through which he has lost the confidence of so large an element of the profession of which he is a member, and of the country of which he is a citizen, as to vitally impair his usefulness as a justice of the supreme court."

ATHENS WAR VETERANS TO FORM ORGANIZATION

Athens, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Veterans of the Spanish-American war and veterans of the foreign wars of the United States will organize a camp in Athens, a meeting for that purpose having been called for Saturday next here. Those who enlisted for the service in the Spanish-American war and all who saw service in Cuba, the Philippines, in the Boxer uprising in China, in Guam, etc., will be eligible for the association of the foreign wars.

OCHRE PROPERTY SOLD IN BARTOW COUNTY

New Jersey Zinco Co. Invests $50,000 — Development Work Planned.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 3.—The New Jersey Zinc company, of New York city has purchased from a syndicate of local business men the property of the American Ochre company near Carterville, Bartow county, Georgia, according to announcement today. The property includes what is said to be valuable deposits of barytes. The deal involved $50,000.

The New Jersey Zinc company, it was said, already has engineers on the ground preparatory to development work in which between $20,000 and $30,000 will be spent. The barytes will be mined by the placer process. A powerful pump will be erected and a large hill containing barytes deposits washed away. The mineral will be shipped away for refinement.

Birmingham Autoists Plan an Inspection Of Forrest Highway

Rome, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The Birmingham Motor and Country club will send a delegation of fifty or more members in fifteen automobiles to Rome on Saturday, April 29.

The party will be headed by Richard W. Massey, president of the Forrest Highway association. Besides the social features, the gathering will be in the nature of an inspection of the Forrest highway between Birmingham and Rome.

The party will leave Birmingham Saturday morning, stop for lunch at Gadsden, and reach Rome about 6 p. m. They will be entertained here under the auspices of Rome Chamber of Commerce at a banquet and dance. Sunday a number of the party will continue their journey to Chattanooga over the Dixie highway.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER

Crashes Into Sour Bile, Making You Sick, and You Lose a Day's Work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today, you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

Resinol contains nothing of a harsh or injurious nature and can be used freely even on the most irritated surface. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap; trial free, Dept. 13-T, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

Cleanse the Blood Banish Rheumatism

Rheumatism Due to Bad Blood. S. S. S. Your Remedy

Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffering from Rheumatism, with whom pain was constant. Who believed that their vitality was sapped beyond repair. It was proven to them that the cause of their trouble was the blood; that Uric Acid, the most faithful ally of Rheumatism, had gripped them. The poison in the blood had sapped its strength. The weakened blood has allowed poison and impurities to accumulate, and all energy was gone. They felt "poorly," were listless, pain was ever present, with poor direstion and dyspepsia. They tried S. S. S.—nature's blood tonic. They gave up drugs. This compound of nature's remedies of roots and herbs did what drugs failed to do. It literally washed the blood free from poison, and with the flow of pure blood came back health, strength, vigor and happiness. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. Insist upon S. S. S. If yours is a long standing case, write for special advice to Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga., but begin taking S. S. S. at once.

THRIFT BUILDS UP WAR'S DESTRUCTION

United Kingdom Flooded With Leaflets Urging Everyone to Save All They Can—Countries Profit by Savings.

One of the beneficial results of the present European war has been the sobering of the people in the matter of money expenditures.

The world cannot witness such a frightful waste of life and property without doing some solid thinking. Nations cannot pay the enormous cost of keeping armies in the field without giving heed to the cost of war, where the money comes from and what will be the result to themselves.

The thrift of European nations has made possible the accumulation of vast hordes of gold, upon which they have drawn as the war progressed, and only because Europe has been saving for decades can she now spend at such a terrific rate. But even with all the vast resources, the time has come when governments have deemed it wise to caution the people against waste, and to encourage saving, as a matter of patriotism.

The Atlanta chapter of the American Institute of Banking has been most active in its campaign throughout Georgia to impress upon people the importance of saving—saving for a rainy day. Its activities have already been felt, and, taking heed of its counsel, many men and women throughout this section are today putting savings to their credit in banks who have never saved before.

England Affected.

In England the thrift movement has become so apparent that it has affected everything from the burning of gas in the bathroom to the pruning of salaries in parliament. It has been suggested that there be appointed a commissioner of thrift to make the work thorough, systematic and widespread.

The men in the trenches receive but twenty-four cents a day, and Britain argues that if they can sacrifice their all, why should not those at home and those higher up sacrifice something? All sorts of schemes have been suggested, from the taking over of the railways by the government, thus cutting down expenses, to the dismissal of servants in the household. But whatever the plan, the idea is to economize.

The British parliamentary war savings committee is flooding the United Kingdom with leaflets calling upon every one to help "buy victory and peace by investing in the war loan." Some of the points made as to why the nation should save and how to do it are as follows:

"Save for your country's sake, because it is now spending £3,000,000 a day, and must find most of the money out of the savings of its citizens.

"Save for your own sake, because while work and wages are good now, hard times may come after the war.

"Save so that we need buy as little as possible from abroad. We are buying from foreign countries £1,000,000 a day more than they are buying from us.

"Save, because whenever we import things that are not absolutely necessary, it becomes more difficult to import and pay for all the things that are absolutely necessary.

"Save, because the more we import from abroad, the more difficult it is to prevent gold leaving the country in payment. Save, then, because our store of gold is vital to our credit and to our financial power.

"Save, because by so doing you will help your country to give financial help to our allies who are less rich than we are.

"No saving is too small to count. If 45,000,000 people save an average of even half a crown a week, the total is huge—it means nearly £200,000,000 a year."

FINE NEW UNIFORMS FOR THE FORSYTH; USHERS ROLLED UP

Manager Hickman, of the Forsyth, catered to the demands of spring Monday, when his entire theater force "blossomed" out in new uniforms of brown, from the ticket-taker to the smallest usher in the place.

In charge of W. V. De Farley, all of the new uniformed ones promised the best attention and courtesy to patrons of the theater and guaranteed their promises on the strength of the uniforms.

WORK TO BE PUSHED ON CHATTOOGA ROADS

Lyerly, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—It is probable that Chattooga will begin the working of its roads with convicts this week, news having been received from Atlanta to the effect that the prison commissioner has allotted to this county its pro rata share of convicts, 18 in number. The arrangements are complete for the work, camps having been established near Lyerly on the Lyerly-Summerville road. Later in the spring the convicts will be changed to the Chattooga link of the Dixie highway and this work pushed to completion.

Wilmington Officials Cleared.

Wilmington, N. C., April 3.—Verdicts of not guilty were returned by a jury in superior court today in the cases of Mayor Moore, Councilmen W. F. Jones, W. J. Bradshaw and L. M. Bunting, former Councilman D. N. Chadwick and Street Superintendent John J. Fulong, charged with violating the election laws by unduly influencing voters at the polls.

JOINS COX COLLEGE

DR. E. C. JAMES.

It will be of interest to the many friends of higher education of woman to learn that Dr. E. C. James has accepted the deanship of Cox college, and that he will also share in the management of this institution.

Dr. James was educated at Richmond college, Harvard university, University of Leipzig and Sorbonne, Paris. He was president of Greenville Woman's college, Greenville, S. C., for ten years, and while in this institution he did a great work in the education of the young women of the south. Dr. James comes from Richmond college, Virginia, to this institution.

SALE OF OPERA SEATS OPENS WITH BIG RUSH

Crowds Block Street in Their Eagerness to Buy Single Tickets.

When the opera ticket seller of the Cable Piano company opened the wicket for the sale of single seat tickets for grand opera week at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, he was face to face with the longest line of would-be purchasers that ever waited before a box office in the musical history of Atlanta.

The line extended from the window down the sidewalk a block, and it grew as the day progressed, serving as one more indication that grand opera week promises to outdo any musical event ever presented in this or any other city of the southland.

The sale of season tickets was unusually great, but from all appearances there are just as many music lovers in Atlanta to whom some certain opera on the week's program especially appeals, who would avail themselves of a ticket for that one performance, as there were of those who desired to attend them all.

Managers of the leading hotels of the city declare the number of reservations for the week to have been phenomenal. At the Ansley it was said that applications daily are being turned back because the house is "sold out" for the week. They all agree that if the demands for accommodations continue as they have been coming in for weeks there will be "standing room only" in Atlanta by the time the great musical festival begins.

Other Cities Interested.

As an illustration of the way grand opera tickets are selling throughout the south outside of Atlanta this year, a check was received a couple of days ago from a lady in Huntsville, Ala., for over $400, requesting reservation for two whole boxes and some other season tickets. This is the largest individual order that has been received outside Atlanta, but it is not at all unusual for the mail to bring in checks of $100 and $200 from people who are coming from practically every town and city in the southeast to take advantage of grand opera.

OWNERS OF TRACKS LIABLE, SAYS JUDGE IN UNIQUE DECISION

A decision by Judge Reid, which went on record Monday, springs a new and interesting question.

H. M. Castleberry, of Alpharetta, Ga., brought suit against the Georgia railroad and the W. & A. railroad. He claimed that while walking along Central avenue, crossing a track of the Central railroad, he was struck by a train and his legs and back were injured.

He set up he did not know what train struck him, as it was a dark and rainy night; that he was on the Georgia railroad track, that the boundary line of the Georgia track ended and the W. & A. track began a few feet from the sidewalk, that so far as the tracks were concerned, it was one track, and the car was partly on one track and partly on the other. For these reasons he claims both roads were liable.

The defendants set forth that the roads could not be sued together under these circumstances, and also claimed as this was a terminal the rule of liability of the owner of the track did not apply. Judge Reid overruled all the demurrers and held that no matter who ran the train the owners of both tracks were liable. Mr. Castleberry was represented by Burton Smith as his attorney.

Flowers to Be Planted Along Dixie Highway Through Floyd County

Rome, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The Woman's club, of Rome, has taken up the work of beautifying the Dixie highway in Floyd county.

The club women have received a large shipment of flower seed from Congressman Gordon Lee, and the work is in charge of Mrs. T. E. Grafton, wife of the chief engineer of the highway.

Old-fashioned flowers will be planted at intervals along the route of the highway throughout the county.

HYDE GIVES UNIFORMS TO FEDERAL PRISONERS

Pursuing, in liberty, the same benevolent acts which characterized him when, for a year, he was an inmate of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, Frederick Hyde, California millionaire, has supplied the "Commodores," one of the baseball teams of the federal prison, with a complete outfit for the coming season.

Mr. Hyde left the prison a year ago, having served his term for connection with a land fraud scandal. While there he turned his imprisonment into an opportunity to do good for his fellow prisoners, and since his release, as his recent gift shows, has not forgotten those he left behind.

BATTLE FOR SMITH ESTATE IS BEGUN

Vast Array of Lawyers Representing Scattered Claimants to Fortune of Millionaire Farmer Appear in U. S. Court.

Augusta, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The legal battle for possession of the vast estate of the late Georgia millionaire, James M. Smith, of Smithonia, began in the United States court today before Judge Emory Speer. After a four-hour session court adjourned until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, when the case will be continued.

During the four hours the main bill in equity, being the injunction granted by Judge Speer to Callaway & Howard and others to restrain the ordinary of Oglethorpe county from appointing permanent administrators for the estate was read, followed by an answer from the main branch of the Zadock Smith faction, then by an answer and cross bill by the Josephine Humphries et al. heirs, then by a plea and answer by counsel for Frank P. Holder, one of the temporary receivers.

There are a large number of prominent lawyers here from different states representing the various contending factions. The Mrs. M. S. Jennings et al. faction—being heirs, who set up that James M. Smith was the son of Nancy Smith and born out of wedlock—are represented by P. Cooley, of Jeffersonville; Callaway & Howard, of Augusta; E. K. Lumpkin, John J. Strickland, Roy M. Strickland, T. F. Shackelford, S. C. Upson, H. S. West and E. K. Lumpkin, all of Athens.

Zadock Smith Faction.

The main faction of the Zadock Smith faction—being the Conders, who claim that James M. Smith was the son of Zadock Smith, and that only the heirs of Zadock Smith are entitled to share in the big estate—are represented by Judge Hamilton McWhorter, Cobb, Erwin & Rucker, Sibley & McWhorter, Horace M. Holden, all of Athens; ex-Governor E. F. Noel, of Mississippi, and Sam L. Olive, of Augusta.

Still another faction of claimants—known as the Josephine Humphries et al. faction, who claim that James M. Smith was the son of William and Lucinda Smith and no relation to any of the other claimants—are represented by J. R. Bedgood and J. S. James, of Atlanta; Judge U. V. Whipple, of Cordele.

W. H. McKenzie represents certain descendants of the William Smith faction who are not represented by Bedgood and James.

Judge Whipple stated that he had an intervention to offer, but it was not reached. There is still another set of alleged heirs, known as the Mississippi faction, who are a portion of the Zadock Smith litigants, being of the same family, but are not represented by the same attorneys who are representing the main branch of the Zadock Smith faction.

The Mississippi Heirs.

These Mississippi heirs were represented by two rival law firms, each of whom claimed that the other was not authorized to act in the premises. C. F. Rhodes, of Gadsden, Miss., appeared as the attorney for the Mississippi people, claiming that he had been given power of attorney, which had never been revoked.

On the other hand, John L. Tye, of Atlanta, and ex-Governor Noel, of Mississippi, set up that they were the only legal representatives of the Mississippi heirs, who are known as the Mrs. Ella Chisholm faction, and that Mr. Rhodes was not authorized to act in the capacity of attorney for them, stating that the power of attorney granted to Rhodes had been revoked in their favor. The court decided that he would not take up the point until it was reached in the hearing.

Confiscation Is Charged.

The sensation of the hearing developed when the answer and cross-bill by Mrs. Josephine Humphries et al., was read by counsel, J. R. Bedgood, of James & Bedgood, of Atlanta. It was charged in the answer that the temporary administrators of the estate—excepting Frank Holder—were confiscating the assets of the estate, especially the personal property, absolutely without authority. F. C. Shackelford read the plea and answer to the main bill of Frank P. Holder, one of the temporary receivers, who charged that a lack of harmony among the receivers has kept them from performing even the ordinary duties ascribed to them by law. Mr. Holder avers that temporary receivers are authorized to do nothing other than preserve the estate and turn same over to the permanent receivers; nevertheless, he charged that $20,000 worth of cotton seed has been sold by the receivers without his knowledge or consent, and that 150 head of stock had been advertised for sale, but that the actual sale had been prevented by the court's injunction. Mr. Holder averred that when notified of a meeting of the receivers, his presence was made only perfunctory, everything having been arranged beforehand, thereby depriving him of any voice in the affairs of the estate.

BRIGHT WEATHER PROMISED TODAY BY FORECASTER

Weather Observer C. F. von Herrmann promises Atlanta another perfect day today. It will be a little colder, perhaps, with temperature of probably about 50 and with just enough of a northwest wind to blow away any clouds that might threaten showers.

Says Rains Ahead.

His forecast for the week is as follows:

"Indications are that during the coming week temperatures will average near the normal throughout the eastern and southern states and west of the Rocky mountains, and somewhat below the normal over the northwestern states, the plains states, the upper Mississippi valley, and the lake region. No unusually low temperatures for the season, however, are probable in any section. Well distributed rains are probable during the week over the country east of the Rocky mountains. There will be rains at the beginning of the week over much of the country east of the Mississippi river, attending the eastward movement of a disturbance that now covers the lake region, the Mississippi valley and the southwest. Another disturbance is forming over the western plateau, and it will move slowly eastward, reaching the great central valley and plains states about Tuesday, and the eastern states about Thursday or Friday.

"This disturbance will be attended by unsettled weather and quite general rains east of the Rocky mountains."

ARKWRIGHT TO SPEAK TO T. & T. SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Telephone and Telegraph Society of Atlanta, to be held Tuesday evening in Chamber of Commerce hall will be addressed by Preston Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Power Company.

The occasion is one of unusual interest and it is expected that a majority of the one thousand members of the society will be present.

Mr. Arkwright will be introduced by Mr. W. T. Gentry, president of the southern group of the Bell system, and he will tell how the light, heat, power and transportation companies handle the problems which constantly confront them.

A short entertainment program will follow Mr. Arkwright's address.

Piedmont Theater Is Jammed At All Performances Monday

Atlanta's "movie fans" crowded the beautiful new Piedmont theater all five performances Monday afternoon and night.

At 1:30 o'clock, thirty minutes before the theater was scheduled to be opened, a big crowd of ticket buyers thronged the lobby of the movie picture house, seeking a place at the ticket seller's window. Long before the performance began the entire lower floor was practically filled, and shortly after the opening of the performance every seat in the house was filled.

The program opened with an overture by the orchestra, the prize song from "Die Meistersinger," followed by a news pictorial and a comedy cartoon picture.

D'Leir, the dexterous accordionist, who is the first of two vaudeville acts, comes next, and furnishes just as much entertainment as the famous Pietro, who has appeared in Atlanta a number of times.

Virginia Pearson is next starred as a recent Vitagraph release, in "The Hunted Woman," consisting of five reels which unravel a most gripping tale of romance.

Marjorie Tempest, a coloratura soprano and violinist, possessing a voice of unusual qualities, in a song and solo act, won a long round of applause from the audience in the next vaudeville act, which follows the headliner motion picture of the show.

After her act a George Klien comedy, featuring "The Adventures of Musty Suffers," closes the bill.

Monday's performance will be repeated Tuesday. Continuous performances will be held each day beginning at 2 o'clock and continuing through the evening.

The show will be changed each Wednesday and Friday, and a new show will be seen each Monday. The vaudeville artists will change their programs each time the pictures are changed, and new artists will be secured each week.

Gladys Hanson, in a feature film, "The Havoc," will be featured Wednesday and Thursday, and a new show will hold the boards on Friday and Saturday. TILLOU FORBES.

EVIDENCE GROWS AGAINST U-BOATS

Regarding Attacks on Unarmed Ships—As Result, Change Is Likely in President Wilson's Policy.

Washington, April 3.—Accumulation by the state department of circumstantial evidence indicating that the Sussex and other unarmed merchant ships have been attacked by German submarines probably will make necessary a change in the administration's plan for dealing with the broad questions of submarine warfare and the arming of merchant ships for defensive purposes. This became known tonight after the state department had announced the receipt of a dispatch which quoted one of the survivors of the Manchester Engineer disaster as saying that he had seen the periscope of a submarine.

Germany Promises Early Reply.

Other dispatches received during the day brought the information that a number of affidavits from survivors of the Sussex were being forwarded by Ambassador Sharp at Paris and that Ambassador Gerard at Berlin had been promised an early reply to his inquiries regarding the Sussex, the Englishman and other ships within a few days. It was indicated in the dispatch that the German government would not wait for submarine commanders to report, but would have inquiries made at submarine boxes.

The entire submarine question probably will be discussed at the meeting tomorrow of the cabinet, but no final decision as to action is expected, because all the evidence is not at hand.

Until a number of unarmed merchant ships recently were overtaken with disaster in the war zone the United States had planned to issue, for the benefit of the belligerent governments, a complete definition of its position regarding the arming of merchant ships for defensive purposes and the conduct of submarine warfare. The proposed declaration probably would have involved some changes in the regulations under which American port authorities undertake to examine the character of the armament on merchantmen entering American waters to determine whether it is defensive.

Statement to Be Withheld.

Secretary Lansing during a recent vacation at Pinehurst spent considerable time in arriving at conclusions on the subject which would be just and fair to all concerned and which no government successfully could challenge.

However, these conclusions were reached on the basis of the understanding which had been reached with the German government that there should be no attacks on unarmed merchant ships, particularly liners. Consequently the proposed statement probably will be withheld until the facts concerning the recent attacks are cleared up.

Another complication in the situation is found in the arrival at New York of a French merchantman armed with a rapid fire gun. Until this time Italy has been the only government which has insisted upon its right to arm merchant ships for defensive purposes.

MORTUARY

(All Funeral Notices Appear on Last Page.)

Mrs. Ella B. Green, Athens.

Athens, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Ella Bibb Green, widow of the late Thomas Fitzgerald Green, the only sister of the late Dr. Andrew A. Lipscomb, chancellor of the University of Georgia, mother of Colonel T. F. Green, of the law school faculty, and of Mr. Andrew Green, of this city, died at her home here early today. The funeral will be conducted Tuesday morning.

Milton D. Reid.

Milton D. Reid, aged 33, died Monday at a private hospital. He was a resident of Hemphill avenue and Hoke street. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Martha Reid; three brothers, S. A., V. M. and H. H. Reid, and four sisters, Misses Lucille and Louise Reid, Mrs. G. T. Tarllinger and Mrs. Alma Kent. The body was removed to Poole's.

Mrs. Kaneli Saliba.

Mrs. Kaneli Saliba, aged 65, a Syrian, died last night suddenly of acute indigestion at her home, 264½ Decatur street. She is survived by her two sons, George and T. E. Saliba. The body was removed to Bloomfield's chapel.

Willis Tate.

Willis Tate, aged 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tate, of Campbell county, died Monday morning at the home of his parents. The funeral will be held Tuesday. He is survived by his parents.

Mrs. M. A. Land, Trion, Ga.

Lyerly, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. M. A. Land, aged 80 years, died at her home in Trion after a short illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Land was the oldest resident of Trion and was well known over the entire section.

Wing Leon.

Wing Leon, aged 56, a Chinaman, died Monday afternoon at his rooms, 21 Peters street. The body was removed to Poole's.

SMITH LEADING FORD IN MICHIGAN PRIMARY

Detroit, April 3.—United States Senator William Alden Smith, of Grand Rapids was leading Henry Ford, of Detroit, by a small majority for the republican nomination in Michigan's first presidential preference primary, according to scattering reports received here late tonight. Ford, however, was polling a heavy vote in the lower peninsula and indications were that he would receive a majority over Senator Smith in Detroit.

E. O. Wood, of Flint, was leading William A. Comstock, of Alpena, for the nomination for democratic national committeeman. This was regarded as the most interesting fight of the primary, as Wood was backed by the administration forces, while Comstock received support from so-called "original Wilson men."

President Wilson was unopposed on the democratic ticket. The progressives had no candidate for president.

SEABOARD MUST PAY FOR KILLING BRAKEMAN

Washington, April 3.—The supreme court today affirmed a judgment of $800 awarded by North Carolina courts to the administrator of the estate of Bob Isaac Capehart, killed while employed as brakeman on the Seaboard Air Line.

The court decided that the "next of kin" in the federal employers' liability law was the next of kin under the state law where the suit arose and not the next of kin as defined by the common law.

Capehard was killed on a run from Lewiston, N. C., to Boykins, Va.

MAN IS SHOT TO DEATH IN M'DONALD TRAGEDY

J. S. Burns, in Shooting Jack Williams, Claims Self-Defense.

Douglas, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—On Sunday morning, at McDonald, Jack Williams, according to reports, advancing on J. S. Burns with an open knife and repeating the threat, "I have wanted to kill you for a long time," was instantly shot to death by the latter.

The shot entered below Williams' eye, broke his neck, and he fell with open knife at Burns' feet.

It is said that Williams, employed at the turpentine still of W. W. Stewart, had been discharged for drunkenness, and in some way C. E. Stewart, a brother, and Coffee county representative in the legislature, became involved in the difficulty.

During the encounter with Williams, Stewart's father-in-law, Burns, appeared on the scene for Stewart's protection, and Williams turned on Burns and the tragedy followed.

Burns is in jail. Self-defense and cold-blooded murder are the respective claims of Burns and the friends of the deceased.

SLAYDEN WILL SPEAK IN TAFT HALL TONIGHT

The closing number on the Alkahest Lyceum course at the Auditorium for this season will be a lecture tonight by James L. Slayden, congressman from Texas. Mr. Slayden has represented the San Antonio congressional district in congress for the past twenty years. His subject will be "The United States and Spanish America." A part of his lecture will be given up to a discussion of the present Mexican situation.

The lecture will be given in Taft hall, where the audience will have a better opportunity of hearing the speaker. Manager Weaver states he will have the audience room comfortable, and it is to be hoped that there will be a full attendance of the season ticket-holders. The lecture will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well-stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble while the treatment has been widely prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. Just ask for three-grain Cadomene tablets, begin their use and soon all the joy of a healthy body, sound nerves and strength will be felt.

REPORT MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry; Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water, and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

Jupiter Pluvius Wins Ball Game

Game in Macon Called Off When Weather Man Objects; No Contest in Montgomery

By Dick Jemison.

Macon, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The weather man cut in on the festivities this afternoon and the scheduled game between the Crackers and the Macon Tigers was called off.

It rained about a half an hour before game time and then drizzled off and on the rest of the afternoon.

Manager Frank did not want to take any chances with his pitchers, so he called the pastime off. There was but $3.50 in the park at that.

Weather permitting, the Crackers and Tigers will try it out Tuesday afternoon with Scott Perry facing Rube Zellars.

Infielder Marcan and Outfielder Osborn have not joined the club as yet. Manager Frank is not certain whether he ordered them to report here or in Atlanta Thursday. Outfielders Moran and Thrasher, who were permitted to go home Sunday, rejoined the club this morning.

Manager Frank today received a wire from the Montgomery management calling off the game that the Crackers had scheduled there Sunday. As this was the only gravy date that the Crackers had there, Manager Frank called off the other three games and is going to try to arrange games with some other team in Atlanta April 10, 11 and 12.

Lanier Hotel, Macon, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The Crackers brought some rain with them when they blew in here from Valdosta yesterday afternoon. It started raining shortly after we passed Cordele on the way up and it was this morning before it stopped. But the rain put the field in splendid shape for the game this afternoon.

The boys have nine connecting rooms at the hotel on the fourth floor, and they are like one big family. Roomies are lined up as follows: Lafitte and Wilson, Matthews and Jemison, Lennox and Robertson, McDonald and McMillan, Day and Moran, Gagnier and Munch, Gutierrez, Perry and Niederkorn. Thrasher will be roomed with Lil Marcan, who is expected on most any train.

The gang was kidding Scott Perry about his hitting until Scotty, becoming riled, offered to bet that he would hit as much as any of the pitchers. Finis Wilson bet him a new hat that he would outhit him a hundred points. Perry took the bet, much to the delight of every one.

The announcement that four games had been landed with the Montgomery Sally leaguers in Montgomery, starting next Sunday, met with the approval of the gang. Starting today, this gives them ten straight games, with one day's rest before the gong rings in Mobile Friday week. These games ought to whip the team into splendid shape.

The boys were having a little penny ante session the other night when Scott Perry caught threes. In betting his hands, Perry said "I bet threes" instead of saying I bet a nickel. There were three sitting in the game with two pair and Perry lost their nickel as the result.

Gutierrez is the butt of several jokes as the result of his eating ability. "How does the cooking in the States compare with that in Cuba?" Matty asked him. Joe shook his head and answered, "All I like is hot cakes."

Some of the boys found a pair of scales in Chapman's Pharmacy that were five pounds out of balance. Several of the boys were betting what they weighed, how much they had taken off and so on. They were led to the scales and bet coca-colas for the crowd. Perry, for instance, instead of weighing 183, tipped the beam at 188. It went along the line before some one got wise to it.

Macon has a wrestling match between Dr. Roller and Jack Leon scheduled for Friday night. Macon looks like a right progressive city, but how she can fall for this mat gag is beyond us. She needs a guardian when these fellows can slip them across like that. And Jack Law, the promoter. We gave Jack credit for being wiser than that.

Jake Munch, the Cracker's big first-sacker, is the champion pool shot of the club. They've all tackled him either at French or straight pool, and the big left-handed firstsacker, who shoots pool right-handed, by the way, has trimmed them all.

The Lanier dining room serves the meals in style, much to the disgust of the bunch. Imagine serving a bunch of hungry ball players in courses, dragging out a meal between thirty and forty minutes when they're used to eating all the rations a waiter can stagger under in about ten. They'll never get used to that and we've got two more days here, too.

Frank Robertson will have the title of doctor if he continues putting sore whips in shape as he has been doing lately. An osteopath spent a week on Eddie Lennox's arm in Valdosta and did not do it half as much good as Robbie did it in one night. The Norcross boy evidently knows something about this massaging stuff, for Lennox's arm is coming around splendidly now.

FRED FULTON SIGNED TO MEET THREE MEN

New York, April 3.—Official notice was received today by the state boxing commission that Fred Fulton, Minnesota heavyweight, had been signed to meet three men in this city. Fulton is to fight Al Reich April 28, Jim Coffey on or about June 1 and Frank Moran on or about July 1. A syndicate headed by John J. Mack is promoting the series with the expectation that it will result in a meeting between Fulton and Jess Willard later in the year.

According to the contracts filed with the commission Fulton is to receive $6,000 to fight Reich, $8,000 to fight Coffey and $10,000 to fight Moran. Whether the last two matches will be fought, it was stated by the commission, depends on Fulton's showing against Reich, and if the Minnesota boxer makes good the percentage will be arranged so as to give him about $50,000 for the three matches. Fulton's manager has posted $1,000 and the syndicate $2,000 with Tom Andrews, a western sporting writer, as guarantees.

G. M. C. Wins.

Milledgeville, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) G. M. C. defeated Keewatin academy, of St. Augustine, 11 to 2. This score doesn't mean that Keewatin hasn't a strong team. G. M. C. just played a wonderful game at the bat and in the pitcher's box, especially. Keewatin couldn't hit Winn. Mutt Rhodes got two home runs when runners were on bases. L. Thrasher got two three-baggers.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
Keewatin .....011 000 000—	2	5	2
G. M. C. .....101 360 01x—11	12	4

Batteries: Lenare, McCauley; Winn, Harper.

College Record for Pitcher.

Waxahachie, Texas, April 3.—Watson, a pitcher for Trinity university, established what is claimed to be a college record by striking out twenty-one Texas Christian university players in nine innings of a fourteen-inning game here today, which Texas Christian university won 4 to 3. Watson was credited with 26 strikeouts for the entire game.

Morehouse 16, Tuskegee 7.

In a slugging match the Morehouse Tigers met and completely routed the Tuskegee aggregation by the score of 16 to 7.

TED LEWIS WILL MEET JAKE ABEL IN CHATTANOOGA

Leo Lemonek, matchmaker for the Randolph Rose Athletic club, Chattanooga, Tenn., returned to Atlanta last night from Cincinnati, where he was called recently by a wire notifying him of his father's death, and announced that he had finished signing up a card which should prove one of the best in the history of boxing in the south.

The top-liners for the fistic entertainment, which is to be staged in Rose's club in Chattanooga on the night of April 19, are to be Ted Lewis, the New York sensational welterweight, and Jake Abel, of Chattanooga, well known to all southern and eastern fight fans as one of the toughest men in the game.

For the semi-windup of the entertainment, Kirk, of Pittsburg, will meet Battling Bud, of Atlanta, both men being widely known throughout the south as hard hitters and clever boxers. Others signed are Hooper vs. "Big Steve" and Terry Nelson, of Cincinnati, against Jim Minor, of Memphis.

CONGRATULATIONS

"Silent John" Hummell, the veteran utility man who was released by Brooklyn early this year, will pass his thirty-third milestone today. Although dismissed by the Dodgers, Hummell is not minus an occupation for 1916, for he has had numerous offers. John was born in Bloomsburg, Pa., and gained his minor league experience with Wilmington, Del., and Holyoke, Mass. He joined the Brooklyn club in 1905 and since then he has played every infield and outfield position. "Silent John" was mighty near an ideal utility man, and he could do everything well except pitch. He was at his best, perhaps, when covering first base, and he was always a good, consistent batter. His quiet, unemotional, impassive temperament which won for him the sobriquet of "Silent John," made him seem to be lacking in "pep" and aggressiveness, but he won the respect, if not the adulation, of all the fans and players.

BIG BILL HINCHMAN, 29 TODAY, DID COME BACK

"Big Bill" Hinchman, who pulled a come-back last annum and celebrated by hitting .307 for the Pirates, was born in Philadelphia twenty-nine years ago today, April 4, 1887. Bill's 1915 come-back was his fourth trip to the majors. He started his career with Ilion, in the New York State circuit, in 1903, and after a couple of seasons there was given a Cincinnati uniform. He didn't last very long with the Reds, and finished the 1905 season in Williamsport. In 1906 he was recalled by Cincinnati, but was soon swapped to Boston, which released him to the Columbus A. A. team. Bill batted .314 for Columbus in 1906, and at the end of the season he was sold to Cleveland. On his third appearance in the big show Hinchman got away with it, and for three seasons he was a regular outfielder of the Naps.

Hinchman's memory isn't treasured very highly by the Cleveland fans, for it was a bone of his that cost the Naps the pannant in 1908. In that year the club led by Field Marshal Napoleon Lajoie came within an ace of grabbing the flag, and many of the fans blame Big Bill for the failure. On the final day of the 1908 season the Naps had two games on with the St. Louis Browns. To win both of them meant that a gonfalon would wave from the Cleveland flagstaff. The Naps took one of the necessary pastimes, but lost t'other. There was a runner on third when Bill marched to bat. He touched the pill for a grounder over second. Hinchman was apparently so sure that it was a safe hit that he took his time in ambling to first, while the man on third was scooting for the plate. Ol' Bobby Wallace was on the job, however, and he made a wonderful stop of the ball and heaved it to first in time to get Bill by the fraction of a second. That was the third out, so the man who had crossed the plate didn't count, and the lost run cost the Naps the game and the flag. Of course, many of the fans wanted to slay Umpire Egan for deciding against Hinchman, but others insisted—and will continue to do so to their dying day—that if Bill had traveled at top speed he would have been safe by a wide margin. So it was that the only American league flag that Cleveland almost had went glimmering.

Hinchman was sent back to Columbus in 1910, and remained there five seasons, acting as manager the last two seasons. In 1914 Bill seemed to enter on a new lease of life, and led the American association in batting with an average of .366. That naturally attracted attention to Bill, and he was offered a berth with the Pirates last year. In the National league he hung up a swatting average of .307, being tied for third place in the standing of Tener circuit batsmen.

Locust Grove Wins.

Locust Grove, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Mercer scrubs lost to Locust Grove institute today 4 to 3. Rents, for Mercer, gave 5 hits and was opposed by Pitts, who allowed 5 safeties. Grey scored the winning run in the ninth. Umpire Combs.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Locust Grove 4	8	2
Mercer 3	6	2

Tuskegee vs. Morris Brown.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock Morris Brown will play Tuskegee on the Morris Brown university athletic field. Tuskegee is fighting hard to regain her former reputation, while the Morris Brown giants are almost invincible, and a good game is promised.

Atlanta fans will have an opportunity to watch the two best negro college teams in action when Howard university, from Washington, D. C., plays Morris Brown university Friday afternoon.

Thanks! Convention Bureau, Ask for Whatever You Want!

By Ned McIntosh.

The most cruel practical joke that can be played upon a newspaper man is to tantalize him with the suggestion of food.

The newspaper men of Atlanta have felt very kindly disposed toward the Atlanta convention bureau in the past, but "Cousin Fred" Houser almost spilled the beans last night.

Some days since the postman brought the scribes of Atlanta an invitation to be the guests of the convention bureau at a banquet last night over at Lee Barnes' tavern. There has not been so much excitement in the newspaper offices of Atlanta since the days of the riot as was occasioned by the receipt of this missive. For spontaniety of response the men of "Kaiser Bill" are pikers when compared with the unanimity with which the reporters, city editors and other members of the news staffs of the three Atlanta papers accepted that invitation.

Althought the banquet was not scheduled to start until 8 o'clock, when I arrived at the Majestic at 6:30 I found Rogers Winter, Jim Nevin and Estes Doremus already in line.

About 7 o'clock everybody was present but the hosts—who, probably being accustomed to food, did not show up until a few minutes after 8 o'clock.

A Cruel Disappointment.

The whole outfit was ushered into a room on the second floor, where a small table had been placed in the middle of the room. With much difficulty a small plate of sandwiches and a couple of bottles were discovered.

Mr. Nevin disappeared, and he has not yet denied the allegation that he went to a near-by restaurant. The fact that he is a man of rather high position on The Georgian would tend to support the contention that he could afford to buy a sandwich.

Just about the time that everybody was ready to raid the kitchen, Lee Barnes came rushing in and pulled a great stall about it all being a joke. He said that the sandwiches had been prepared "for the nurses," and that a fine banquet had been fixed "for the newspaper men down stairs."

But everybody knows that Lee Barnes is running for county commissioner.

Fred Houser and Colonel Paxon and Ivan Allen must have some sort of job fixed up when Lee Barnes gets elected, because they swore that he was telling the truth about it, but all the newspaper men knew that Lee Barnes just happened to think that he was running for office and wanted to square himself.

I don't mind saying that he almost did it, too.

The scribes were taken down to the big dining room, where they had real tables and chairs and waiters and things, and the convention bureau certainly did set food before us!

The dining room was decorated in flags and bunting and in the center was a big American eagle, like the one on the dollar, symbolic of Fred Houser's strategic relationship between Atlanta and her conventions.

Why Banquet Was Given.

Colonel Fred Paxon was the toastmaster and stated that the convention bureau had planned this banquet to show its appreciation of the co-operation which the newspapers had given the bureau in its three years of work, last night marking the beginning of the fourth year. It certainly showed appreciation, for it was by far the most delightful entertainment that the newspapermen have attended in a very long time.

Ivan Allen, first president of the bureau, and Fred Houser, secretary, told the newspaper men what really fine fellows they were.

Mr. Houser, however, digressed from the main topic of the evening long enough to state that in the three years the bureau has been in operation 300,000 visitors have spent $3,000,000 in Atlanta and to announce that there are so far ninety-six conventions scheduled for Atlanta in 1916, making Atlanta the fourth convention city in the United States.

There were a number of other addresses during the evening.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Sophie Tucker, sometimes billed as "The Queen of Ragtime," is with us no more. She departed last night after appearing at the matinee performance. She did not even wait to see how the night audience would like her.

Miss Tucker told her audience that she was suffering from a bad cold, and asked the indulgence of the spectators. Later she told the manager the same thing, emphasized it considerably, and declared she thought she would get along better under the care of a doctor in Chicago than she would singing to audiences in Atlanta. Mr. Hickman agreed with her, and now she is no longer the feature of the Forsyth bill.

Her performance at the first show was not up to what had been expected. It appeared to the audience that the singer and the orchestra had agreed to disagree. Anyway, she intimated that their work did not suit her. She was also peeved because an act that came earlier on the bill sang a song she wanted to sing. She said something about it to the audience. At the close of her number she sang a song about "America." Atlanta is very patriotic. There was loud applause.

Manager Hickman said last night that he was well satisfied with the other six numbers on his bill, and that he would stand pat.

Judging from the applause Monday, Al and Sylvia Gerard are due to be the hit of the bill this week. They worked under the disadvantage of having to appear in street costume—the train bearing their baggage having been delayed—and it took them some time to get their audience in the right spirit.

It was not, however, before everyone appeared "right with them" in everything they did. It didn't much matter whether it was a song, a dance or some chatter. They make a nice appearance on the stage, and with the advantage of costumes should do even better than on the first day.

One of the prettiest stage settings offered in Atlanta recently is provided for "A Night in the Park," in which Lillian Bruce and a quartet appear.

The act was popular. It has ever been so when a good quartet comes to this city. They are given capable aid by Miss Bruce. She could hardly be called pretty, but she has a good deal of magnetism, dances and sings well, and works hard all the time. If you are a fat man, it would be well to avoid the front row, for when Miss Bruce sings "Daddy," she picks out the most conspicuous object possible, then switches from him to a "plant" in a box. The feature may be embarrassing to said fat man, but the audience likes it.

"In the Orchard," a musical comedy offers a number of good looking girls, some fair songs, some comedy and some near comedy. It seemed to please.

The Imperial Marimba band opened with a clever performance on the mirambaphone. Lamaire and Gilbert, two blackface comedians, very fair. The bill closes with a well-trained animal act, "Rex's Comedy Circus."

ROBERT MORAN.

Emma Bunting.

(At the Lyric.)

Dainty and winsome little Emma Bunting, at the Lyric, last night cuddled and wormed herself into the hearts of her audience just as she did into the heart of "The Prince Chap."

In "The Prince Chap" Miss Bunting has made a happy selection of a vehicle to display her remarkable talent for juvenile parts. Her successful interpretation of the little orphaned waif of the London studios and her development into a charming girl standing upon the threshold of her life's romance left nothing to be desired.

George Whitaker, as William Peyton, "The Prince Chap," proved himself an excellent foil for Miss Bunting. Particularly was his work of a high character in the third act, when he realizes that his love for his former sweetheart had passed.

Eva Sargent (Alice Travers) handled her somewhat difficult part with skill and ability, as did Rollin T. Holden (Jack Rodney), both parts carefully balancing the cast.

The comedy work in the capable hands of Henry Sherwood and Margaret Ryan presented a clear conception of the pompous English butler and the London slavey. The rest of the bill handled their parts in a capable manner. "The Prince Chap" is well worth visiting.

"Blue Blood and Red."

(At the Strand.)

"Blue Blood and Red," the new William Fox release, seen at the Strand today, is full of novel ideas that make it jump. It is a gripping story written and directed by R. A. Walsh, in which his brother, George Walsh, and pretty Doris Pawn are stars. The story is about a millionaire's son who is dismissed from college and finally leaves home in a racing automobile with the family butler, who acts as his young master's valet. The action drifts to the wilds of Montana, where Algy starts his adventures by boxing for a much-needed hundred dollars with a coming heavyweight, whom he defeats. This is the beginning of a series of the most original adventures.

"The Net."

(At the Grand.)

Beautiful Marion Swayne is star of "The Net," appealing de luxe edition Mutual Masterpicture, which is the offering at the Grand for today only. The second story of "The Social Pirates" series will also be shown. For Wednesday the main offering will be "The Love Liar," another Mutual Masterpicture, depicting the loves of a muchly loved and rather unscrupulous violinist. The picture features the popular screen idol, Grace Wilbur. Comedies augment each day's program. There is special music by the Grand's symphony orchestra.

"The Heart of Paula."

(At the Georgian.)

Beautiful Lenore Ulrich, the graceful star of "Kilmeny," and one of the most distinguished artists on stage or screen, is presented at the Georgian theater today in her latest Pallas picture production, "The Heart of Paula," a burning story of distinctive power and human interest of the love of a Spanish maiden for an American adventurer. Miss Ulrich is supported by such noted stars as Velma Lefler, Jack Livingstone, Forrest Stanley, Howard Davies, Herbert Standing. The picture is being presented with specially adapted music.

MISSOURI MOOSE MEN ARE FOR ROOSEVELT

Kansas City, Mo., April 3.—Progressives of Missouri met in state convention here today elected forty delegates and alternates to the national convention of the party at Chicago and adopted resolutions favoring Theodore Roosevelt for president and declaring for nation-wire prohibition. The St. Louis delegation, through unit rule, cast its vote solidly against the prohibition platform.

ANTI-RACE TRACK BILL DEFEATED IN MARYLAND

Annapolis, Md., April 3.—All anti-race track legislation failed on this, the last night of the biennial session of the legislature, and the four big tracks in Maryland—Pimlico, Havre de Grace, Bowie and Laurel—can continue in operation for two years at least. The final fight was made tonight, and although the Frick amendment to the original bill was adopted by a vote of 15 to 8, the necessary two-thirds vote to suspend the rule was lacking and the bill could not be advanced to a third reading.

Douglas Wins.

Douglas, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Douglas Aggies walloped the second Aggies by the score of 6 to 3. Stewart for Douglas has everything and at no time was in danger, giving up only two hits and fanning twelve. Smith for the visitors showed touches of "stuff," but the onslaughts of the Douglas boys were too much for him.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
Second A. & M. ....010 001 010—	3	2	1
11th A. & M. .....130 100 100—	6	6	2

Lone "German Pirate" Son of English Father And of a German Mother

New York, April 3.—Clarence Reginald Hudson, alias Ernest Schiller, who single-handed took possession of the British freight steamship Matoppo, on the high seas, was committed to the psychopathic ward at Bellevue hospital tonight for observation. Hudson, who, United States Attorney Marshall earlier in the day announced, had not committed a breach of federal laws within this district, was taken in charge after his release by the federal authorities.

Hudson, with George Haller and Otto Milleder, arrested in connection with an alleged plot to damage the steamship Pannonnia, were questioned for two hours in the district attorney's office. Later Hudson was taken before a magistrate, who committed him to Bellevue for ten days.

District Attorney Swann said he had learned that Schiller was born in Petrograd, Russia, of an English father and a German mother. He was in the British army for a time, and for three months was at the military camp at Salisbury Plains. He came to New York in March, 1915, and had worked since in factories and on farms.

The police say they have learned that Hudson's parents and two sisters now are in England. His father, previous to the declaration of war, was manager of cotton mills in Moscow. According to information gathered by the police, Hudson was turned out of his father's home during a quarrel which arose when Hudson brought a tramp into the house while his father was entertaining a distinguished guest and insisted that the tramp should be treated the same as the guest.

THREE MOULTRIE MEN ARE SLAIN IN FIGHT

Coroner's Inquest Indicates Cause of Triple Tragedy Sunday Afternoon.

Moultrie, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—That W. M. Logan, the Moultrie merchant who was one of the principals in the triple tragedy that occurred here last night, planned to kill Cleve and Jack Calhoun because of their alleged attentions to a member of his family and then to take his own life and perhaps that of his wife was indicated by the evidence produced at the coroner's inquest held over the bodies of three victims this afternoon.

The theory that Logan meant to kill his wife, too, was apparently borne out by the note found on his dead body giving instructions as to the disposition of his two small sons, also by certain statements made recently by the merchant to his intimate friends. The note was brief and the only other thing it made mention of was a request that his body be buried clothed as it was when it should be found.

The verdict of the jury inquiring into the pistol battle which was staged in a small feed room on the outskirts of town was that Cleve and Jack Calhoun came to their deaths at the hands of Logan and that the latter died from a wound inflicted by Cleve Calhoun. The three men had spent the greater portion of the day together, but the fact that they were not friends was known to all of them. After the rain had driven them into the little barn, according to E. L. Evans, the only witness, Cleve Calhoun and Logan continuously watched each other. When the whisky was passed around neither of them drank much. Out doors rain was falling in blinding sheets, but Jack Calhoun, evidently growing suspicious, suggested to his brother that they go home. They arose and started, then without warning, Logan opened fire shooting five times, mortally wounding the two brothers. After being shot through and through twice, Cleve Calhoun brought his pistol into play, killing Logan almost instantly.

DRYDEN IS RE-ELECTED ELBERTON SCHOOL HEAD

Elberton, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The city board of education today re-elected Professor Charles E. Dryden unanimously as superintendent of the schools, and will elect teachers tomorrow week.

Under Professor Dryden's management the schools have reached the highest state of efficiency, and according to Professor Stewart, show a remarkably high percentage of pupils entering the tenth and eleventh grades. The school justly ranks among the best in the state.

ROCKMART LADY COMMITS SUICIDE

Rockmart, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Plascie Cochran, widow of W. R. Cochran, who several years ago ended his own life, committed suicide here last night.

She had been in bad health for the past few months. Her father, Newton Cochran, was one of the leading citizens of Rockmart for many years. She is survived by one daughter, Mary Lee, ten years old.

FEW SOCIETY WINS MID-TERM DEBATE

Emory University, Oxford, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The decision in the midterm debate, Saturday night, between Phi Gamma and Few Literary societies, of the school of liberal arts of Emory university, was won by Few society.

The speakers for Few were Walter C. Stephenson, of Covington; W. E. Pafford, of Milltown, and A. W. Murray, of Bronwood. Excellent speeches were also delivered by the representatives of Phi Gamma, Cook Smith, of Dublin; Paul Harley, of Waycross, and Reid DeJarnette, of Eatonton.

The subject debated was: Resolved, That in municipalities of twenty-five thousand or more inhabitants the street railways and electric light plants should be municipally owned and operated. The judges were Professors G. P. Shingler, J. G. Stipe and Wilson Gee. Dr. W. F. Melton presided. Music was furnished by Messrs. T. F. Waller, Keller Melton and George Hugh Boyd.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, April 3.—(Special.)—On a lower Liverpool market than expected and further rains in Texas the prices this morning declined some 6 points and thereafter advanced. Dispatches in New Orleans reporting a decline in freight rates to Liverpool, which might lead to an increasing demand for cotton for export. The local traders are in favor of the cotton market on the present basis of values, as they do not see any pressure to sell from any source excepting under the influence of fine prospects for the growing crop. Looking forward, as they do to the time when the war will terminate, they are disposed to buy whenever the market recedes, believing the present surplus will be carried over into the next crop unless a large yield is in view.

HUBBARD BROS & CO.

New York, April 3.—(Special.)—The cotton market finished the day 7 to 8 points higher than Saturday. The principal reason being cheaper freight rates to Europe. Speculation was very small, however, and the bears prefer to wait for spot markets rather than to force issues. The amount of cotton brought into sight last week and the week before shows a record-breaker excepting last year for the last week of March, and it is this volume of movement which the bulls use as their cardinal argument. So long as the movement continues on its present scale, unless it is met by mill-takings, also of record proportions, we may expect the visible supply to gradually work to bearish proportions unless Europe finds some method of increasing her exports materially. It will require more evidence of exports than is furnished by cheaper freight rates alone to insure healthy exports to Europe, for, in fact, the insurance and exchange and tare make quite a substantial premium in themselves if the freight were normal. The weight on the market, if there is to be a weight, must come from spots. We think that weight is close at hand, as we feel the volume into sight exceeds the buying power in prospect.

RENSKORF, LYON & CO.

New York, April 3.—(Special.)—A slight decline in the early session today encouraged locals to sell short, but later in the day the market steadied and closed strong, influenced by freight rates to Liverpool being quoted at 2.50. The continued steadiness of the spot situation and buying had the appearance of spinners' purchases. We continue to believe that the next move of importance in the cotton market will be upward.

JOHNSTON, STORM & CO.

New York, April 3.—(Special.)—General rain throughout the cotton belt, especially in the southwest, over the week-end induced selling at the opening of the local market today under which prices declined nearly 16 points. While the selling was quite heavy, the trade appeared as a buyer at the lower level and absorbed the offerings before the decline had gone very far. Sentiment continues bearish because of the belief that the south will plant a large acreage, but, notwithstanding this attitude on the part of local interests, the market retains a firm undertone owing to the persistent demand for the actual cotton.

JAY, BOND & CO.

New York, April 3.—(Special.)—Weekend rains were reflected in a lower cotton market at the opening today. Cables were also weak, probably a result of the easier tendency of freight rates. The decline did not hold, however, as shorts covered when no following of importance was attracted. Some time ago mills were active buyers in this market calling contracts to fill needs and a fair-sized advance was recorded in futures. As soon as this demand was satisfied a lull set in, which to recently remained inappreciably disturbed and values presented an easier tendency. We now hear of purchases being made for trade account, and the market in consequence exhibits a steady tone.

New York, April 3.—Relatively easy cables and a favorable view of weather conditions caused an opening decline in the cotton market, but prices soon rallied, with July contracts selling up from 11.86 to 12.01 and closing at 12 cents. The general list closed steady at a net advance of 3 to 9 points for the day.

There was a renewal of the scattered selling movement which developed here on Saturday at the opening. The cables were several points lower than due, while the weather map showed that there had been good rains in the southwest passing eastward over the central and eastern belts. It was considered that the Texas drouth had been pretty well broken, while the rains to the eastward were regarded as favorable, and after opening 4 to 6 points lower, active months sold about 7 to 8 points under Saturday's closing figures during the first few minutes.

The opening here was better than due on the cables, and Liverpool sold new crop months at the narrowed difference, but the offerings were well absorbed, and the market quickly steadied on trade buying of old crop months. It seemed that the absence of southern hedge selling, or other indications of spot pressure, was a disappointment to some of Saturday's scattered sellers, and covering became somewhat of a factor as prices worked higher. General business continued very quiet, but the market showed a very good undertone, with May selling up from 11.77 to 11.90, October from 11.93 to 12.09 and December from 12.10 to 12.26, or about 6 to 9 points net higher. The close was within 2 or 3 points of the best.

There was a feeling in certain circles that the decline in Liverpool had been partly due to easier freight rates and sentiment from the ring seemed to be pretty well divided. Trade buying was supposed to be partly against sales of spots to eastern spinners.

Spot cotton steady; middling uplands 12.00; sales 1,917 bales.

New Orleans Rises 6 to 8 Points.

New Orleans, La., April 3.—After a period of easiness in the early trading today, the cotton market steadied, gradually recovered its loss and finally went to a net rise. Late in the session after the posting of spot revisions, which reduced the premium on the higher grades, but left middling unchanged at 11.88, the highest levels were reached. Here the trading months stood at a net gain of 9 to 11 points, as compared with a net loss of 6 to 10 points at the lowest levels of the day. From the lowest to the highest there was a rise of 15 to 20 points on the most active months. The close was at a net gain of 6 to 8 points.

The initial decline was brought about by free selling, based on poor cables and reports of rain in Texas, which bearishly inclined traders thought marked the complete breaking up of drought conditions in the extreme western belt. Political conditions also caused unfavorable comment. Many professionals were inclined to think the market oversold, and they took the long side for a turn. Their purchases had an immediate and stimulating effect on values.

SECURITIES SHOW UPWARD TENDENCY

Specialties, Coppers, Sugars, Marine and Industrial Alcohol Make Notable Rises—Rail Shares Exhibit Weakness.

New York, April 3.—Stocks opened the week with a wide variety of gains that embraced almost every part of the list except the more potential investment issues. Rails were barely steady and occasionally heavy, New York Central suffering another temporary setback. Trading was of the same desultory character as that which attended the major operations of the preceding month. A further lack of public interest was noted, but this was partly counterbalanced by greater activity in well known specialties, such as Crucible Steel and American Locomotive in the war group, the motors, sugars and distilling issues. Shares of the silver producing companies also loomed into prominence on the continued advance in that metal, which rose to 63¾ cents an ounce, its maximum price since the outbreak of the war.

Kennecott and Miami operators were elevated to record quotations at 59 and 39⅛ respectively, south Porto Rico soared to new heights on its advance of 9½ to 219½ and Jewell Tea was similarly distinguished, rising 5½ to 90.

U. S. Industrial Alcohol w[illegible] in the forefront throughout the session, making an extreme gain of 9½ to 165 in connection with unconfirmed reports of approaching "melon cutting." Stocks of no especial designation followed the movement of specialties with gains of 1 to 3 points. Mexicans were slightly depressed at the outset, but moved upward later.

United States Steel was inconspicuous during the forenoon, but enlivened the later session on its large overturn, including one lot of 3,500 shares. The stock rose 1¼ to 85⅞, and infused general strength to the list at the close. Shipping shares, especially United Fruit and Marine preferred were in demand at appreciable gains.

Moderate unsettlement was shown by the foreign exchange markets, sterling, franc, marks, lires and kronen (Austrian bills), weakening irregularly with slight improvement in Dutch and Scandinavian remittance. Regardless of this development Angl[illegible]h 5's sold up to 96, the best quotation of the current year. Total sales of bonds, par value, were $4,260,000.

United States registered 3's declined ½, the coupon 3's, ¾, and the registered 4's, ¼ on call. Coupon 4's rose ⅛.

CHICAGO STAPLES CONTINUE UPSWING

Crop Damage and World-Wide Grab Boosts Wheat. Other Grains and Provisions Continue Advance in Sympathy.

Chicago, April 3.—Wheat ran up 5c a bushel in value today, chiefly because of predictions that the domestic winter crop this season would be 165,000,000 bushels less than the yield in 1915. The market closed strong, 4⅛ to 4⅞c net higher, with May at 1.20¼ and July at 1.19⅜. Corn gained ⅝@¾ to 1c, and oats ⅛ to 1⅛c. In provisions the outcome varied from the same as Saturday's finish to 10 higher.

Broad activity as well as a big upward swing to prices kept traders on edge all day in the wheat pit. Despite liberal profit-taking reactions were at no time long-continued or of any great extent. Right from the start the main incentive to buyers was a statement from a leading export house estimating the winter crop in the United States as the lowest for any corresponding time since 1904—78.8 per cent, against 88.5 per cent a year ago. On this basis, the probable maximum yield for 1916 was put at 490,000,000 bushels, compared with 655,000,000 bushels in 1915. Aside from this statement, dispatches were at hand telling of crop damage in nearly all parts of the winter wheat belt, and laying especial stress on the need of rain in Kansas and Nebraska.

Foreigners took hold freely in the future delivery of wheat and besides purchasing 750,000 bushels for immediate export. In this connection, decided sugnificance was attached to word that reserves of wheat in Holland were exhausted and that the Dutch government had decided to obtain in America 100,000 tons over and above the ordinary monthly quota. Today's top figures showed that in a week the market had made an extreme gain of 13⅝ cents a bushel.

Corn strength was derived mainly from wheat. The bulls, however, pointed out also that receipts were small, the visibly supply falling off, and that large sales of corn were being made at Kansas City to go to Baltimore.

Oats were bullishly affected by reports of delay to seeding in some sections. In addition there were advices of a probable big decrease of acreage in Canada.

Provisions advanced in sympathy with grain and hogs. During the late transactions, though, realising sales by holders wiped out most of the gains.

Sugar.

New York, April 3.—The sugar market was quiet in all departments today. In raws no sales were reported, but the undertone was steady, and while there may have been supplies available at 4 15-16c cost and freight, holders generally were asking 5c, but refiners were again indifferent and inclined to await developments. The offerings of Porto Ricos were again at slight concessions, and these later oferings may have been the reason for the waiting attitude of refiners. In the absence of business, spot prices were nominally unchanged at 5.96 for centrifugal, 5.19 for molasses and 4 15-16 for Cubas cost and freight.

In refined there were good withdrawals on old contract, but new business was light, and no further sales were reported for export. Prices were firmly held at 7.00 to 7.10 for fine granulated.

In futures the undertone was steady, but the volume of business was not large, and operators seemed to be awaiting fresh developments in the spot cotton. There was some scattered buying by trade interests and short. Closing prices were 2 to 9 points net higher for the active positions.

Sales, 2,450.

Coffee.

New York, April 3.—The market for coffee futures was very quiet today, with prices holding steady in sympathy with the steady ruling of the Brazilian markets. There was no business whatever at the opening, and first prices were unchanged, but a few small buying orders seemed to be reaching the ring later in the day, with July selling up to 8.25 and December to 8.45, or about 2 points net higher. The close was net unchanged to 2 points higher. Sales, 7,250.

Spot, quiet; Rio 7s, 9⅝; Santos 4s, 10¼. Cost and freight market was reported unchanged to a shade higher, with offers ranging from about 10.35 to 10.55 for Santos 4s on the basis of English credits.

The official cables reported no change in the Brazilian markets. Santos cleared 13,000 bags for New Orleans. Brazilian port receipts, 18,000; Jundiahy 6,000. The weekly cable showed that Brazil had cleared 98,000 bags for the United States and 186,000 bags for Europe last week. Freight rates from Brazil were officially quoted at $2 per bag and 5 per cent primage, although it is reported that room has recently been booked on some steamers at lower figures.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, April 3.—An early sharp advance in cotton seed oil due to covering by nervouse May shorts and the strength in lard, was completely lost before the close under profit taking sales and lack of fresh outside support. Final prices were 4 points higher for October and unchanged to 6 net lower for the balance. Sales, 16,500 barrels.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES

From Day to Day

Building news featured Monday's development in the real estate and building field.

A number of small dwelling house permits were taken, and the city of Atlanta took permits to build several bath houses at various lakes in city parks.

Bath House Permits.

Permits were issued at the city building inspector's office for the erection of a bath house at the new lake in Maddox Park, fifth ward, to cost $1,000, and for the construction of a bath house, costing $1,200, in Moseley Park, West End.

A permit was also taken to add another unit to the bath house at Piedmont Park Lake, costing nearly $1,000.

Residence Permits.

J. E. DeMars took a permit to build a one-story brick veneer, six-room bungalow on Rogers avenue, near the intersection of Cascade avenue, costing $3,500.

Another permit for $1,500 was issued for the erection of a small frame dwelling on Woodbine avenue, near the intersection of Whiteford avenue.

S. R. Crawford, the builder, who has just recently completed building four residences on Highland avenue, will soon begin the erection of eight more. The houses will cost about $1,500 each, and the W. L. & John O. DuPree agency have been put in charge of renting them.

NEW LOCATION WANTED FOR TRAINING SCHOOL

Change Decided on Monday at Meeting of Seventh Day Adventists.

Seventh Day Adventists yesterday voted to remove their denominational training school from Graysville, Tenn., to another location to be found by the committee in charge of the matter.

This action carried with it changing of the present academy into a junior college to be known as the Southern Junior Training college. This will involve something like an expenditure of $80,000, and will provide buildings and equipment for a strong school carrying fourteen grades.

This action was taken at a joint session of delegates from the Southern as well as from the Southeastern Union conference, and it is the plan of these two divisions to have a strong school to serve for all the southern states east of the Mississippi and to include Louisiana.

In the report of the Sabbath schools for this division statistics showed that in the Southeastern union they have gained 98 per cent in the last eight years, and in donations there was a much more remarkable gain, for the percentage of gain in mission funds raised for 1915 over 1907 was 660 per cent.

MAJOR R. W. HUNTER DIES IN WASHINGTON

Washington, April 3.—Major Robert W. Hunter, prominent confederate veteran, lawyer and journalist, died here early today after a short illness. He was born at Martinsburg, Va., and was in his seventy-ninth year.

Major Hunter was with Stonewall Jackson at Manassas, was promoted for gallantry at Gettysburg and fought on nearly every battlefield in Virginia during the civil war. After the Appomattox surrender, at which he was chief of staff of the Gordon corps, Major Hunter practiced law at Winchester, Va., and edited and published The Winchester Times.

44 FEDERAL PRISONERS HEADED FOR ATLANTA

Philadelphia, Pa., April 3.—Forty-four federal prisoners were taken from the eastern penitentiary and the county prison here today and started in a special car for the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. Two deputy marshals and twenty guards had charge of the convicts, among whom was Frank Marrin, alias "Judge Franklin Stone," one of the principals in the Storey cotton swindle.

AMERICAN RED CROSS GIVES AUGUSTA $2,000

Washington, April 3.—The American Red Cross announced today that it had sent a contribution of $2,000 for relief of fire sufferers at Augusta, Ga.

Director Bicknell gave out a telegram he had received from Mayor Littleton, of Augusta, saying that while the city was pushed for funds, strenuous efforts were being made to take care of the situation locally. The Red Cross contribution was thankfully received, however, Mayor Littleton added.

ANOTHER BUNGALOW FREE (?)

HERE'S THE PROPOSITION—Figure it out, think it over. It's a brand-new, thoroughly modern 5-room and sleeping porch bungalow at Decatur; one block north of Decatur car at Greenwood Station; make a small cash payment, give me sixty 7 per cent $20 notes. They will average, interest and principal, about $24 each, just what the place will rent for. When you have paid this rent (?) five years, I will give you a warranty deed to it. All you will have to pay in addition to the above will be 7 per cent simple interest every six months on a $1,100 loan—you would have to pay the $24 for rent anyway. You will owe at the end of five years $1,100 principal and no interest. This can be extended—if you like—and you can take a rest, or it can be arranged in monthly payments, and in three or four years your rent will pay this and your home will have cost you nothing. Price, $2,750. I sold this same bungalow on a cheaper lot in 1914 for $3,500. Am building three—two already sold. P. B. Hopkins, Empire building.

Palmer "Out" Again And Says He Intends To Shun Evil Paths

Turns Preacher and Invites Reporters to Come to Sanctified Church and Watch Congregation Do the "Holy Hug."

Wearing a preacher's frock and holding a small testament in his hand, Palmer Peas, the famous negro criminal, who has had much newspaper publicity, visited The Constitution's reportorial rooms last night.

"I jest wanted to tell you boys who is all de time er 'ritin' about me dat I'se free agin. Got out ob de tower de odder day, and am on my way to Woolp Hill to preach to the sanctified church," said Palmer.

"Yes, Lord, you oughter see dem niggers do de 'holy hug' Sunday night across dar in Pittsburg at de Sanctified church when I begins to preach to dem. Dem niggers grab one anudder and show do hug, but it iz de 'holy hug' and no harm done."

Palmer Peas for many terms has been chief magistrate of the kitchen at the Fulton county jail. He has served jail sentences for all kinds of crimes, but never fails to wear his jovial smile through all his hard luck. One time he served a long sentence for selling to south Georgia negroes in a country district round-trip tickets to heaven, telling the negroes that he made the round-trip price to them at the small sum of $2, and if they didn't like heavenly joys as well as earthly joys they could return.

Palmer says he is out this time for good.

"I ain't never going ter git in jail no more," said Palmer, as he held his book high above his head and struck off a solemn attitude, denoting that he had ended his jail career.

"Naw, sir, de sunshine and de singing ob de birds is too sweet for me ter git in jail no more. I'se going ter marry and settle down on er little farm somewhere way back in de woods."

CONSTITUTION WANT A JOB? WANT HELP?

Innocence Declared By Victor Innes

quired the time of Detective Starnes, who sat beside him.

He went without handcuffs from Birmingham to Atlanta, but as the train rolled into the Terminal station, they were locked to his wrists. He threw a light raincoat over his hands to conceal the manacles. His wife went uncuffed, holding timidly to the arm of Policeman Heard.

When I boarded the train at Anniston I hurried through the Pullman cars, but failing to find the prison party, had nearly concluded that I had caught the wrong train, when a trip was made through the day coaches. Mrs. Innes sat near the front of the car beside Policeman Heard.

INNES IN DAY COACH.

Further down in the middle of the coach sat Detective Starnes with Innes. I spoke to Starnes and he answered my greeting cordially. He introduced Innes, but did not call his name. I extended my hand, saying, "How are you?"

The prisoner did not raise his hand to acknowledge the introduction, but said:

"Savve Espanol?"

"He is a Mexican," ventured the detective.

"Savve Espanol?" the man again asked.

"Na aya en la casa," I replied, meaning "nobody in the house," my attempt being to convey that when it came to Spanish there was "nobody home."

He recognized the slang expression, smiled, saw that the guise was unnecessary toward a newspaper man, raised his arm and shook hands.

It was dinner time, so the party went into the diner for a beefsteak supper.

"We had better make the best of it, dear," said the husband to his wife as he looked over the bill of fare, "for this will be our last big meal in a long time."

At first the man was grave and reticent, Mrs. Innes doing most of the talking, and her words inspired largely by the subject of her children. This was brought up by the photograph of them that was recently published in The Constitution, which she wants to see. She has not seen them since she and their father were arrested in Oregon.

"I don't know what I wouldn't give to hug them just once right now," she said.

ACQUAINTED WITH ATLANTANS.

Innes showed a surprising acquaintance with Atlanta and Fulton county affairs. He was amazingly well versed in county politics and freely used some of the names of Atlanta's most influential legal and business figures. This knowledge, he said, had been gained through Atlanta newspapers.

He was taciturn regarding the larceny after trust charges he and Mrs. Innes are to face. He said, however, that a statement would doubtless be given to the public by his attorney, Judge Ward, who, according to Innes, will conduct the defense. Judge Ward is the San Antonio attorney who has represented the prisoners through their fight against extradition waged for two years in all the state courts of Texas and even in the United States supreme court.

"I am a lawyer, and you have seen enough of legal affairs to know that it is injurious for a client to discuss his case," he said. "Such matters should be left wholly in the hands of counsel.

"And, furthermore, I am opposed to trying a criminal case in the newspapers. In this connection newspapers can work irreparable harm. The press can control public sentiment, and nowadays there is too great a tendency to prejudge.

"Bias and prejudice should, above all things, be withheld from the courtroom. Let the courts take their due and unhampered course. I feel the confidence of innocence, which is, itself, the heart of victory, and I have all the dependence in the courts."

"KNOW NOTHING."

"What do you know about the disapperance of the Nelms sisters?" was put to him.

"I know nothing except what I have read. I did not know they had disappeared until I saw it in the papers."

"What about the telegram evidence to the contrary; the taxi driver who says he carried you to the station to meet them in June, 1914, and the bungalow in San Antonio?"

"Please let me ask you to wait and talk to my attorney about those things. It is going into the case, and I do not want to do that."

Innes showed a keen interest in the Leo Frank case as given him by a detective and newspaper man who had worked on it throughout. Starnes was one of the prosecutors in the famous trial. Especially was he concerned over recitals of mob incidents subsequent to the commutation.

KNOWS PENALTY OF ERRORS.

He has kept in close touch with the European war through the newspapers. He was approachable on any subject but his trial.

"I would, perhaps, discuss it with you," he explained, "were it not that I am a lawyer. A lawyer, I know the penalty of such errors."

At one time Innes was assistant district attorney of Carson City, Nevada. He is a widely traveled man, fond of California, and familiar with virtually all interesting spots and institutions of the state.

Mrs. Innes, too, is partial to California. She and her husband prior to their arrest had spent most of their latter days traveling.

Anxious to keep their route secret from the public, Detective Starnes had taken elaborate pains to spirit the couple away from San Antonio. At 6 o'clock Saturday morning they were whisked away from the jail in a taxicab and sped to New Braunsfel, Texas, a small station 20 miles from San Antonio, where they caught the "Sunshine Limited" for Memphis.

To mislead newspaper men, the trunks were left behind to follow on the next train. So that reporters would not know of his presence, Starnes remained in his room at the St. Anthony hotel practically all the time he was in San Antonio, even sending for a ticket agent to come to him to arrange transportation, rather than going for it at the ticket office.

REPORTERS PASS BY.

"I was afraid the newspaper men—they are a live lot out in San Antonio—would fool us," said Mrs. Innes. Then she recalled how her heart had got up into her throat in Birmingham, when the reporters, never suspecting that the couple would be in a day coach, had passed by them, followed by a crowd of curiosity seekers.

Mrs. Innes was unstrung when the flashlight battery boomed away at her unexpectedly at the Fulton jail. The camera men had erected their machines inside the office of the Tower at a spot facting the desk at which the couple would have to give the jailer their names and submit to a search. They had hardly entered the place than there came two blinding flashes.

Innes threw his raincoat to his face. Mrs. Innes threw up her hands, trying to hide her features. She wheeled around. Seeing that the photographers were preparing for another flash, she staggered to a chair behind them and collapsed into it. Her words trembled as she bade goodby to Detective Starnes and Policeman Heard. Innes, too, was shaky.

Ironic humor was added to the scene when Starnes introduced Innes to Sheriff Mangum:

"This is the man who will play host," said the detective.

"Well, I hope," replied the new prisoner, "that he'll like me as much as a guest as I hope to like him as a host."

History of Case.

In all probability the Inneses will not be put on trial until the May term of court, the present session having taken recess. The trial promises to be one of the most spectacular in Georgia.

For months the attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Innes have been preparing the defense. It will be a relentless fight. Anticipating the formidable defense, the prosecution has enlisted the aid of Reuben Arnold, who first served in the Nelms case as personal adviser to the mother, Mrs. John W. Nelms, at the time of the girls' disappearance.

There are nine indictments against the man and woman, each charging larceny after trust. Prosecution in Georgia was resorted to after the murder charge in Texas had failed on account of the state's inability to produce identifiable portions of the corpses. Whether dead or alive, it has never been learned what happened to the Nelms sisters.

The warrants were dismissed, but the prisoners held on the Georgia indictments. These had been obtained at the instigation of Marshall Nelms, the brother, who, when he saw the possibility of failure in the Texas courts, hurried to Atlanta to present his case to the Fulton grand jury.

Posed as Lover, It Is Said.

It was testified to before the grand jury that Innes, in the guise of her lover, had swindled Mrs. Elois Dennis, the eldest sister, out of sums aggregating in the neighborhood of $14,000, purporting to be investing the money entrusted him in Mexican oil and mineral interests.

Mrs. Dennis was a divorcee, Innes at the time practicing law in Nevada, obtaining her decree in Reno in 1913, from Walter Dennis, an Atlantan. A love affair is said to have developed between them, and it is charged by the prosecution that it was to accept the man's false proposal of marriage that Mrs. Dennis left on the fatal trip from which she has never returned.

Her sister, Beatrice, it is charged, accompanied her to obtain from Innes a cash or documentary settlement of the funds with which he, it is alleged, had been entrusted. Beatrice Nelms was a business woman, one of the managers of the Nelms affairs and bearing the reputation of one of the city's most competent women of affairs.

She was but a little over 20. Mrs. Dennis was 25.

The Inneses have been in prison since the latter part of September, 1914. They were arrested in Eugene, Ore., after detectives had scoured Portland for them. They had retired to Innes' farm in Eugene. Their long confinement in Texas instead of Georgia, where they were due for prosecution, was caused by the fight their counsel waged to prevent extradition. This fight was carried into all available state courts of Texas and then into the United States supreme court, the defendants losing in each instance.

Appealed to Governor.

When the United States court declined their plea the Inneses resorted to the desperate recourse of appealing to the governor of Texas to stop extradition because of fear of mob violence. Letters purporting to be from residents of Cobb county, the birthplace of the Nelms sisters, and threatening lynching when the suspects reached Georgia soil, were submitted together with newspaper stories bearing on Georgia lynchings.

Governor Ferguson communicated with Governor Harris, of Georgia, and, receiving the latter's assurance that no mob violence need be feared, turned down the final plea of the prisoners. And thus ended one of the southwest's most hard-fought extradition contests.

Mrs. Innes is charged with complicity in the alleged swindle. The mother, Mrs. Nelms, accuses her of having posed as an aunt of Innes, the latter of whom, it is charged, posed before Mrs. Dennis, as an unmarried man. It is likewise charged that the Inneses once maintained an Atlanta residence in their allegedly fraudulent operations.

Telegrams and other data are held by the prosecution to prove that Innes manipulated much of his alleged swindle through the mails and over the wires. It has not been decided yet whether the prosecution will bring any witnesses from San Antonio in the effort to establish the contention that the Nelms sisters met Innes in that city, and were seen at the bungalow at 120 Wilkins avenue, where it is alleged they were put to death.

Inneses in San Antonio.

The Inneses occupied this bungalow during the month of June, 1914, at which time the sisters vanished. It was discovered through an investigation by The Constitution which led as far as Mexico, and which traced the missing girls from New Orleans, through Houston, to San Antonio. The disclosure of the Wilkins avenue home was one of the final developments that led to the arrest of the suspects.

Prior to his arrest, Innes was an attorney with offices in Portland. At one time in his career he was assistant United States district attorney of Carson City, Nevada. He is a shrewd, keenly-versed practitioner, a deep student, not only of law, but of languages and mysticism, as well as the occult sciences. He has a compelling personality, is a bit awesome in sterner moods, and, at times, mystifying to a fascinating degree.

It was once charged by the mother of the vanished girls that he had exerted a hypnotic influence over the elder daughter, and that he controlled her at will.

The Nelms case has been one of the nation's most baffling disappearance mysteries. Beatrice and Ms. Dennis set out in June, 1914, for New Orleans, according to the mother's story, the elder sister to continue to the Pacific coast, where she and Innes would embark for India to marry in the Orient.

Beatrice's purpose in accompanying the sister, the mother accuses, was to get Innes to make a showing of the $14,000 of her sister's fortune, and to return either the money or equivalent to the family possession. It was a share of Mrs. Dennis' heritage of her dead father's estate.

Meeting in New Orleans.

A meeting was arranged for New Orleans, it is alleged. But plans in some manner went awry. The sisters were found to have bought tickets in New Orleans for Houston with the apparent purpose of holding the meeting there. But in Houston they left the Southern Pacific "Sunset Limited" only long enough to purchase tickets for San Antonio, where, it is charged, a taxi chauffeur is ready to testify they were met by Innes in an auto and carried to the Wilkins avenue address.

A postcard was received from Beatrice upon their arrival in New Orleans on June 13. She wrote that "both were well," and that she would hurry home. While an anxious mother waited, it was July 10 before any other news came of them. This was in the form of the mystifying "murder message" mailed in San Francisco July 5, and, signed in the handwriting of Mrs. Dennis, said that she had slain Beatrice in New Orleans and was on her way to kill Marshall, the brother, who was then living in San Francisco.

The letter was typewritten, but contained a postscript and her signature in the handwriting of Mrs. Dennis. After setting forth various family grievances and giving unhappiness and family dissension as her motives, the letter stated that Mrs. Dennis would also kill herself.

That there is a possibility the mystery of the missing sisters will be solved by the coming trial adds a keenness to the interest in that it will make it rank foremost among the state's most notable criminal arraignments.

Redfield Coming South.

Washington, April 3.—Secretary Redfield will start south this week on a ten days' vacation trip. He will go first to Charleston and from there will take a voyage on a coast survey or fisheries vessel. Later he will visit friends in Charleston.

MORE VESSELS SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINES

Several Lives Were Lost. None of the Vessels Were Armed.

London, April 3.—The British steamship Perth has been sunk. Six members of the crew lost and eight were landed. The Perth was unarmed.

There are three British steamships Perth. The largest, 1,799 tons gross, was owned in Melbourne. Another of 1,693 tons, was from Dundee, and the third, 653 tons, was owned in Glasgow.

Bark Bengairn Sunk.

London, April 3.—Lloyds reports that the British bark Bengairn has been sunk by a submarine. Part of the crew were picked up. It is stated that the vessel was not armed. The Bengairn sailed from Seattle December 10 for the British isles. She was a vessel of 2,127 tons, and was owned in Liverpool.

Norway Steamer Destroyed.

London, April 3.—The Norwegian steamer Ino, of 702 tons gross, has been sunk. There were no casualties.

FREUNDSCHAFTSBUND TO GIVE BIG BALL TONIGHT

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock the Freundschaftsbund will give a costume and caricature ball at their hall, 117½ Whitehall street. The ball is for the benefit of the workmen's S. and D. B. fund No. 281 and a small admission price is charged. Special prizes are offered to the dancers and special refreshments will be served. A large crowd is expected.

Whitehall Street

Anyone putting property on sale just now must expect to sell at less than value.

This is a buyer's market, not a seller's.

In spite of that, the owners of a piece of Whitehall St. land insist on an immediate sale.

A prompt purchaser can make a hit with his pocketbook in this deal.

Note has been given by J. W. McKinney to W. F. Bently, due December 1st, 1916, for $100.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY:

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a deed to secure debt, dated January 2d, 1914, between Mrs. Mary V. Brooks, of said State and County, and Mrs. Nellie K. Troutman, of Bibb County, Georgia, which deed is recorded in the Clerk's office of Bibb Superior court, in Book 158, folio, 776, the undersigned, as transferree and holder of said deed, will sell at public outcry before the courthouse door in Fulton County, Georgia, on the first Tuesday in May, 1916, between the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate, to-wit:

All that part of lot one hundred and fifty-one (151) in Vineville district, Bibb County, Georgia, heretofore conveyed by Roff Sims and C. C. Sims, Jr., to the grantor herein, and described in said deeds of conveyances as lots one (1), two (2), three (3), four (4) and five (5) of a subdivision made of a part of said lot one hundred and fifty-one (151), containing in all ten acres, more or less; the said plat showing the above described lots and the deed conveying the same to Mrs. Mary V. Brooks are recorded in Book 70, folios 689 and 690.

Said property will be sold for the purpose of paying the indebtedness of Mrs. Mary V. Brooks to H. B. Hoppendietzel, transferee and holder of said deed and the expenses of this proceeding, said indebtedness consisting of a certain principal note, dated January 2d, 1914, and due January 2d, 1917, according to the due date of said note, but declared now to be due on account of default in the interest payment hereafter set out, according to the terms of said note, said note being for the sum of $600.00, bearing interest from date at the rate of 8 per cent; also one interest note for the sum of $24.00, dated January 2d, 1914, and due January 2d, 1916, and bearing interest at 8 per cent from maturity.

It is provided in said deed and notes that in case the party of the first part shall fail to pay the interest as above stated, the party, of the second part, or her assigns, shall have the option to declare all the indebtedness due and payable at once, and that after giving four weeks' notice of the time, terms and place of sale by advertisement once a week in any newspaper published in said Fulton county, shall have authority to sell said property at auction before the courthouse door in Fulton county, and there having been default in the payment of the interest due January 2d, 1916, the power of sale becomes operative, and the whole of said indebtedness is declared to be due. The sum which will be claimed by H. B. Hoppendietzel on the first Tuesday in May, 1916, is the principal sum of $600.00, interest at 8 per cent from July 2d, 1915, $40.00, aggregating $640.00.

Said property will be sold as the property of Mrs. Mary V. Brooks, and the proceeds of the sale will be applied to the indebtedness above described and the cost of this proceeding, and the balance, if any, will be paid to Mrs. Mary V. Brooks and H. B. Hoppendietzel will make deed to the purchaser so far as he is authorized to do under the deed with power of sale above referred to.

This March 31st, 1916.

H. B. HOPPENDIETZEL,
By West & Dasher,
Attorneys-at-Law.
